Historic Burdell School Burns; Arsonist Blamed

ONLY THE SWING IS LEFT — North Marin's historic Burdell School, which survived being moved to make way for Stafford Dam and continued its old-fashioned ways in the shadow of Novato's expanding unified school system, was reduced to this pile of ruins by a fire early yesterday. Clerk James Grossi of the Burdell School District board said he believed the fire was the work of an arsonist. (Independent-Journal photo)

One-Room Building Served For 55 Years

The old one-room Burdell School in North Marin burned to the ground yesterday, and Clerk James Grossi of the Burdell School Board declared today he believes the fire was the work of an arsonist.

Grossi was the first person to reach the fire just after 4 a.m. yesterday. He said he found the lock of the steel gate leading to the school yard had been forced.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero also reported that the fire apparently started on the school's front porch.

"It couldn't have started from the stove," he said. "The wall next to where the stove was located was the only wall that remained upright.."

The schoolhouse, which opened for its first class in 1903, had served as a factory for the Burdell Cheese Co. before that. It had been moved to its last location, overlooking Stafford Reservoir, in 1951 from a former site below what is now Stafford Dam.

MILKER SPOTS FIRE

The glow from the burning schoolhouse was first sighted by Manuel Fagundes, while he was milking cows at the nearby George Grossi ranch.

Grossi, whose telephone was put out of order when the flames snapped telephone cables at the school, rushed to the home of his brother, James, to call the Novato Fire Department.

Twenty volunteer and regular firement converged on the scene several minutes later with four fire engines. In the two hours that followed, 7,200 gallons of water were poured on the flames from the rolling tankers, which made several trips to and from Stafford Reservoir to refill with water. There are no fire hydrants in the area.

ALREADY GONE

"The building was long gone before we got there," Cavallero said. "Flames were shooting out from the windows and doors. But it apparently started from outside on the porch. That area was going strong when we first arrived."

James Grossi today estimated that the loss to equipment inside the schoolhouse at $2,000. No estimate has yet been made on the building itself, he said.

'IRREPLACABLE'

One trustee was quoted as saying: "It really can't be replaced for a million dollars."

That feeling was shared by Mrs. Florence Adams of San Rafael, Burdell's teacher for 18 years who is planning to retire after this year.

Supt. William J. J. Smith of Novato Unified School District said that district can easily absorb Burdell's dozen pupils. But the Burdell trustees, who annexed their district to Petaluma High School District a few years ago to prevent possible absorption into Novato's "city-type" schools, were looking for a temporary location instead.

Today, they inspected a building on North Marin Water

Mistreatment Of Bolinas Pupils Alleged

A row over alleged mistreatment of Bolinas School children is expected to be discussed behind closed doors at a special meeting of Bolinas School District trustees tonight.

But before the trustees meet, the school will hold a 7 o'clock open house program to acquaint parents with the work being done in its three classrooms.

MAN UNDER FIRE

This will be the first of two open houses for the same purpose, said Principal David Probert, who is also secretary of the school board—and who is the man under fire in the complaints of alleged mistreatment of pupils.

"Beating and kicking" of children has been alleged in Bolinas gossip. But Probert said today no specific complaint was set forth by a delegation of parents who appeared at the latest regular board meeting to complain.

POLICY MATTER

Gene W. McDaniel, clerk of the school board, said the closed-door meeting tonight was called to discuss "a policy matter" rather than the charges against Principal Probert.

Probert said the matter to be discussed involved personnel, and was left over from the agenda of the preceding regular meeting. At question is whether to resume having the school bus driver instruct an athletic program, as a volunteer. This has been done for several years but was stopped this year by Probert, who said he considered the program could be more satisfactorily handled by the regular teaching personnel.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE

One parent claimed upper grade pupils are staging a "sit-down strike" against participating in athletics because of the change.

Richard L. Foster, county superintendent of schools, said he had advised the Bolinas board the athletic program matter was one which it could legitimately discuss in private, although no formal decision could be made until a regular open meeting.

FIRST WORD

Foster said he had heard only this morning of the complaints against Probert. The

DOUGLAS GIVES DEATH STAY TO DOOMED MAN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The governor's office said today Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court has granted a stay of execution of Cecil Herman Ward, sentenced to die Dec. 5 for two Kern County murders.

A telegram from Douglas said the stay is effective until the court can review the case.

Governor Knight last week turned down a petition for clemency, saying he could see no reason to change the sentence.

Ward, 26, was convicted of killing Mrs. Nell Parris, his mother-in-law, and Brenda Parris, his 12-year-old sister-in-law.

Sewer District Voters Go To Polls Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be election day for Corte Madera Sanitary District residents as they vote on whether to authorize an $850,000 bond issue for construction of a new sewage treatment plant and revamping of pumping facilities.

Harold A. Snyder, board president, said polling will be 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at District 2 offices, 500 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera.

Directors have described the bonds issue as the most practical way open to the district to solve present sewage problems and give additional capacity for future growth.

Harry N. Jenks, consulting engineer for the Ross Valley Sanitary District, last week attacked the proposal on the basis a better solution could have been worked out with his district. Corte Madera directors called the proposed contracts unacceptable.

A. N. (Al) Nipper, member of the Ross Valley Sanitary District, today said his board was neutral on the matter but that a contract had been presented to the other board offering 1,175,000 gallons per day of dry weather flow for $365,000.

Ben K. Rippe, member of the Corte Madera board, said at least one term of the contract was unacceptable to his district board.

The proposed bonds would pay for construction of a 1,250,000 gallon per day plant, capable of being expanded later, and improvement of related facilities. The issue requires a two-thirds majority vote.

Doctor Suicide 5 Days After Saving Airman

Last Tuesday, Dr. Mark D. Muir of Marinwood, a psychiatrist and Army captain, cheated Death of a victim when he dissuaded a distraught airman from leaping from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Saturday, Death squared the account.

The body of Captain Muir was found in a San Francisco motel room. A note in the room made it plain that the doctor had taken his own life, apparently with an overdose of barbiturates.

VIGIL AT BRIDGE

On Tuesday, Muir was one of a group of Army psychiatrists and a chaplain who talked for four hours to persuade Air Force Sgt. William Cody, 33, to abandon his intent to jump from the bridge.

Among other things, Muir told Cody, "You don't have to do anything in this world unless you want to."

Muir and Death brushed arms again early Thursday, when a station wagon driven by Muir collided with a car at the entrance to Marinwood on Highway 101. Muir and his wife, Delores were injured. Both were taken to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, where Muir was a staff doctor.

STILL IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Muir is still in the hospital, under treatment for deep cuts of the face and head.

Muir was in the convalescent ward at Letterman. He simply walked away Friday, according to a hospital spokesman. He registered at the motel Friday afternoon. His body was found by the motel owner Saturday noon.

The note found near his body was addressed to his superior officer, Col. Theodore Kiersch, head of Letterman's neuropsychiatric department, and read:

"Please let me tell you that I sincerely appreciate all you have done.

"My entire life has been one trouble after another. During the past year I have been un-

Brown Names Six Men To Personal Staff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Governor-elect Edmund G. Brown today filled out his nine-man personal staff of advisers with six new appointments.

The appointees will form the chief executive's "kitchen cabinet." Their average age is 39.

Appointed were:

1. Municipal Judge Julian Beck, 53, Los Angeles, legislative secretary. Beck served in the assembly for 11 years. In his new job, he will act as go-between of the governor to the lawmakers.

2. Charles Johnson, 46, Sacramento, departmental secretary. Now assistant legislative counsel, Johnson will coordinate work with various state departments.

3. Hale Champion, 36, San Francisco, press secretary. Champion now is a reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle.

4. Jerry Maher, 40, Los Angeles, assistant press secretary. He is a former reporter of the Los Angeles Mirror-News.

5. William Coblentz, 36, San Francisco, research secretary. Coblentz is an attorney. He will gather information for the governor on various special projects.

6. Warren Christopher, 34, Los Angeles, special counsel. He is a former law clerk to U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, and now a practicing attorney. As special counsel, he will advise Brown on problems of law and government reorganization.

'Doused' Fire Revives, Burns Porch, Wall

Mrs. Pauline Powell found a little hole burned in the cushion of a sofa Saturday night at her home at 286 Miller avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Powell lumped "gallons of water" on the pillow, she reported later. Then she put it on the front porch.

At 4:25 a.m. yesterday, a passerby saw the porch blazing merrily and called the Mill Valley Fire Department.

The porch was destroyed and the front wall of the house damaged before firemen could extinguish the flames.

Sheriff's Patrol Car Goes Amok, Hits Novato Home

A sheriff's patrol car, parked in Novato, careened down an incline Saturday and rammed a house at 639 Peach street, snapping a 4-by-4 inch pillar that supported the porch roof.

Deputy Sheriff Ernest Nielsen blamed a faulty hand brake. He had stopped near 642 Peach street to talk to residents there. A few minutes later, heard a loud crash. Running outside, he found his patrol car rammed against the house of Joseph Enriquez of 639 Peach street.

The vehicle had rolled 100 feet down an incline, jumped a four-inch curb, waded 35 feet over a newly planted lawn and come to rest against the side of the house. The right front fender of the patrol car was damaged, and the radiator cracked. Nielsen said he found the hand brake in a set position, just as he had left it when he parked.

Fire Breaks Out In Jail, Doused Without Damage

Fire broke out in Marin County Jail yesterday, but Sheriff David Menary reported no one was hurt and nothing damaged.

About 2:40 a.m., Deputies Fred Hooper and Leo Ballard found smoke pouring out of the isolation cell. An hour earlier, John Jamison Fawcett, 27, of Ft. Baker had been booked by Sausalito police on suspicion of drunken driving. Jailers put him in the isolation cell alone.

Deputy Ballard said Fawcett apparently tossed a lighted cigarette onto a rag on the floor, igniting the rag.

San Rafael firemen used a blower to clear the smoke out of the jail.

4 Men Attack Homestead Father As Wife, Child Watch

A 21-year-old steel pressman from Homestead Valley was knocked down and slugged by four young men last night, while his wife and child watched helplessly.

The victim, William Richard Mastroianni of 336 Ridgewood avenue, suffered a cut lip and a small cut inside his mouth. He did not require hospitalization.

Mastroianni told sheriff's deputies he was driving home about 7:45 p.m. and turned up Ridgewood at Fernwood avenue. A tan sedan came down Ridgewood. As the two cars met, occupants of the other car shouted something.

Mastroianni said he stopped his car, walked over to the other car and demanded, "What did you say?" A youth got out of the back seat and said, "I'm looking for a fight," and started swinging.

Mastroianni swung back, but was overpowered by three others who ganged up on him, knocking him down and slugging him on the ground.

The victim's wife, Sandra Kay, ran to help her husband but women in the other car warned her to get back into her own car. Then the four youths jumped into their sedan and drove off.

The young couple said they did not get a close description of the attackers because it was dark.

Party Crashers Ignite Near Riot In Marin City

Marin City party crashers set off a near-riot that ended with an attack on the Marin City sheriff's substation and two pistol shots fired in the air by a deputy sheriff early Sunday.

From the milling group of about 30 men, who tossed firecrackers at the party scene and called officers filthy names, police arrested two men and three teen-agers.

John H. (Spot) Times, 24, of House 763 and Lester Kilgore, 27, of A19, 173, were booked for disturbing the peace and released on $50 bail. Leon Collins, 18, of San Francisco was in jail on suspicion of disturbing the peace and refusing to disperse.

Two others sent to Marin Juvenile Hall are 17-year-olds from Marin City. One of them, accused of kicking an officer and trying to leap from the

Motorboat Burns, Sinks Off Tiburon

A 14-foot inboard motorboat burned and sank off Tiburon yesterday. The boat was owned by Joseph B. Petrakis of San Mateo, according to the Coast Guard.

Petrakis found the boat afire at the Corinthian Yacht Club dock shortly before 11 a.m. the Coast Guard reported.

Petrakis jumped aboard, cast off and got the craft away from the dock where it was endangering other boats. He swam ashore.

Two Coast Guard boats sped to the scene but the burning boat had sunk when they arrived.

Strike Hits Second Airline, 3rd Looms

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Two unions went on strike against Eastern Air Lines today and within a few hours the line, the nation's largest domestic air carrier, was expected to join Trans World Airline in idleness.

American Airlines faced a threat of walkout tomorrow. Capital Air Lines went back to work.

The flight engineers called the first strike against Eastern, and just before the 10 a.m. strike deadline, the International Assn. of Machinists called a strike. A union official said that the mechanics' action was separate from that of the engineers.

Eastern was gearing for the start of the usual winter traffic to Florida. Last year Eastern carried about 8,700,00 passengers, more than any other U.S. airlines. A company spokesman said that the line had no choice but to "discontinue all services in the interests of public safety," and said the line would be shut down within a few hours. Planes were expected to run out regular flights to their destinations before they were grounded.

A strike against TWA entered its fourth day with no progress reported in efforts to settle the walkout.

WALKOUT SLATED

American Airlines was faced with a scheduled strike of its 1,500 pilots tomorrow night in a dispute over wages.

Stewardesses on Lake Central Airlines, a feeder airline, went on strike early today in the first walkout of stewardesses in airline history.

A spokesman for the line's 32 stewardesses said she had expected the pilots to refuse to cross the all-girl picket lines. However at least one flight this morning landed in Indianapolis and took off on schedule. The company said the walkout would not curtail service.

BACK IN AIR

Meanwhile, Capital Airlines resumed limited flights yesterday after a 37-day strike by 2,600 mechanics and other ground personnel. The line hoped to resume full operations by tomorrow.

The mechanics, members of the International Assn. of Machinists, has demanded a 42-cent hourly wage increase and voted to return to work after agreeing on a 41-cent pay hike. Prior to the walkout, the mechanics' top wage was $2.54 per hour.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy selling today brought the worst stock market shakeout in more than a year. Trading was active late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,500,000 shares compared with 3,950,000 Friday.

Leading issues were down fractions to three points or more.

Today's drop came after a consistent rise of more than seven months.

Profit taking was the chief motive in the selloff, brokers said.

American Telephone, Youngstown Sheet, Eastman Kodak and Zenith were down about three points apiece. Losses of two points or so were taken by Republic Steel, Goodyear, North American Aviation, International Telephone, Du Pont, Polaroid, Lorillard and Merck.

Losses of about a point were taken by General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, General Dynamics, Boeing, Raytheon, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, General Electric, Schick, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Royal Dutch, American Airlines, Johns-Manville and U.S. Gypsum.

Pennsylvania Railroad was up around a point.

Kirchner To Head Banker Association

Burton R. Kirchner of San Rafael, vice president of the First National Bank in San Rafael, is the newly elected president of the Independent Bankers Assn. of Northern California.

Kirchner was elected at the association's annual meeting in Oakland. Chosen to serve with him were A. E. Miguel of the Pajaro Valley Bank, Watsonville, vice president, and Eugene Price of Wells Fargo Bank, San Francisco, secretary-treasurer.

About 125 Northern California bankers attended the meeting. Marin was represented by Kirchner, William P. Murray, Arthur C. Latno, Jordan B. Dell'Era and A. L. Nieri of the First National's home office in San Rafael, J. M. Lethbridge of its Kentfield branch and P. Ferrarese of its Novato branch.

First sign of a flareup came about 11:30 p.m. when Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, 44, a nurse's aide of C41, Apartment 321, called for help. She told Deputies Boyd Burnham and Edward Klementovich that crashers had disrupted a reception at her home.

The deputies ordered about 30 milling youths to leave, but they refused. Arthur Menjou, Fredrick Marcus and D. L. Greeson arrived to help, and the crowd drew back to the front of Brice Brothers market.

Shortly after midnight, the riotous group began pelting the substation with empty wine and whisky bottles, smashing two windows. Deputy Marcus, who was alone at the station, ran out in pursuit chasing them across Briones street into a fire alley between Buildings A10 and A11 where they vanished.

Marcus called to them to halt, then fired two shot in the air over their heads, but they escaped.

Herman A. Cotton Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services for Novato logging contractor Herman A. (Mike) Cotton, 46, who was killed Friday night in an automobile accident on Highway 101 near the Marin-Sonoma County line, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Mt. Tamalpais Mausoleum Chapel, San Rafael.

Rev. Lawrence H. Doyle, pastor of the Novato Community Methodist Church, will officiate at the services, under direction of Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato.

Cotton had resided at 7 Joan avenue, with his wife, Lydia and their four children, Elizabeth, 14, Alice, 8, Michael, 4, and Patrick, 3. He is survived also by his father and two sisters in Maine.

Marin Contractor George Pope Dies

A Requiem High Mass for George Pope, 83-year-old San Rafael house builder, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

Pope died Saturday night at his home at 257½ Glen Park avenue, San Rafael, after a long illness. He is survived by his wife, Clara; a daughter, Mrs. William Bell and a son, Edward Pope, both of San Rafael; and by four grandsons. He is also survived by three brothers and a sister living in the Bay Area who were members of a family of 13 children.

He was a native of Canada and a resident of Marin County for 35 years. In business for himself, Pope built a number of houses and then rented them.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

SAYS ONE SHARK TO ANOTHER: YOU SHOULD SEE WHO GOT AWAY

Nine-year-old Susie Blackmore of Belvedere was fishing with two other youngsters from the San Francisco Yacht Club breakwater yesterday when a big fish grabbed her hook and yanked her pole into the water.

Susie forgot to let go.

She was fished out a moment later by several bystanders cold but otherwise unhurt.

Belvedere Police Sgt. William Woodington drove the shivering girl home. En route, she told Wooding it was a leopard shark that she had hooked.

Susie is a daughter of E. L. Blackmore, assistant county school superintendent, of 12 Bella Vista avenue, Belvedere.

Studebaker-Packard Workers Go On Strike

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—About 6,200 Studebaker-Packard workers went on strike today when prolonged negotiations failed to produce an agreement.

Members of the United Auto Workers Union yesterday rejected a company proposal which would have tied pay increases on the rate of new car sales.

Last ditch negotiations continued until the early hours today, but broke up in a deadlock. Picket lines were set up outside the plant early today.

The strike is likely to hurt the small car producer in its bid for a bigger share of the nation's new car market. The company is basing its hopes for a comeback this year on a new economy car, the Studebaker Lark. The firm said it has received more than 50,000 orders for the 1959 Lark.

FOR 900 EMPTY JARS, HE'LL GET A TRIP TO MARS

APPLETON, Wis. (UPI) — Airliss French was driving along a highway a few weeks ago and read a sign that said a shaving cream company would give "free—a trip to Mars—for 900 empty jars."

French advertised in the Post-Crescent for empty shaving cream jars, collected 900, and told the company he was ready to make his flight to Mars.

The company will pay up. French leaves Dec. 2 for Mars—a hamlet with a population of 78 in Germany.

Stock Market Takes Biggest Drop In Year

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market absorbed its biggest loss in a year today in heavy selling.

Leading stocks dropped $1 to $4 a share. A few wide movers fell even harder.

Chief reason for the selloff was profit taking, brokers said.

The drop came after a consistent rise of more than seven months.

Trading was so heavy the ticker was late time and again. The last occasion was just before the close when prices were heading down.

The market showed little in the way of a rallying effort throughout the session.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $3.50 to $202.40 at noon. The loss was the steepest the market has taken since Nov. 26, 1957.

TEARFUL SPECTATORS

The spectacle of the flaming building brought tears to some of the persons who had risen from their beds to watch the death of the school that had meant much in their lives.

"It was a sad thing to see our little schoolhouse go like that," said Mrs. Joseph Corda, wife of one of the trustees.

And Graossi added, "it's a bad feeling to know that the school where you got all your education is suddenly gone. Now we'll have to decide where to go from here."

SHAKEN UP BUT NOT INJURED

Mrs. Lores Bartol of Forest Knolls is helped to her feet by her husband, Anton, and Marin Sheriff's Deputy Bruce McLeod. She had started climbing out of the 1958 station wagon that Bartol had parked in front of their house steps on Juarez road, Forest Knolls, at 7:45 p.m. Saturday. In moving across the front seat to get out on the driver's side, Mrs. Bartol released the emergency brake, her husband said. The station wagon rolled backwards across Juarez road and 10 feet down an embankment, turning onto its right side. (Photo by Dennis McCarthy)

Woman Injured In Rear-End Crash

A Walnut Creek woman received minor injuries late yesterday when her husband slowed their car behind a line of cars on Highway 101 slightly north of the Freitas Parkway and their car was struck in the rear.

The injured woman is Mrs. Harriet McPherson, 50, wife of Lloyd H. McPherson, 64, a Walnut Creek insurance broker. She said she would see her own doctor.

The McPherson car was struck in the rear by one driven by Donald Allen Shawler, 19-year-old student at College of Marin who lives at 122 DuBois street, San Rafael. Shawler's car was struck in the rear by the car of Arnulfo Alva, 54, a San Francisco cannery worker. Shawler and Alva both were cited by the California Highway Patrol for excessive speed and following too closely.

Band Played On At Fireman's Ball

The band had to play an extra hour Saturday night to please the crowd of 400-500 persons attending the fourth annual Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen's Ball at Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said the Jack Barnes band was held over until 2 a.m. to provide an extra hour's entertainment for the large audience.

Proceeds from the dance will go into the volunteer firemen's health and welfare fund.

Rider Knocked From Bicycle

Wyland Stanley, 43, a timekeeper at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, was knocked off his bicycle by a car at 6:20 p.m. Saturday as he was southbound on Sausalito road headed toward the Golden Gate Bridge, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The injured bike rider was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco by the driver of the car, John Quincy Johnson, 48, of San Francisco. Stanley was treated for a head cut and bruised left leg and kept overnight at the hospital for observation.

PROMOTION MEN SAY:

Turkey Shouldn't Be A Sometime Thing

By ALTON PRYOR

DAVIS (UPI)—Those who think that a woman's work is never done should take a look at the life being forced on the lady turkey.

Promotion men have already suggested depriving the lady turkey of her "sex label" at the meat counter — and now University of California scientists are pushing the lady bird even farther against the hen house wall by suggesting that she work the year around.

The promotion men hope to push sales by removing the turkey hen's gender from the meat counter sales tag, and the scientists hope to fool the bird into providing a constant year-around supply for the meat counter.

Turkeys generally spend eight months of the year gathering strength and planning ahead, followed by a four-month flurry of egg-laying—that is until their ambitions were aroused by artificial lighting and weather regulating techniques.

Applying the artificial days and seasons in a series of experiments is Wilbor O. Wilson of the Poultry Husbandry Department on the University's Davis campus.

Wilson said his study of turkey production using artificial lighting to regulate the length of the laying day and air conditioning to level off the seasons makes it "entirely possible today for the supply of fresh turkeys to be continuous throughout the year."

Wilson housed his birds in light-proofed pens in his latest experiment. Each pen was equipped with a room air conditioner to supply fresh air

He said the best production was obtained when the working hours for the birds were suddenly increased following a "conditioning" period during which the lights were on for only six hours a day. After this three-week short-day period, he jumped the hours of illumination to 14 hours a day.

"Apparently it's the abrupt jump—from a six-hour day to a 14-hour day—that accounts for the improved production," said Wilson. And he added that "This investigation indicates the need for forced ventilation and for cooling of darkened rooms."

The experiments also showed that the hens matured earlier under the lighting and season control. Wilson said that during the experiment hens began laying as early as the 23rd week of age. Most turkey breeders assume that hens should be 30 weeks of age before they begin to lay.

"Year around turkey production should benefit almost everyone," said Wilson. "The grower's operation will be steady during the year, distributors will not have to hold so many birds in cold storage and the housewife will be able to get her favorite size of turkey anytime—and probably at a lower price."

Corte Maderans To Meet On Merger

First meeting of the Corte Madera citizens committee to study merger with Larkspur will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Corte Madera Town Hall.

Mrs. Nadine Penney, town clerk, said any resident wishing to attend "is more than welcome."

Temporary chairman of the committee, which was formed last Monday is Town Councilman Roger F. Morse. Mrs. Penney said she expects the committee to elect a permanent chairman and secretary tonight.

The Larkspur merger committee, organized earlier, also will meet at the same hour tonight in the Larkspur City Hall.

OBITUARIES

Ross Tax Collector Kenneth Martin Dies

Kenneth C. Martin, treasurer-tax collector of the Town of Ross since 1948, died in a local hospital yesterday after suffering a stroke Saturday night in his home at 46 Woodside way, Ross. He was 56.

A native of Oakland and 25-year resident of Ross, he was employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco as a commercial engineer.

PART-TIME POST

Martin was appointed to the part-time post of town treasurer-tax collector by the Ross Town Council in May of 1948. He was elected to the post in April, 1952, and re-elected in April, 1956.

Born Jan. 19, 1902, he was a son of the late Shelby Martin, an Oakland bank president, and grandson of the late J. West Martin, former mayor of Oakland.

Last May, Martin suffered a mild stroke from which he appeared to have made a satisfactory recovery. He was admitted to the hospital at 10:15 p.m. Saturday after being stricken a second time. Death came at 2:15 a.m. yesterday.

Martin was a member of the Indian Valley Golf Club and Bell Telephone Golf Club.

SURVIVORS LISTED

He is survived by his wife, Phyllis; a son, Shelby of San Mateo; a daughter, Mrs. Sally Dorn of Novato; a brother, J. Wesley Martin of Oakland, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Gothic Chapel of Mountain View Cemetery at the end of Piedmont avenue, Oakland.

Friends may call at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, until noon tomorrow.

Rinaldo Calpestri Of Larkspur Dies

Rinaldo E. Calpestri of Larkspur, longtime employee of Yellow Cab Co. in San Francisco and a Marin County resident for about 25 years, died in a local hospital Saturday at the age of 56.

Born in Italy, he came to California with his parents when he was 2 years old. Once a resident of Fairfax, he operated the Marin Ravioli Factory there with his father until the latter's death.

Calpestri went to work for Yellow Cab as a driver in 1927. He became a dispatcher in 1946, holding the position until his death.

An accomplished drummer, he played in dance orchestras throughout the Bay Area. He was a member of Musicians Union Local 6, San Francisco.

Victim of a heart attack, Calpestri died less than one hour after being admitted to the hospital Saturday night. He had been ill a short time before suffering the attack.

He lived at 12 Liberty street, Larkspur, with his wife, Ynez, who survives. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Bartram of Larkspur, a sister, Mrs. Esther Pallavicini of San Anselmo, and two granddaughters.

A Requiem Mass was offered today at St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur. Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mary T. Soares Of Mill Valley Dies

Mrs. Mary T. Soares, 74, a Mill Valley resident for seven years, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Saturday at 448 E. Blithedale avenue, where she made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Mary Armas.

Mrs. Soares was the widow of Manuel T. Soares, known as one of the leading growers of the famous Turlock watermelons. He resided in Mill Valley following his retirement, until his death in March 1956.

Mrs. Soares was born in Hayward, but spent most of her life at Turlock.

Besides Mrs. Armas, she leaves two other daughters and a son, Mrs. Belle Leandro of Mill Valley, Mrs. Anna Furtado of Pacific Grove and Joseph C. Soares of Turlock; a sister, Mrs. F. Silveira of Newman, Stanislaus County; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mass of Requiem will be offered Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at Sacred Heart Church in Turlock. The funeral cortege will form at 9 a.m. at the Allen Mortuary in Turlock, where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in Turlock Cemetery. Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, is handling funeral arrangements locally.

Lisa Wood Smith, Ex-Marinite, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Lisa Wood Smith, 72, former longtime San Rafael resident, were held today in Portland, Ore., where she died Saturday after long illness.

Mrs. Smith was the wife of G. Kirkham Smith, former San Francisco insurance broker. They resided many years in San Rafael before moving 10 years ago to Sonoma. For the past three months, they had made their home with a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Livingston, in Portland.

Surviving also are another daughter, Mrs. Nan Johns of Portland, and a son, Allan Kirkham Smith of Berkeley.

The family requested that tributes be donations to the American Cancer Society or the Marin Conservation League.

Josephine Regalia Dies; Resident Of Marin 55 Years

Mrs. Josephine Regalia, a San Rafael resident for 55 years, died yesterday afternoon at a local hospital after a long illness. She was 74.

Mrs. Regalia lived at 19 Bayview street with her husband, Ambrose, a retired gardener, who survives. She is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Nora Mainini of South San Francisco, Mrs. Irene Miller of San Anselmo and Mrs. Marie Sauer of San Rafael, and by five grandchildren.

A native of Italy, she was a member of the Italian Catholic Federation of San Rafael and of San Rafael Circle 137 of Druids.

A requiem High Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Entombment will be at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Anna Duffy Dies In Sausalito

Mrs. Anna Amelia Duffy, Sausalito waterfront resident for more than 65 years and a friend of author Jack London, died at her home at 215 Bridgeway late Saturday after a brief illness. She was 88.

Mrs. Duffy's home is on the Boardwalk just north of the Valhalla Inn, where she once worked in the early days of the famed tavern. In later years, she had been highly successful in buying and selling real estate in the area and at one time owned and later sold the colorful "Old Castle by the Sea" building at Bridgeway and Richardson street.

Around the turn of the century, Mrs. Duffy became a close friend of Jack London during his Sausalito visits.

A native of Russia, Mrs. Duffy emigrated to New York when she was 14. After an earlier marriage, she married William Duffy in 1912. He survives her.

She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Forde of Sausalito; a son, Gustave Elk of Fort Bragg; a sister, Mrs. Ida Heynen of Sausalito, and a brother, Fred Otto of St. Petersburg, Fla. There are also six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Russell and Gooch Chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be private.

Lars Olsen Nielsen Dies At Age 97

Lars Olsen Nielsen, a retired carpenter, died yesterday at his home at 52 Princess street, Sausalito, three years short of the century mark.

Nielsen was born 97 years ago in Denmark. He came to the United States, and Marin County, 18 years ago, after his retirement. He made his home in Sausalito with Dr. C. F. Larsen, a nephew.

Private funeral services will be held Wednesday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Emma Coppin

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma L. Coppin, resident of San Anselmo since coming to Marin County 10 years ago from Paris, France, were held today at Chapel of the Hills, in San Anselmo. Burial was in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mrs. Coppin, 86, died in a local hospital yesterday after a year's illness.

She and her late husband, George, who was a precision instrument maker in France prior to his retirement, made their home with Mrs. Coppin's sister, Mrs. Betty Rourke, at 353 San Francisco boulevard in San Anselmo. Coppin died about three years ago.

In addition to her sister, Mrs. Coppin is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Mitchell of Mill Valley, and three grandchildren.

Herbert S. Tipping, Pharmacist, Dies

Funeral arrangements are pending for Herbert Spencer Tipping, a native of Mill Valley, who died Friday at the Ft. Miley Veterans' Hospital in San Francisco after suffering a heart attack at his home at 3 Summit avenue. He was 62.

His only survivor is a stepbrother, Walter Muntz, also of Mill Valley.

A bachelor, Tipping was a pharmacist. He had been employed at Vernon's Pharmacy in Mill Valley for 14 years.

Tipping's parents had made their home in San Francisco but maintained a Mill Valley summer home where he was born in 1896. The Tipping family moved to Mill Valley when their San Francisco home was destroyed in the 1906 fire and earthquake.

Tipping had been a member of the Army Medical Corps in World War I and had been a registered pharmacist since 1917. He was a long-time member of the California Pharmaceutical Assn.

Mrs. Elisa Nieri Dies In Kentfield

A Requiem Mass for Mrs. Elisa Nieri, wife of Silvio Nieri of Kentfield who owns the Golden Gate Salami Co. of San Francisco, will be offered Wednesday at St. Sebastian's Church, Greenbrae, at 9:30 a.m. The funeral procession will leave Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, at 9:10 a.m. Committal will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at the Keaton Chapel tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Nieri, a resident of Kentfield for 37 years, died at her 33 Laurel Grove avenue home Saturday night after long illness. She was 62 years old.

She came to California 44 years ago from Italy. She was a member of the ladies auxiliary to the Sons of Italy of San Rafael.

Two sons, A. L. Nieri, assistant cashier at the First National Bank of San Rafael, and Alfred F. Nieri of Kentfield, who is in business with his father, survive, in addition to Mrs. Nieri's husband.

Minnie Johnston Dies In Hub City

Minnie Jonston of San Anselmo, 82-year-old native of England and a Marin County resident for 11 years, died yesterday after a long illness.

Death came at the home of her son, Milburn, at 1514 Sir Francis Drake boulevard where she lived with her husband, John, a retired grocery salesman.

Mrs. Johnston, who came to the United States when she was a child, was a resident of Michigan before moving to Marin in 1947.

Besides her husband, she is survived by another son, Ernest of Fairfax, and two grandchildren.

Family services were held today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Entombment was at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Orphelia S. Gugel Of Nicasio Dies

Family funeral services for Mrs. Orphelia Stull Gugel of Nicasio, assistant to the San Francisco Chronicle's literary editor, were held today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Inurnment followed in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Mrs. Gugel, 61, died this morning in a local hospital. She had been hospitalized for the last three months of a six-month illness.

She worked in a New York publishing house before coming to the West Coast about 30 years ago.

She was associated with the Chronicle for 19 years.

Mrs. Gugel's husband, George, was formerly a bartender at DeBorba's cocktail lounge in Novato and is now a route man for the Fairfax French Laundry and Cleaners.

Also surviving at the Nicasio home are the Gugels' daughter, Mrs. Joan Morris, and her four children. Another daughter, Mrs. Jane Benet, is food editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, under the name "Jane Friendly."

Additional survivors are a son, John Gugel of San Rafael; a brother, John Stull of New Jersey; a sister, Carolyn Stull of San Francisco, and a fifth grandchild.

Retired Cook Dies In Leap From Span

A retired San Francisco cook Saturday became the 183rd known suicide from the Golden Gate Bridge.

John Losky, 68, left a note in his coat on the bridge, saying he had been ill for five months and "I cannot take it any longer."

Ike Names Military Aid Study Group

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today named a committee of former government officials to evaluate the U. S. military aid program in terms of how to strengthen national security.

He announced the appointment of William H. Draper Jr., a Republican who was undersecretary of the Army in the Truman administration, to head the committee.

In a "Dear Bill" letter to Draper, the President said: "What is needed from your committee is a forthright evaluation of the extent to which future military assistance can, by strengthening our friends and allies, advance U. S. national security and foreign policy interests."

Appointment of the study committee comes in the midst of an Eisenhower drive to cut government spending.

'A PROPER TEST'

Top Court Upholds Alabama School Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that the Alabama pupil placement law—as written—is constitutional.

Today's brief order affirmed a lower court ruling to this effect. An appeal had been filed on behalf of four Negro children.

A three-judge federal court held last May that the Alabama statute, on its face, provides the machinery for administering schools "in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

The opinion said the record in the case did not show the exclusion of the four Negroes from schools of their choice to be based on anything but a proper test. But the opinion added if the law were not properly administered it might be declared unconstitutional in some future lawsuit.

Today's high court order made it plain that it was affirming "on the limited grounds on which the district court rested its decision."

The case started with an application by the children in August, 1957, for transfer to white schools in Birmingham nearer their homes. They brought suit in federal court after the Birmingham Board of Education failed to act on their application within a time limit set by the school placement law.

Alabama is one of 10 southern states that have adopted various forms of school placement or pupil assignment laws since the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation ruling. The high court previously declined to review lower court decisions which held Virginia and Louisiana pupil assignment laws unconstitutional and North Carolina's law constitutional.

The Alabama statute, adopted in 1955 and amended in 1957, directs local school boards, in assigning pupils to schools, to consider a number of factors. The latter include available space, psychological qualifications, the possibility of disorder and "the maintenance or severance of established social and psychological relationships with other pupils and with teachers." Race is not mentioned as a factor.

In their appeal to Supreme Court, lawyers for the four Negro children contended that the fact that race is not mentioned is immaterial.

They argued that the law was clearly intended "to prevent non-segregated public education in Alabama at all costs."

Merchant Seaman Cuts His Wrists

A 54-year-old San Anselmo merchant seaman today slashed his wrists with a pocket knife but was not seriously hurt.

Norman Swall was taken by ambulance from his home at 82 Oak Knoll avenue, San Anselmo, to Ross General Hospital at 7:45 a.m.

Swall used a pocket knife with two-inch blade to cut his wrists and inflict a superficial cut on his chest, said Police Officer Attilio Demaestri.

A tendon of Swall's right wrist was partially severed. His wounds were sutured and he was transferred to Marine Hospital in San Francisco.

Swall told hospital attendants he had been despondent about his health.

Grace Kelly, Prince Arrive For U.S. Visit

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco says she has no intentions now of going back into the movies.

She made the comment as she arrived yesterday with her husband Prince Rainier for a monthlong informal visit here and in Philadelphia.

The princess, former Hollywood actress Grace Kelly, plans to see some Broadway shows, shop and visit friends here with her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

Tomorrow night they will attend a state dinner at the Lotos Club. They will spend Thanksgiving at the Kelly home. They are scheduled to appear at the Imperial Ball Dec. 4 at the Astor Hotel.

Minds, too, need cultivating

Nourish the mind, and the harvest can be bountiful beyond all measure.

Our nation, up to now, has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nourished in our colleges and universities. The kind of learning developed there has made possible our American way of life.

Today these colleges are facing a serious crisis. Low salaries are driving too many gifted teachers into other fields. Many classrooms are seriously overcrowded. And by 1967 enrollments are expected to double!

Our institutions of higher learning are doing their best to meet these challenges. But they need help. Help the college of your choice now, and help perpetuate the American way of life.

If you want to know more about what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

the most powerful gasoline any car can use -

SUPER SHELL with TCP

ANTI-KNOCK Super Shell has an octane rating so high that it fulfills the requirements of all the latest model cars . . . so high that your engine can't possibly knock unless it's out of tune.

+ TCP But to get all the performance you paid for, you need a gasoline with more than just high octane. That's why Super Shell has TCP. This exclusive Shell-developed additive stops spark plug "miss"—today's biggest cause of power loss. TCP also stops pre-firing and piston pounding.

+ ECONOMY Because it has TCP plus special power ingredients, Super Shell gives you more miles per gallon than gasoline costing more.

SHE'S NEARING HER GOAL

Mrs. Mervin Ramer, 42, is shown holding her 18th child, a 7-pound, 14-ounce boy, who was born late Saturday. Mrs. Ramer told her husband when they married that she wanted two dozen children. Facilities at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas were again rendered "compliments of the house." It marked the second time in as many years that the Ramers received the no-charge maternity service.

Both Parties Eying Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Republicans and Democrats have their eyes on Chicago as a possible site for the 1960 presidential nominating conventions—but for opposite reasons.

The Republicans want to revive their strength in the Midwest, where they received a whipping in the Nov. 4 elections.

The Democrats want to flex their new Midwest muscles and keep their opponents down.

The Democratic National Committee is expected to name its convention site at a Dec. 6 meeting. The Republicans probably will wait until late December or mid-January.

A choice in the Midwest is by no means certain. Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has just come back from Miami Beach, where he inspected its possibilities as a convention site.

If both parties want the Midwest, the odds are on Chicago. No other city from the area has bid for both conventions.

In 1956, the Democrats met in Chicago while the Republicans met in San Francisco. But if they meet in 1960 at the same site, probably a week apart, they could share construction and decoration costs.

Kansas City, Louisville and Cleveland also have bid for the Republican convention.

Philadelphia, Atlantic City and New York in the East and San Francisco and Los Angeles in the Far West are bidding for both conventions.

Nixon, Rockfeller To Go Own Ways Politically

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently have reached an understanding to avoid stepping on each other's political toes until 1960.

A weekend conference here between the vice president and the Republican governor-elect of New York produced an informal agreement pointed publicly at cooperation between them in rebuilding the GOP from its heavy election this year.

Rockefeller endorsed a thesis Nixon first advanced in October—that the party will be best served if it develops a number of men of national stature as possible presidential nominees for 1960.

While Nixon makes no secret that he wants that nomination, Rockefeller said he is interested only in doing a good job as governor of New York. Asked if this wasn't the best way to run for president, Rockefeller only grinned.

Rockefeller's statement that he intends to confine his activities to New York was taken as assurance he will not personally interfere in the spade work Nixon's supporters are engaged in elsewhere.

Nixon, on the other hand, abviously is not going to intrude in New York, where Rockefeller is expected to have control of the largest of the state delegations to the convention two years from now.

It also seems implicit in the understanding between the two men that Rockefeller will not lend his support to any stop-Nixon move such as Harold E. Stassen is trying to get off the ground.

Vandals Use Paint On Firehouse Bulb

Somebody gave the green light to the Homestead Volunteer Fire Department during the weekend, but firemen don't like the way it was done.

Fire Chief Chester Kirby reported a 24-hour light which shines over the alarm button at the Homestead firehouse was covered with green paint by vandals.

In addition, Kirby said, a stop sign at La Verne and Melrose avenue was painted. Here the vandal had used red paint to obscure the lettering.

On Coast Maneuvers

Army Capt. Donald J. Hernandez, 22, of 495 Pinewood drive, Marinwood, and Pfc. Richard G. Downes, son of Mrs. Mary G. Downes, 285 Madrone avenue, Larkspur, recently participated with the 4th Armored Division in "Exercise Rocky Shoals," a joint Army-Navy maneuver on the California coast.

Alaskans Going To Polls For 1st State Election

JUNEAN, Alaska (AP) — Between 35,000 and 40,000 residents are expected to brave snow and bitter cold in many parts of this vast territory tomorrow to vote in the first state election.

Democrats are heavily favored in the balloting for two new United States senators, one congressman, governor, secretary of state and 60 members of Alaska's first state legislature.

There seemed general agreement that E. L. Bartlett, Democratic delegate to Congress for the past 14 years, would win one Senate seat easily. The race between Republican Gov. Mike Stepovich and ex-Gov. Ernest Gruening, a Democrat, appeared close.

Nixon Going To London, Will Lunch With Queen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon leaves for London today on a five-day visit that will give Britons their first chance to size him up as a leading contender for the U.S. presidency.

Radio Moscow and the London Daily Worker all but came right out and called on British Communists to give the vice president and his wife, Pat, a violent Venezuela-style protest reception.

The trip is being made by Nixon to represent this country at the dedication of the American Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral.

His itinerary will be highlighted by the dedication ceremony on Wednesday but also will include a luncheon with Queen Elizabeth II and private meetings with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and other top officials of the Conservative and Labor Parties.

De Gaulle Endorsed In National Vote For New Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle, without having lifted a finger in the campaign, won another strong endorsement from the French people in first-round voting yesterday for the new National Assembly.

With many candidates trying to ride de Gaulle's coattails, outright foes of the premier made the poorest showing.

A strong rightist swing was accompanied by a Communist decline, though the anti-Gaullist Communists were still the strongest single party. Red chieftain Jacques Duclos faced a stiff fight in the runoff next Sunday.

The de Gaulle tide swamped such non-Communist foes as former Premiers Pierre Mendes-France and Maurice Bourges-Maunoury. Both lost their Assembly seats on the first ballot.

NEW PARTY

It boomed to second rank—after the Communists—a brand new de Gaullist party, the Union for the New Republic (UNR) headed by Information Minister Jacques Soustelle.

This was the clearcut trend though only 41 of the 465 deputies from mainland France were elected by a majority vote over all opponents. The remainder will be chosen in runoffs next Sunday, when a winner will need only a plurality.

RESULTS LISTED

With only 20,994,797 of the 28 million eligible bothering to vote, the Interior Ministry gave this breakdown of the results:

Communists, elected 1 deputy, 3,882,204 popular votes, 18.94 per cent of the vote.

UNR, 8 deputies, 3,603,958 votes 17.6 per cent.

Socialists, 2 deputies, 3,167,354 votes, 15.5 per cent.

Independents, mostly rightists, 15 deputies, 2,816,176 votes, 13.74 per cent.

The remaining votes were scattered among 14 other parties and groups.

U.S. Proposes Going It Alone On Space Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States today proposed that the U.N. go ahead without the Soviet Union if the Russians refuse to take part in a proposed international study of outer space cooperation.

The proposal was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who told the U.N.'s 81-National Political Committee he had been unable to reach agreement with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin in private talks.

Lodge said he hoped Zorin would vote for a revised 20-nation resolution which embodies many of the elements in a rival Soviet plan. He added, however, that failure of the Soviet Union to agree should not halt U.N. action.

"We hope the Soviet Union will cooperate," Lodge said. "If the Soviet Union does not take part, I do not think that is a reason to falter. We can still do useful work."

Lodge reported that the United States and the Soviet Union had run into a solid deadlock over the composition of the proposed U.N. committee which would be given the task of working out a permanent agency on the peaceful uses of outer space.

Western diplomats predicted a handsome majority for the 20-nation proposal with or without Soviet support.

Red Guns Pound Offshore Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist shore batteries lifted their fire today after pounding the Quemoy Island with the heaviest barrage in nearly three weeks.

The Red guns fell silent on this even-numbered, no-shelling day. The Quemoy garrison reported hundreds of Communist soldiers went back to work on coastal fortifications facing the offsore islands.

Nationalist defense headquarters said the Reds unloaded 1,975 shells on Quemoy and the smaller islands yesterday.

The National Bureau of Standards has said that a wood siding of white keeps a house cooler. White paint, it reports, gives more protection against the sun than aluminum, colored paints and other surfaces.

MERGER IN AFRICA—Map locates West Africa republics of Guinea and Ghana whose premiers said today would be joined in a united republic, subject to approval by the legislatures of each. The two countries are about 300 miles apart at their nearest point. Conakry and Accra are their capital cities. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Guinea, Ghana Tell Plans For Merger

LONDON (UPI)—British diplomats wondered today whether the projected Guinea-Ghana merger means the Commonwealth has gained a Guinea or lost a Ghana.

The joint announcement yesterday in which the two nations said they planned to join forces to form the "nucleus of a union of West African states" made no mention of Ghana's membership in the Commonwealth.

British experts said the situation was unprecedented in Commonwealth history and raised problems that could be solved only by agreement among all the Commonwealth nations.

They wondered whether Ghana's Premier Kwame Nkrumah wanted to leave the Commonwealth or planned to bring Guinea in as a new partner.

Greek Royalty Heads For S.F. After L.A. Tour

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Queen Frederika of Greece—showing no signs of weariness after dancing with Hollywood stars at a party that lasted well into the small hours—boarded a train for San Francisco last night following a three-day visit to Hollywood and Los Angeles.

The trim, smiling monarch accompanied by her attractive 20-year-old daughter, Princess Sophie, presided over the Imperial Ball of the World Adoption International fund at a fashionable Beverly Hills hotel Saturday night.

About 1,200 society leaders and entertainment stars attended the affair at which her royal majesty danced with socialite-actor Robert Stack among others.

But the indefatigable monarch was bright-eyed until some smog caught up with her—and ready to see more sights when she began her final day of visits yesterday.

"I never suffered so much with the eyes," her royal majesty complained during the height of the smog yesterday.

Paris has more night clubs than New York City.

PRINCESS DANCES WITH ACTOR — A smiling Princess Sophie of Greece dance with actor Robert Stack at the WAIF Imperial Ball in Beverly Hills Saturday night. The Princess and her mother, Queen Frederika, were guests of honor at the $50-a-plate charity social affair. Oil Well Honored

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The University of Texas is building a permanent campus memorial to an oil well, the Santa Rita No. 1.

This is the well that "blew in" May 28, 1923, on land owned by the university of West Texas — long considered an "oilman's graveyard."

The oilmen who leased mineral rights to the land called the well the Santa Rita after the Saint of Impossible. But their success provided the university with the first revenue to a fund that now totals about 300 million dollars.

Allies Disagree On West Berlin Policy

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers were reported still unable to agree today on a policy of unified action toward the Communist challenge in Berlin.

There were many indications that the United States, Britain and France were finding it difficult to agree on a plan of action if and when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev unlimbers a definite proposal for dismantling the four-power regime for the city.

Khrushchev declared two weeks ago that the Soviet Union was ready to pull out of the four-power setup, a leftover from the victorious Allies' cooperation in Germany, and leave the Western powers on their own in dealing with the East Germans.

The West's dilemma was how far to go in dealing with Moscow's East German satellite. Despite official denials, reports persisted here, in London, in Washigton and in Bonn that the British see less danger in such dealing than do the Americans, French or West Germans.

The West German government in Bonn is opposed to any Western dealings with the East German Reds. It favors the use of tanks to break down the barricades and fighting planes to protect an airlift if the East Germans get tough about letting supplies through to the 10,000 British, American and French troops holding the island of West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

The West's uncertainty seemed to stem partly from the fact it was still facing an "iffy" situation. So far, Khrushchev hadn't lifted a finger to carry out his threat.

Atop official at U.S. headquarters here indicated there had been no Western decision because "after all the Russians haven't announced what they are going to do."

Woman Charged With Hiring Love Killer

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A 22-year-old social worker is charged with hiring a man to kill the wife of a state highway patrolman she loved. The man she allegedly hired for $500 turned out to be a police detective.

The intended murder was not committed. The highway patrolman was not implicated.

Barbara Ann Massey, was released under $1,000 bonds after her arrest Saturday. She goes on trial Friday in Mecklenburg County Recorder's Court at Charlotte.

'MURDERER' HIRED

The warrant for her arrest charged that she solicited Charlotte Detective Richard Ruth "to murder one Frances Smith," mother of two children, for $500.

Police gave this account:

Miss Massey asked a man in Charlotte about two weeks ago to suggest someone for the job of killing Mrs. Smith. The man she asked was a police informer who notified Detective Ruth.

TAPE RECORDER

Ruth met Miss Massey Nov. 15. He carried a hidden tape recorder. She gave him a $500 check.

Police said Miss Massey was not arrested until yesterday, since officials had not decided on the charge to be placed against her.

Charlotte Solicitor (prosecutor) W. H. Scarborough said the charge is a misdemeanor, carrying a maximum sentence of two years.

State Highway Patrol Lt. S. L. Willard said Mrs. Smith is the wife of Patrolman Ransom Smith of the Greensboro troop, who resigned from the force Saturday.

SPLENDID RECORD

Patrol Col. James R. Smith (no relation) said at Raleigh that the trooper "had a splendid record and had been an outstanding member of the patrol."

Lt. Willard said Miss Massey, an assistant case worker with the Guilford County Welfare Department, made a statement to police that cleared Trooper Smith of any implication in the case.

Miss Massey's father D. F. Massey was a Greensboro policeman for 12 years. In 1948 he was arrested for breaking and entering a cafe and served a prison sentence. About three years ago he was found dead by a roadside in Sampson County.

As a high school student, Miss Massey won the national Knights of Pythias public speaking contest in St. Louis, Mo., in 1953, and was awarded a $1,000 scholarship. At Wake Forest College, she was the first girl freshman to make the debating team. After graduation she attended Wake Forest Law School for a year.

Crime Rises 11 Per Cent During 1958

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI said today crime increased by 11 per cent in the first nine months of this year, compared with the corresponding period in 1957.

Based on preliminary reports from cities over 25,000 population, the FBI crime index showed the following increases for seven types of offenses:

Robbery, 18 per cent; burglary, 14 per cent; forcible rape, 13 per cent; larceny over $50, 13 per cent; auto theft, 5 per cent; murder, 3 per cent; aggravated assault, 2 per cent.

HELP IS IN VAIN

Can't Stop Car, Drives To Death

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A woman drove to her death early today as a policeman in a cruiser vainly tried to tell her how to shut off the ignition of her speeding automobile as it approached a steep hill.

The woman was identified as Myrtle Einhaus, 49.

Officer Ellsworth Greiner said he was sitting in a restaurant drinking a cup of coffee when his cruiser was sideswiped. He dashed outside, jumped into his car and gave chase.

"Pull over to the curb," he demanded of the woman driver when he drew alongside.

"I can't stop the car!" she cried out.

"Turn off the ignition key," Greiner directed.

"I can't find it!" she shouted back.

Approaching cars forced the officer to drop back as the woman reached a hill. There is a turn at the end of the hill. Mrs. Einhaus failed to make it. Her car hit a pole and she was killed.

Parallel Parking Protest Prepared

San Rafael businessman Andrew Pedroli, who has properties on B street, declared today he will represent 25 to 30 fellow merchants on protesting the newly installed parallel parking at next Monday's meeting of the city council.

Pedroli estimates that the changeover from angle to parallel parking on two blocks of B street resulted in the loss of 23 cars. Assuming that each space is used about 18 times a day, the loss amounts to 414 parking spaces each day, Pedroli estimated.

"The city works for many, many years to beautify the street, then they take business right out of the street," Pedroli asserted.

He said he feels the committee that worked out the parallel parking plan made a sincere effort to improve the street. "They probably thought they were doing the right thing, but they made a big mistake," he declared.

Sheriff Solves Killing Of Dad

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Sheriff Ray Wilson's probe of his father's 18-year-old slaying has ended in conviction of two Crestview brothers.

The Okaloosa County officer was a 12-year-old boy when a shotgun blast fatally wounded Crestview Police Chief Lester Wilson. The boy grew up, became sheriff two years ago and launched a new investigation that reached out as far as Texas and North Carolina for witnesses.

TWO GUILTY

A Circuit Court jury yesterday found Jesse Cayson, 56, and Cayson's brother Doyle, 51, guilty of first degree murder in the 1940 killing. It recommended mercy, which means sentences of life imprisonment for both men.

William Dorace Brown, 49, accused with the Caysons, was acquitted.

A prosecution witness, Mrs. Mattie Lee Taylor Boeck of San Antonio, Tex., testified she saw the three defendants in a cafe the night of the slaying and later saw them follow Wilson in a car with lights off.

WOMAN BEATEN

Mrs. Boeck said she was beaten up later that night by an unidentified assailant who threatened worse "if you don't forget what you saw tonight."

Another prosecution witness, Mrs. Marjorie King of Rocky Mount, N.C., said she heard three men urge Jesse Cayson to go to the state mental hospital at Chattahoochee because they had heard he was going around the county saying he had shot Wilson.

How Do You Know Your Business Is Really Covered by Adequate Insurance?

You don't—unless you insure through an independent insurance agent. Here's why:

No Single Insurance Company Offers Every Type of Business Insurance.

If you buy insurance directly from an insurance company, it's likely you will hear only about the policy or policies that company offers. But if you insure your business through an independent insurance agent, here's what happens: 1. He personally surveys your plant or working site. 2. He suggests ways you may be able to reduce the premiums you pay. 3. He determines your insurance needs. 4. He chooses for you the best insurance for your business out of hundreds of policies offered by different, competing insurance companies.

You can be sure your business has adequate insurance coverage when you insure through an independent insurance agent. So, look for this seal before you buy insurance. Only an independent insurance agent can display it.

THERE GOES HUGH — Halfback Hugh McElhenny (39) of 49ers starts out on a 39-yard run to Green Bay's 39-yard line in first quarter of their game in Milwaukee yesterday. Leading the play is end Billy Wilson (84). McElhenny enjoyed a banner day, gaining 159 yards on 22 carries. (AP Wirephoto)

Improved Blocking Sparks 49ers To 33-12 Triumph

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Coach Frankie Albert of San Francisco today credited a return to form by his team's offensive line as the big factor in the 49ers' 33-12 National Football League win over Green Bay.

Backs Hugh McElhenny and Joe Perry were repeatedly sprung loose as they gained 159 and 73 yards respectively.

"It was the first time we got lanes open for our backs this season, allowing them to move with freedom," he said.

Albert shrugged off the brawls which dotted yesterday's tussle.

"Tempers flared up, that's all," the voluble coach said. "Those things will happen."

Neither the 49er players involved nor Referee Bob Austin were able to pinpoint the cause of the fights. One sideline observer said he believed that the main trouble was that Green Bay's defensive platoon became frustrated with the inability of the team's offensive unit to move the ball.

The Californians gained 539 to Green Bay's 236. But at the end of three quarters, the San Franciscans were lucky to hold a 12-12 tie. The Packers stopped drive after drive inside the 20 and might have led had not the usually reliable Billy Howton dropped a pass in the end zone.

Y. A. Tittle hit Billy Wilson with a 6-yard scoring toss in early minutes of play to culminate a 43-yard play. Minutes later Green Bay uncorked an 80-yard drive with Vito Parilli tossing 15 yards to Howton for the score.

The rest of the first three periods was a bizarre battle of field goals. Green Bay's Paul Hornung made two and had two blocked while Gordy Soltau made two, missed two and saw two blocked by a Green Bay line led by linebacker Tom Bettis, a real toughie all day.

The Packers crumbled in the final period. Tittle passed to Wilson for 15 yards for one score and after a Packer fumble, Tittle found R. C. Owens on a 23-yard "Alley-Oop" pass. It was the first Alley-Ooper to score this season.

The final 49er tally came after another Alley-Oop toss after a Packer fumble. Interference was called and the 49ers got the ball on the one. McElhenny scored.

That ended the scoring, but not the action. Jostling and fighting broke out, climaxed by a near riot on the final play of the game. Jim Pace of San Francisco was knocked out of bounds and fists and helmets started flying in a wild melee that almost turned into a riot as Packers and spectators rushed to the scene. Fortunately cooler heads prevailed.

Sharing the statistical spotlight with McElhenny and Perry were Tittle, who completed 20 of 35 passes for 283 yards, and Wilson with 8 catches for 128 yards.

A disappointing crowd of 19,786 witnessed the clash. The win left the San Franciscans in fourth with a 4-5 mark while the Packers are mired in last place with a 1-7-1 record. Off yesterday's performance, they don't figure to improve their cellar status.

On the horizon for the 49ers are two tussles with senational Baltimore, including one next Sunday at Baltimore.

GREAT MAILS STRICKEN AT ELKO BANQUET—INDIGESTION

ELKO, Nev., (UPI) — Former pitching star Walter (The Great) Mails, 61, was to be released from Elko General Hospital today after suffering an attack of indigestion during a banquet Saturday night.

Doctors at first feared that the popular former Cleveland Indian had suffered a heart attack, but further examination proved his condition was only what Mails termed "gas pains."

"The electro-cardiograph showed I was in excellent condition," Mails said. "The doctor just suggested that I slow down a bit and go on a diet. Also, it is possible that the high altitude bothered me."

Mails, promotion director for the San Francisco Giants, was here to speak to a sports banquet along with Jim Davenport, Giant third baseman. He is a resident of San Quentin Village.

Macauley Off To Good Start With St. Louis

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now they know why they call Ed Macauley of the St. Louis Hawks "Easy Ed."

He finds it easy winning as a coach in the National Basketball Assn.

Since taking over from Andy Phillip last week, Macauley has guided the Hawks two two victories in as many games. They defeated Minneapolis 114-109 Saturday night and Cincinnati 100-89 in yesterday's natioally-televised game.

The Hawks, however, have been unable to gain ground to Detroit, runner-up to St. Louis in the Western Division. The pistons turned back Minneapolis 124-109 last night after beating Cincinnati 103-86 Saturday.

WARRIORS WIN

In another Sunday night game, Jack George's three points in the final 49 seconds gave the Philadelphia Warriors a 110-107 win over the Syracuse Nationals.

Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette shared scoring honors for St. Louis yesterday with 24 points apiece.

Cincinnati now has won only two games in 11 starts.

George Yardley was the big man for Detroit last night, scoring 34 points as the Pistons increased their second place margin over Minneapolis to two games. Rookie Elgin Baylor had 30 for the Lakers.

George scored 11 points in a final quarter rally for the Warriors. Red Kerr had 25 points for Syracuse.

In other Saturday night games, the New York Knickerbockers roared to their 10th victory in 11 starts—and eighth straight—by beating Syracuse 114-99, and Boston nipped Philadelphia, 105-100.

BASS CLINCHES RUSHING TITLE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

College of the Pacific and Fresno State wind up their season with a Thanksgiving Day collision.

Both will be fresh from victories last Saturday. COP crushed San Diego State 68-17 and Fresno ground out a 35-0 lacing over San Francisco State, champ of the Far Western Conference.

COP halfback Dick Bass clinched the national collegiate rushing title while figuring in six of COP's nine touchdowns—he made five of them on runs and one on a pass from Gary Hubb.

The brilliant halfback pushed his season rushing total to 1,228 yards by gaining 191 yards on 23 carries against San Diego.

U.S. Doubles Team Gains Semi-Finals

SYDNEY (AP)—Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo, the probable U.S. Davis Cup doubles team, reached the semifinals of the New South Wales Tennis Tournament today, defeating Australians Roy Emerson and Bob Mark 4-6, 13-11, 10-8, 7-5.

The top Aussie pair of Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser kept pace, downing Andres Gimeno and Jose Arilla of Spain, 7-9, 11-9, 6-3, 6-1.

Colts Romp Over Rams, 34-7; Near Western Division Title

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Baltimore Colts are galloping toward their first pro football division title in 10 seasons and the Cleveland Browns are edging toward their 12th in 13 campaigns.

Coach Webb Ewbank's Colts, led by John Unitas and Lenny Moore, scored 21 points in six minutes during the final period yesterday to crush the Los Angeles Rams. 34-7. Baltimore, which has whipped its closest pursuers in its last two starts, held its two-game lead in the National League's Western Division with only three to play. The Colts kicked the Rams three games off the pace.

Coach Paul Brown's Cleveland club hung to its one-game margin over the New York Giants in the Eastern Division by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-14. New York, which slipped out of a first-place tie with Cleveland by bowing to the Pittsburgh Steelers Nov. 16, bounced back by blanking the Washington Redskins, 30-0.

The Chicago Bears, 17-0 victims of the Colts a week ago, remained two games behind Baltimore by rallying to down the Detroit Lions, 20-7. The defeat officially ended Detroit's slim hopes of keeping the Western Division and League titles.

Pittsburgh remained a game behind New York and two behind Cleveland by defeating the Chicago Cardinals 27-20, on Bobby Layne's 78-yard pass-run touchdown toss to Jack Orr in the last six minutes. Ollie Matson of the Cardinals raced 101 yards to score with the first kickoff. In the other game, Y. A. Tittle threw two passes to Billy Wilson and one to R. C. Owens to spark the San Francisco 49ers to a 33-12 victory over the Green Bay Packers.

49ERS NEXT

Each of the 12 clubs has three more games. The Colts didn't win a division title during three seasons in the old All-American Conference and failed in six previous NFL campaigns. But this looks like Baltimore's year. If they defeat the visiting 49ers next Sunday and the Steelers down the Bears at Pittsburgh, the Colts will have the western title clinched before they wind up their regular season next month at Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Cleveland has a smaller lead but appears—on paper— to have a slightly easier schedule than New York. The Browns entertain the crippled Redskins next Sunday and play at Philadelphia before invading New York. The Giants entertain the Eagles, then have what could be a tough game in Detroit before meeting the Browns in a game that already is a virtual Yankee Stadium sellout.

UNITAS HOT

Unitas, who missed two games with cracked ribs, returns to Baltimore's quarterback post yesterday and bombed the Rams with their own favorite weapon on the first play from scrimmage. He fired to Moore and Lenny raced 58 yards to score.

Moore also ran eight yards to score in the second period, but the Colts were clinging to a 13-7 lead when they thrilled a capacity home crowd of 57,557 with their last-period spree. Unitas passed 12 yards to Jim Mutscheller and plunged a yard while L. G. Dupre ran six for three quick touchdowns.

RAMS SCHACKLED

The Rams scored on pass-runs plays covering 64, 65, 72, 92 and 93 yards in other games this year, but never got untracked against Baltimore's defense, the league's finest. The Colts recovered five Los Angeles fumbles, turning two into touchdowns and using two to stop drives on the Baltimore one. The Colts also intercepted four passes.

The Bears trailed at halftime in Detroit, 7-6, but won on Zeke Bratkowski's five and 67-yard scoring passes to Bill McColl in the third period. A capacity crowd of 55,280 watched the Lions, who clobbered the Browns in the 1957 championship game, 59-14, bow out of the western race while being throttled by the Chicago defense.

BUT FOR A PROMISE . . .

Kenny Washington Might Have Been Ball Great

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Kenny Washington, a great football star both in college and as a pro, might have become one of baseball's finest infielders if he had not been a man of his word.

The pledge Washington made back in 1945 was to play with the Los Angeles Rams the following year. But that was the year his former teammate at UCLA, Jackie Robinson, broke the "color line" in major league baseball by being brought up by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The major league scouts who knew Washington as a great high school and college baseball player, immediately besieged him to sign a baseball contract.

"I had given my word to Mr. Chile Walsh and Mr. Dan Reeves of the Rams to play football for them and I couldn't go back on it.

"And as I look back now I feel it was just as important for a colored player to break into pro football as it was in baseball," Washington said.

For 13 years prior to Washington's addition to the Rams roster, there had not been a Negro in the National Football League.

Washington's baseball ability was brought to light for a new generation recently when he was signed as a part-time scout by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

He started playing baseball at Lincoln High School here in Los Angeles because until his junior year Washington was too small for football. But he became an outstanding shortstop and even as a freshman he was just a shade below Bobby Doerr in the battle for the city batting championship. The next year he won it and his four-year high school batting average was .425.

At UCLA Washington played only freshman and sophomore baseball, but as a sophomore he batted .454 and played third base. Robinson came to UCLA as a junior college transfer and while he and Washington were on the same football team, contrary to common belief, they never played baseball together.

In football Washington was a tailback and combined brilliant running with outstanding passing ability. In the 1937 UCLA-Southern California game he threw a pass that carried 62 yards in the air that still stands as a UCLA record and the 1,915 yards he made rushing over a three-year period also is a school record.

And in the three-year period he was with the Rams, Washington, despite two bad knees on which he had undergone surgery, had 859 yards rushing for an all-time Ram high average of 6.14 yards per carry.

Washington retired from football after the 1948 season but the baseball "bug" was still with him and in 1950 he tried out for the New York Giants.

Leo Durocher was manager of the Giants then and while he was impressed with Washington's batting in spring training he felt the years of football had stiffened him up too much for big league play.

On Durocher's recommendation, Washington joined the Los Angeles Angels and played part of the 1950 season before his football injuries made it too difficult.

WEEK'S BOXING CARD

Folley Battles Briton In Comeback Attempt

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Zora Folley, whose status as a heavyweight title contender was slightly tarnished in England, thinks he can get even today. It's a little complicated.

Folley fights the man, Joe Bygraves, who beat the man, Henry Cooper, who beat him, in October. The Folley-Bygraves bout is scheduled for Leicester, England with Art Swide of Pittsburgh and Joey Armstrong of Jamaica in a companion 10-round heavy match.

The latest rankings show Folley, who had been No. 1, listed as No. 3 by Ring and No. 4 by the National Boxing Assn.

On the theory that any man who is batting 1.000 with 14 knockouts in 14 fights must be worth looking at, there is interest in the appearance of Victor Zalazar of Argentina on tonight's show at St. Nicholas Arena in New York. Zalazar meets Frank Keating of Wallingford, Conn.

Zalazar's only other U.S. appearance was two weeks ago when he stopped the durable Otis Woodard in five rounds. Woodard recently fought a draw with Paddy Young.

When Carl "Bobo" Olson and Paddy Young fought in 1953, the American middleweight title was at stake. Olson's victory sent him into a world title match with Randy Turpin which Olson won.

They meet again tomorrow night in Oakland, a pair of veteran light heavyweights on a comeback. Olson who retired once after knockouts by Sugar Ray Robinson, stopped Don Grant last month in a comeback start. Young was held to a draw by Woodard.

Willi Besmanoff of Germany and Mike De John, two heavyweights who vaulted into prominence by knocking out the same man—Alex Miteff of Argentina—top the Friday card at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Since he flattened Miteff, the lanky DeJohn from Syracuse, N.Y., has beaten Bob Baker and dropped two split decisions to Nino Valdez. Besmanoff stopped Miteff in his most recent start, Sept. 23. Earlier in the year he beat Pat McMurtry and lost to Harold Carter and Archie Moore.

The bout will be carried on NBC radio-TV.

Rudell Stitch, a promising newcomer from Louisville who broke even in two matches with Isaac Logart, faces experienced Yama Bahama of Bimini, British West Indies, on the Wednesday show from the Kentucky State Fair and Exposition center in Louisville.

Tamites Win Tennis Title

Tamalpais High School, whose tennis team completed an undefeated season Friday, should be even stronger on the courts next season.

All eight member of the Tam team will be back next year, including junior Toby Van Rossum Daum, and Tom Mathews, sophomores Dennis Langhoff, Bob Hope, Raoul Bozio and Steve Clark and freshmen Bob Scott and Brian Laurie.

Tam's vicitories were over Napa, Santa Rosa, Drake, Redwood, Vallejo and Montgomery for the North Bay League championship.

Detroit Offers Hoeft For Lumpe

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are trying to trade pitcher Bill Hoeft to the New York Yankees for infielder Jerry Lumpe.

The Tigers would throw in another player along with Hoeft in order to get Lumpe, who could solve Detroit's third base problem.

Sparrow-Mullins Team Captures Golf Tournament

Bud Sparrow and Audrey Mullins teamed up to win the Indian Valley Golf Club's "Mixed Two-Ball Turkey Shoot" golf tournament yesterday.

Results:

Bud Sparrow-Audrey Mullins, 83-16—67; C. B. Coleman-Betsy Evans, 88-19—69; John Badura-Colleen Smith, 89-19½—69½; Carl Williams-Helen Hardcastle, 98-28—70.

MacPhail Starts Work With O's

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lee MacPhail takes over today as general manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 41-year-old baseball executive was serving as director of player personnel for the New York Yankees when he agreed Nov. 5 to take the Oriole job. He is the son of Larry MacPhail, former owner of the Yanks.

Rose Bowl-Bound Cal Must Strengthen Pass Defense

Big Weakness In Narrow Victory Over Stanford

Pete Elliott admitted today his California Bears may have to make drastic revisions of their pass defense if they plan on stopping Iowa in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Despite an underdog role, young Pete and his charges definitely intend to stop the Hawkeyes, who are Big Ten champs and losers of only one game this year—to Ohio State.

"Maybe we're not the best team in the world," Elliott said, "but we've done everything asked of us this year. Maybe we're not so bad."

His Bears have a 7-3 record. They lost their first two games to College of the Pacific and Michigan State and their only Pacific Coast Conference loss was to Oregon State.

A close squeak came Saturday when California beat Stanford in the 61st Big Game 16-15 at Berkeley.

Stanford had lost seven games going into that one, but came alive with quarterbacks Bob Nicolet and Dick Norman completing 22 of 41 passes.

Halfback John Bond set up the first Indian touchdown when he took the ball on a double reverse and threw his first pass of the season, a 40-yarder to end Irv Nikolai.

Stanford's 23 passes were good for 279 yards.

What makes that dangerous for Cal is that Iowa has one of the best passers in the nation in Randy Duncan.

The Bears decided the Stanford running game was no menace—after it gained only 30 yards in the first half and rushed only two or three men most of the time.

The secondary stayed back to stop the passes, but time and again Indian receivers successfully maneuvered in front of or in back of the Bear defenders.

BOTTOM TO TOP

Elliott, the 31-year-old coach who brought California from the PCC cellar to the top spot in one short season, will give his players a rest while he does some advance planning.

He will go to Los Angeles this week to scout Saturday's Southern California-Notre Dame game.

California meets Notre Dame at Berkeley next Oct. 10 and USC also is on the schedule.

Elliott has his choice of films of two Iowa games, but he hasn't made up his mind yet which to take. Before deciding, he may spend a few moments talking with his brother Bumps.

Bumps is the new head coach-elect at Michigan and knows all about the Hawkeyes, who clobbered Michigan 37-14.

Stanford Coach Jack Curtice left it up to the men on the field after Norman hit end Joe Freis with a 21-yard touchdown pass with 90 seconds left.

They elected to go for the victory and 81,490 excited fans watched Skip Face as he started around right end. Fullback Billy Patton grabbed the halfback from behind. A flock of Bear linemen poured on top of him to save the day.

HART STARS

Quarterback Joe Kapp directed the Bear attack, as usual in fine fashion, but it was halfback Jack Hart who furnished the punch. The 184-pound senior scored both touchdowns on 1-yard plunges, and carried the ball 22 times for 103 yards. He also caught three passes for 48 yards.

The all important conversions came on an end sweep by Grover Garvin of San Rafael and a pass from Kapp to Wayne Crow.

Stanford took a 9-8 halftime lead when Face kicked an 18-yard field goal in the second quarter. He had scored the first Stanford touchdown in the first quarter on a 3-yard run right after Bond's pass.

Had the Bears last Saturday, Washington State would have been in the Rose Bowl picture since the Cougars wound up their season by beating Washington 18-14. That gave the northerners a 6-2 PCC record compared to California's 6-1.

Oregon upset Oregon State 20-0 and Southern California and UCLA played to a 15-15 tie. That left Oregon State at 5-3 and Southern at 4-2-1.

Washington State had to rally in the second half to beat Washington, 1-6 in PCC activity. The Cougars were behind 14-12, but moved 79 yards for the go-ahead touchdown on the third quarter kickoff and dominated play thereafter. They got to the Washington 3 twice, but failed to score.

USC THIRD

Southern California finished third in league standings and also had to come from behind. A fourth quarter 74-yard kickoff return by Luther Hayes and a two-point conversion run by Tom Maudlin tied the battle. UCLA finished with a 2-4-1 conference mark.

Oregon, 4-4, held Oregon State to only four first downs and gave Coach Tommy Prothro his first defeat at Corvallis in four years there. Fullback Dave Powell scored twice, on a one-yard plunge and a 10-yard run.

California, Washington, Southern California and UCLA already have banded into a "Big Four" conference to replace the dying PCC.

CAL ALLOTTED 46,000 DUCATS FOR ROSE BOWL

BERKELEY (AP)—A University of California official said today that his school will be allotted 46,000 tickets for its Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game against Iowa.

Ticket boss Harry Davis said 57,000 applications will be mailed out this week to paid up members of the alumni Big C society, paid up members of the Alumni Assn., season ticket purchasers and former stadium subscribers.

Students and faculty members, Davis said, will take care of an estimated 13,000 tickets. The rest will be allocated by lottery.

Brown Held To 66 Yards By Eagles

CLEVELAND (AP)—Although the Philadelphia Eagles are tied for last in the National Football League's Eastern Division, they've had some success containing Cleveland's explosive fullback, Jimmy Brown.

The Eagles limited Brown to 66 yards in 20 carries yesterday, his longest gain was nine yards.

Sunday's gains raised Brown's league-leading rushing yardage to 1,229. He has three more games to add to his yardage record which supplants the 1,146 yards Steve Van Buran gained for Philadelphia in 1949.

Wyoming To Play In Sun Bowl Tilt

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming's Cowboys, football champions of the Skyline Conference, will make their second trip in three years to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.

The players voted yesterday to accept an invitation to the Dec. 31 game at the Sun Bowl, where they scored a 21-14 victory over Texas Tech in the 1956 contest.

Pete Cooper Wins Florida Tourney

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Pete Cooper added $2,000 to his bankroll today with a sudden death playoff victory in the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open Golf Tournament.

Cooper, 43-year-old pro from Lakeland, Fla., played steady, sub-par golf on the final round yesterday to finish with a 70 and 269, tying Wesley Ellis Jr. of Aldecress, N.J.

Then the bespectacled Cooper sank a seven-foot putt for a birdie on the first extra hole while Ellis missed a 14-footer and had a par 5. Ellis previously had a 73.

Their 269 for 72 holes was 19 strokes under par for the West Palm Beach Country Club Course.

Ellis' second place finish was worth $1,500 while Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., finished with 68 to tie Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., at 273 and pick up $1,100.

Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., had 275 to win $900.

Spaniard Wins Playoff For International Title

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The dramatic victory of an ignored Spaniard and an under-rated Irish team in the Canada Cup finals was called further proof the U.S. and British Isles no longer rule the golf world.

Not only did Angel Miguel win the individual world's championship and Ireland the team trophy yesterday, but a list of the leaders sounded like a United Nations roster.

"Golf is now really an international game," said Frank Pace Jr., president of the sponsoring International Golf Assn.

Only once before, in 1955, had the matches ended so dramatically.

But as skies began to darken the Club de Golf Mexico Course, young Miguel and stocky, 45-year-old Harry Bradshaw of Ireland battled to an unexpected tie with 72-hole totals of 286.

Without rest, Miguel and Bradshaw went into a sudden-death playoff. They were even for two holes. On the 188-yard third, both sliced their drives into the spectators. Luckily, both balls bounced back into play on the green.

Miguel sank a spectacular 25-foot putt for a deuce, Bradshaw missed by inches and the Spaniard, new world's golf champion, was mobbed by the excited fans.

Behind Miguel and Bradshaw came Flory Van Donck of Belgium with a 287; Miguel Sala, Colombia, 288; Eric Brown, Scotland, and Frank Phillips, Australia, 289; Leopoldo Ruiz, Argentina, 292; Harold Henning, South Africa, O'Connor, and Chen Ching-Po, China, 293.

Spain was second in the team competition with 582, followed by South Africa 584 and Australia and Scotland 588.

The United States lost out all around. It lost a good shot at the team title when Sam Snead had to withdraw Saturday morning at the start of the third round because of an ailing back.

And Ben Hogan, the captain of the U. S. team, could not do better than 36-38—74, two over par, in the fourth round yesterday which tied him at seventh place with Gary Player of South Africa with an aggregate of 291—five strokes off the pace.

"I gave it all I had, what more can I say," Hogan commented, adding he didn't understand how any golfer could play 72 holes in four days in this mile-and-a-half high city.

"But that's no alibi," said the 46-year-old Hogan. "After all the other guys had to play in the same altitude."

It marked the second year in a row that the United States has lost out in the "World Series" of golf. Hogan and Snead won the team championship back in 1956 when this tournament was held in England, with bantam Ben taking the individual title.

But last year it was Japan winning both the individual and team titles.

So it marked the second year in a row the U. S. has been shut out in this event.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

Army Likes Navy And Vice Versa

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Army and Navy are showing a traditionally healthy respect for each other's football prowess as they prepare for their annual football battle at Philadelphia Saturday.

Steven Belichick, chief scout for Navy, calls the Cadets "the most explosive football team I've ever seen—much better and entirely different from the team we beat last year."

And Army's top scout, Dale Mall, said the Middies have a "tremendous" squad which could pose more of a threat to the Cadets than the one which won 14-0 last year.

"Their passing attack is stronger than it has been, and in halfback Joe Bellino they have a greater individual threat," Hall sums up. "As a sophomore he has made mistakes, but he has made fewer and fewer and is one of the finest runners in the country if not the finest."

Belichick counters that Army halfback Pete Dawkins "is the finest all-around back I've seen in college football."

He says Dawkins is a great team leader—a "take charge" guy who sets the pace for the Cadets—a tremendous runner, good passer, good blocker, "and ought to win every award in the books this year."

But the strength of the undefeated Cadets runs much deeper than individual players, the Navy backfield coach says.

"This team has impressed me more than any others because they do many things well and are so explosive," he says. "They can kill you either passing or running."

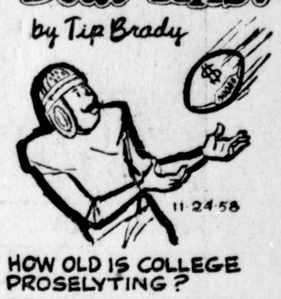

This year Army is also a passing team—one of the nation's finest—and both Dawkins and Anderson take a hand in this along with quarterback Joe Caldwell. A lot of Army's passing is off running plays and if you draw your linebackers in they throw over you, Belichick says.

Army scout Hall, considers Navy's passing attack, guided by junior quarterback Joe Tranchini, and the running of Bellino, on punt and kickoff returns as well as rushing plays, to be major factors for Army to stop.

The game will be televised nationally.

HOW OLD IS COLLEGE PROSELYTING?

College proselyting is almost as old as intercollegiate sports. In 1884, Amos Alonzo Stagg, then a prep star at Phillips-Andover, received the following letter from the president of Dartmouth: "There is no college where a man can get along on less money. Many men pay their own way, receiving, of course, considerable aid in the way of scholarships."

His Highness Done To A Golden Turn

True to tradition, a tender, well-browned turkey will reign at the Thanksgiving feast in homes all over the country, come Thursday. The bird can look like a cook's dream if it's tucked snuggly in an airtight jacket of aluminum foil before it goes into the oven, then uncovered to brown shortly before it is removed.

Nothing is more tempting to a family and guests than the sight of the golden-brown turkey, piping hot, resting on a platter waiting to be carved. Just as there is a right way to cook a fowl, there is a right way to carve and serve it. And tasty cranberry orange relish in bright foil dishes makes the bird even most festive looking.

Here are recommendations for cooking, carving and serving the Thanksgiving turkey, as well as how to make the foil cranberry relish dishes.

ROASTING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 425 degrees F.

2. Grease skin of bird with soft butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper.

3. Set bird in center of large square of heavy-duty foil or double-thick household weight foil. (If sheet is too narrow, fold two together lengthwise, using double fold.)

4. Press edges together above turkey; close with double fold, pressing firmly against bird.

5. Fold ends over and over, pressing close to turkey.

6. Place wrapped turkey on rack in shallow pan.

7. If meat thermometer is used, insert it through foil.

8. Roast according to chart below.

9. Forty-five minutes before turkey is done, open foil; push away for browning.

When the turkey is taken from the oven, it should be permitted to "set" for a few minutes before it is carved. The platter on which the fowl is to be served should be warmed so that the bird will remain hot throughout carving and serving.

When carving is done at the table, the platter containing the turkey is set directly in front of the carver, forward of his place setting. His water glass and salad plate, and other tableware which may be in his way, can be moved aside. Warmed dinner plates are stacked in front of him. Whether he stands or sits to do his job is a matter of choice. All meats and fowls should be carved across the grain, with a sharp knife.

Here are some carving pointers:

1. Place bird on platter with legs to carver's right. Remove string and skewers.

2. Starting on side toward carver, place carving knife between thigh and body: cut through skin to joint.

3. Separate leg from body by pressing leg outward with knife and bending it back with the carving fork inserted, tines point down, into drumstick. Lift to extra warmed platter, placed at left of dinner plates.

4. Separate thigh from drumstick, just above round bone, slice off dark meat for service.

5. Disjoint wing and separate from body in same manner as leg.

6. Insert fork through ribs above backbone.

7. Make a cut above wing joint through to body frame.

8. Using either carving knife or slicer, slice breast downward with straight, even strokes beginning halfway up the breast. When knife reaches incision above wing bone, slices will fall free.

9. Continue slicing breast by beginning at a higher point each time until crest of bone is reached.

10. The plater is turned and the same procedure followed for other side.

A garnish of cranberry relish in foil cups presents a pretty picture on the platter. The relish may be made well in advance of Thanksgiving, then frozen in its foil cups. It can be thawed just before serving.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

2 navel oranges
1 pound fresh cranberries (4 cups)
2 cups sugar

1. Wash oranges; cut in eighths; remove seeds.

2. Put oranges (including rind), cranberries through coarse blade of food chopper.

3. Stir in sugar; blend thoroughly, chill.

4. Tear off twelve 6-inch wide pieces of 12-inch foil wrap; fold each piece in half, making 6-inch squares.

5. Fit squares into muffin cups; fold excess foil down to form edge.

6. Fill foil cups with Cranberry Orange Relish (approximately ¼ cup); put remaining relish into another container; freeze for later use.

7. Place muffin pans in freezer for several hours or until frozen.

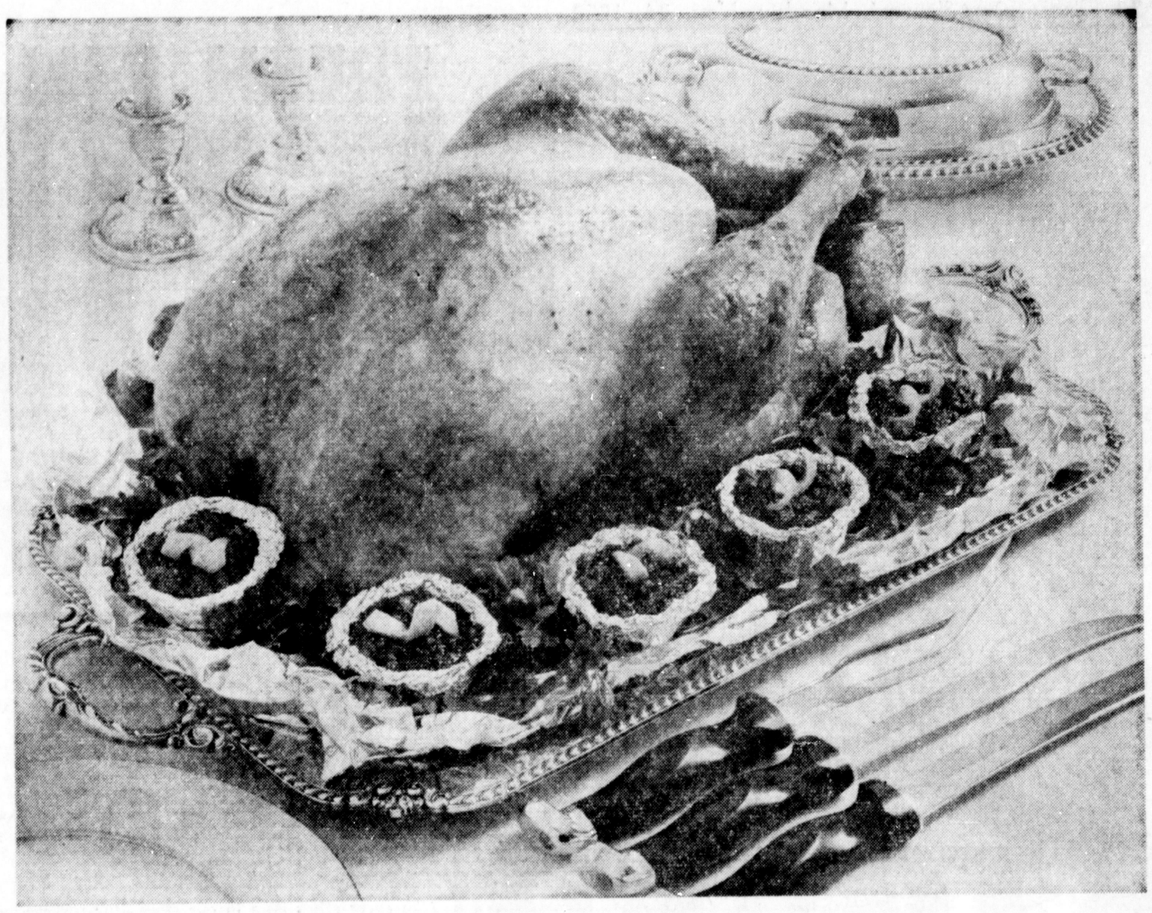

8. Remove foil cups from muffin pans; wrap cups completely in foil; return to freezer.

TIME-TEMPERATURE CHART FOR TURKEY

Weight	Approx. Min. per pound	Meat Thermometer Reading When Bird Is Done
8-10 lbs.	18-16	200°F.
12-15 lbs.	16-14	200°F.
16-18 lbs.	14-12	200°F.

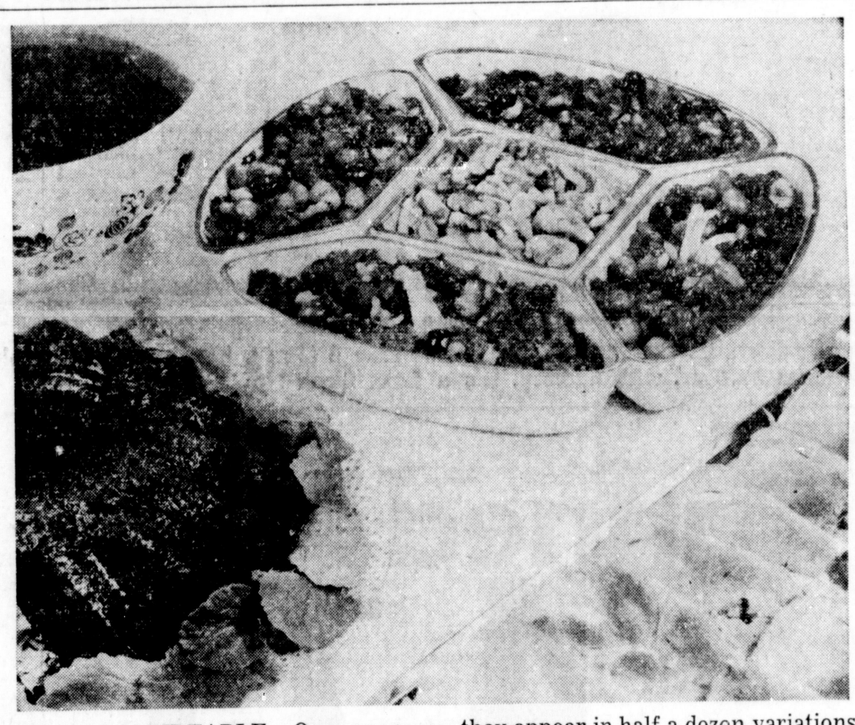

Important: The number of minutes per pound given here is for unstuffed, broad-breasted type turkeys. Add 3-5 minutes per pound for stuffed birds.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS—A tender, well-browned turkey reigns over millions of American tables Thursday, symbol of the bounty for which we give thanks. This bronze monarch was baked in foil, uncovered the last 45 minutes.

You'll save money if you buy whole broiler-fryers rather than the parts. You can cut up the bird and, if you have a freezer, store part of it, use the rest.

A teaspoon of dry mustard is a good addition to a ham glaze made with a cup of brown sugar and a couple of tablespoons of pineapple or other fruit juice.

RELISH ROUNDTABLE—Once upon a time, cranberries for Thanksgiving were a sauce, pure and simple. Now they appear in half a dozen variations on the relish theme, not to mention molded salads and nut breads.

Today It's Cranberry Relish— Tomorrow It's A Molded Salad

Fresh cranberry salads and relishes traditional for Thanksgiving, have come into their year-round identity. Each one is a natural mate for meat . . . whether the fare is broiled steak, tender slices of canned ham or juicy hamburgers.

There's something about the tart flavor of cranberries that belongs with meat. And what variety! Serve crispy relishes beside meat one night, then quickly turn leftover portion into a jellied salad for the next meal. Small amounts of leftover relishes can be mixed together. If you have a portion of two kinds left over, mix together to make a jellied salad.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

4 cups (1-pound) fresh cranberries
2 oranges, quartered and seeds removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and oranges (including rind) through coarse blade of food chopper. Stir in sugar. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator for flavors to blend. Makes about 1 quart.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH SALAD

1 package your favorite red gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups cranberry orange relish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in Cranberry Orange Relish. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds and chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on lettuce.

CRANBERRY FRUITY RELISH

4 cups (1-lb.) fresh cranberries
1 lemon, seeded and quartered
2 oranges, rind removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and lemon (including rind) through food-chopper. Dice orange pulp. Mix with other fruit. Add sugar. Stir and chill thoroughly for flavors to blend. Serve in notched orange shells.

CRANBERRY FRUIT RELISH SALAD

1 package your favorite red gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups Cranberry Fruity Relish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in relish. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds. Chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on lettuce.

CRANBERRY RELISH SUPREME

2 cups (½ pound) fresh cranberries
½ orange (rind and pulp)
½ lemon (rind and pulp)
1 apple, cored
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup sugar

Put cranberries, orange, lemon and apple through food chopper. Mix thoroughly with walnuts and sugar. Chill for flavors to blend. Makes 2 cups.

CRANBERRY RELISH SUPREME SALAD

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups Cranberry Relish Supreme

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in Cranberry Relish Supreme. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds. Unmold on lettuce just before serving.

A carload of fresh fully cleaned Tom Turkeys. Norbest or Armour Star Grade A birds. Weight 14 to 22 lbs. A fresh bird always assures you of the finest eating with no extra cost. You'll like these broad-breasted beauties.

Fresh Killed Hen Turkeys . . . . . lb. 49¢

LET'S TALK TURKEY

Like every other item in our store—our turkeys were selected for you only after careful investigation. The result was that we found not one but two brands that topped them all. Then we queried customers that we knew had tried both turkeys previously. Their answers convinced us that only a personal taste preference (and evenly divided among you) was the difference. What to do? Only one thing according to the way we operate. We bought them both . . . you can't miss . . . the two finest turkeys on the market.

'SOME LIKE IT HOT' . . ." and for them this Turkey Ring Bake is a refreshing way to approach turkey leftovers. Even dyed-in-the-wool bone pickers will yield a cup of cubed turkey for this creation. It's made with a hot roll mix and seasonings in turkey tradition.

TIPS ON LEFTOVERS

After It's Over, Be Sure You Save Some For Turkey Ring

Almost as good, if not better, than the holiday dinner itself is the turkey meat left over. And, as they say in the old nursery rhyme, "Some like it hot, some like it cold, some like it in the pot nine days old."

Whether you like it cold for sandwiches or baked in a casserole, you do want to preserve all the juiciness and flavor of the meat. Best way to keep the turkey from drying out—and incidentally save storage space in your refrigerator—is to slice it off the bird as soon as it has cooled.

Wrapped and sealed in aluminum foil or plastic film, turkey will stay fresh and sweet in the refrigerator about a week—in the freezer for six to nine months. In dividing the leftovers into mealsize packages, earmark the nice, white slices for sandwiches, bits and pieces for creaming or baking in a casserole or turkey pie.

There are so many good recipes for using leftover turkey that you may not have enough to try them all, but be sure to save one cup of cubes for this new favorite of ours, Turkey Ring Bake.

It's a main-dish bread made with hot roll mix that's full of turkey, onion, celery and pimiento bits and flavored with poultry seasoning. Served hot with a savory sour cream sauce, it's almost better than turkey 'n' dressing!

TURKEY RING BAKE

1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup hot water
1 package Hot Roll Mix Roll Mix
2 unbeaten eggs
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon sage
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup diced turkey
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Dissolve bouillon cube in water in large mixing bowl. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast from Mix over lukewarm bouillon. Stir to dissolve. Blend in eggs. Add Mix, and remaining ingredients. Stir to blend; beat hard with wooden spoon 50 strokes. Spread batter in well-greased 9-inch ring mold, or 9-inch square pan.

Let rise in warm place (85° to 90° F.) until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (375°) 30 to 35 minutes until deep golden brown. Turn out of pan immediately. Serve warm with creamed vegetables or your choice of sauce.

CHICKEN OR MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 can condensed Cream of Chicken Soup or 1 can condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup
1 cup commercial sour cream

Combine soup with sour cream. Heat just to boiling.

Snack Tray

Fresh fall fruits combine easily with a wide variety of popular foods to make handsome snack trays. Team bright rosy apples, tangy grapes, or juicy pears with mild nut-like Gouda cheese and crackers, tiny rolls, sugared doughnuts, or fruit cake slices.

Place rosy red Gouda in the center tray and surround it with the other foods, "as is," or cut into portion size pieces for easy nibbling.

Ever tried serving wedges of mild, nut-like flavored cheese with a spicy baked apple?

Old Favorite Vegetables Need Special Holiday Care

Holiday menus call for vegetables on their very best behaviour (like the small fry who must eat theirs or else . . .). The oldtime favorites like peas and brussels sprouts warm to a dash of this and that—mushrooms, for instance.

For broccoli, try combining it with garlic-fried croutons. Cauliflower warms under a Cardamom Sauce (your favorite smooth cheese sauce seasoned with an unusual spice.

Here are some to spark your imagination:

CREAMED PEAS WITH MUSHROOMS

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, boiling water, salt, 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 can (3 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms (drained), ⅛ teaspoon white pepper.

Method: Cook peas according to package directions, using the amount of water and salt called for; drain. Meanwhile melt butter over low heat in saucepan; stir in flour; add milk and cook and stir constantly until thickened; continue to cook and stir a few minutes. Add drained peas and mushrooms, ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper. Reheat, stirring a few times. Makes 4 servings.

TOP-HAT BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) frozen brussels sprouts, boiling water, salt, 3 tablespoons heavy cream, 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: Cook sprouts according to package directions using the amount of water and salt called for. Drain thoroughly. Beat cream until stiff; fold in grated cheese. Arrange sprouts in shallow small baking dish—a shirred egg dish is fine. Quickly spoon blobs of the cheese mixture over top of sprouts; spread lightly. Broil close to high heat for a few seconds—just long enough to brown topping. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

GREEN PEAS AND SCALLIONS

Ingredients: 6 scallons (green onions), 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, salt, pepper.

Method: Cut root ends from scallions and any frayed green leaf tips; keep as much of the green part as possible. Slice scallions in thin crosswise slanty pieces. Melt butter in 8-inch skillet over low heat; add scallions and cook, stirring often, until wilted — about 5 minutes. Cook peas according to package directions; drain. Add scallions and salt and pepper to taste; reheat if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

Have Pumpkin Without A Pie

Good things to do with pumpkin besides put it in pie!

NEW ENGLAND PUMPKIN CUSTARD

Ingredients: 3 eggs, ¾ cup canned pumpkin, ½ cup maple syrup, 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 cups milk (scalded).

Method: Beat eggs enough to blend yolks and whites. Add pumpkin, maple syrup, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg; stir well. Add scalded milk, beating in gently as you do so. Pour into custard cups. Place in shallow baking pan of hot water; have water come up nearly to tops of custard cups. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until a silver knife inserted near center comes out clean. Remove from water; cool. Makes 6 servings.

Ever add nutmeats (walnuts, pecans or almonds) to a salad of chicken, celery and mayonnaise?

Sea Shells From Pasta Land Lavished With Meaty Sauce

In Italy (and in its American counterparts) spaghetti is just one of some 33 forms of pasta. A change of texture creates a new dish, and if you don't believe it, experiment with some of the others.

One of the most delightful to roll over the tongue is the sea shell, which takes to all kinds of sauces.

In Italy there are also many kinds of sauces, some as quick as others are slow. This is a 30-minute Americanized version which calls for ingredients which are almost always on the pantry shelf.

SEA SHELLS IN CHOPPED BEEF SAUCE

1 lb. package of sea shells (a macaroni variety)
1 lb. ground beef
3 tbsp. melted butter
1 No. 2½ can of whole tomatoes
1 large onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 can tomato paste
1½ tbsp. Worchestershire sauce

Add beef, salt, onion and green pepper to butter, cook until meat is browned, stirring constantly. Add tomatoes, tomato paste and Worchestershire sauce, simmer one-half hour. Cook shells in 3 quarts of boiling, salted water for 9 minutes. Drain.

Place cooked shells on serving platter and cover with sauce. Serves 6.

'LAST ROUNDUP' was the theme for the recent luncheon of the Mill Valley Tennis Club when new officers were installed. Mrs. Warren Hodgdon is the outgoing president. Left to right are Mesdames Leroy Waigand, tennis co-chairman; Jack Murphy, social chairman, and Rutherford Gilfillian, treasurer.

Mill Valley Tennis Club Seats Officers

"Last Roundup" was the theme for the Mill Valley Tennis Club's recent November luncheon, when outgoing officers gave their reports, and Mrs. Warren Hodgdon turned over the gavel to Mrs. Jack Younger.

Adding a western touch to the gay '90's decor from the old time melodrama staged last week by the club was the buffet table decorated like a chuck wagon by Mrs. Gene Marker and Mrs. Lloyd Larson.

Other new officers introduced by Mrs. Younger were Mesdames A. M. Donnan, Jr., secretary; Rutherford Gilfillan, treasurer; Jack Murphy, social chairman; Leroy Waigand and John K. Bloom, tennis; William Breeze, junior tennis; R. B. Earl, swimming; E. M. Tobin and Jack Hughes, teen-age activities; Lloyd Larson and Martin Long, hospitality;

Donald Gallagher, and A. H. Harwood, junior activities (seventh and eighth grades); Richard Clarke and L. M. Douglas, junior activities (fifth and sixth grades); and John Kane and William Everts, telephone.

Officers elected by the men of the club the previous week were Messrs. Lloyd Postel, president; Kenneth Rall, vice president; Melvin Klyce, secretary; and S. A. Johnson, Russell Mills, Robert Saxton and Ervin Vickers, board of directors.

Guests of honor at the luncheon were two new members, Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Robert Bullock.

In appreciation of her work as social chairman and acting women's activities chairman for the year, Mrs. Hodgdon was presented with a cut crystal vase and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Waigand made the presentation.

Mrs. Marker, who with her husband manages the club, also received a gift in appreciation of her year's work.

Report Cards Discussed By Dr. Barnard

Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, director of elementary instruction for the San Rafael City Schools, was the featured speaker at the meeting of the Oliver Hartzell School Thursday. Her talk was entitled "New Dimensions in Grading," and she explained to the audience new report cards in which all children from first through sixth grades are marked A. B. C. D. and U. She stressed the point that only those children who produce outstanding and superior results and exceed the expectation for the class as a whole, will rate an "A" mark. She pointed out that the great majority would be in the "C" category, which is normal and average, and a very respectable grade. After a question and answer period, she closed her remarks with the reading of two heart warming and amusing pieces by Alan Beck, entitled "What is a Boy" and "What is a Girl."

During the business portion of the meeting, Mrs. Robert Oliver, membership chairman, gave a report on the P-TA membership drive, and Mrs. Carl Nelson told of the recent successful rummage sale and hot dog sale.

Dwight Manning, principal, exhibited a drawing of the proposed landscaping design for the school, and also reported on the KQED educational television program which the fourth, fifth and sixth grades were viewing.

Music Teachers Entertained In McKenzie Home

Marin County Branch of Music Teachers' Assn. of California met Monday evening at the home of Miss Barbara McKenzie, in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Charles Meacham, vice president, presided in place of Mrs. John Gottschalk who was unable to attend. After a short business meeting the guest artist, Miss Claire James of San Francisco, a pianist, was introduced by the program chairman, Miss McKenzie.

Miss James played numbers from the three "B's": J. S. Bach's last prelude, Ludwig von Beethoven's variations on the Eroica Symphony theme and two ballads of Johannes Brahms.

Staff Seated By Gold Star Mothers Unit

Mrs. Grace Barry served in the dual capacity of hostess and installing officer recently when the Gold Star Mothers met at her home in Ross for their annual installation ceremony.

Installed were Mesdames Ethel Jordan, president; Henry R. Sanborn, first vice president; George T. Carpenter, second vice president; Victor W. Jones, recording secretary; Estelle Bassett, corresponding secretary; Barry, treasurer; Sarah Allen, chaplain; Henrietta von Staden, sergeant-at-arms; William C. Anderson, color bearer; Bassett, custodian of records.

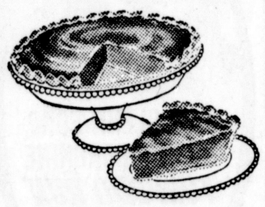

After the new officers had been seated, the outgoing president, Mrs. Marie Westlund, was presented with her past president's pin and thanked for her service to the organization by Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Anderson presented Mrs. Westlund with a black faille jewel-clasped evening bag, a gift from the chapter.

Mrs. Jordan brings to the group a wealth of organizational experience, having served as president of the local chapter once before, as president of the Arlington, Va., chapter, and she is a leader in the American Legion Auxiliary.

First on the list of her projects for the ensuing year will be participation in the Christmas party for veterans at Yountville when the Mothers will assist San Anselmo unit of the American Legion Auxiliary in preparing gifts.

DOUBLE RING

William Hicks Claims Bride In Minden, Nev., Ceremony

In a recent double ring ceremony at Minden, Nev., Diane L. McPhail of West Walker, Calif., became the bride of William Arthur Hicks of San Anselmo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McPhail of the Rancho Jan Karlos on the West Walker River, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. C. Hurt of San Anselmo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of ice blue mousseline de soie fashioned with heart shaped neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. A matching veil was attached to a blue velvet bandeau.

Mrs. Vernon E. Johnson of West Walker, as matron of honor, was gowned in a royal blue silk boucle Empire gown.

Helen Ann Hicks of San Anselmo, the bridegroom's sister, wore a white lace sheath dress.

Vernon E. Johnson of West Walker, was best man and Donald McPhail, the bride's brother, of West Walker, was an usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McPhail wore an aqua blue taffeta dress and the bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue silk faille dress.

After the ceremony, a wedding party was held at the Round House in Carson City, Nev.

The bride is a graduate of Glendale High School and has a brother, Donald, and twin brother and sister, Larry and Linda of West Walker.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. He served with the U.S. Marine Corps and is now employed by the state in West Walker.

Helen is the bridegroom's only sister and his maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Leonardi of San Rafael.

After a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the couple will take up their residence in West Walker.

Mrs. James Ridgway and son, Jaret, of San Rafael, an aunt of the bridegroom, accompanied the Hurts to Minden for the ceremony.

Original Fashions To Be Presented At Benefit Affair

Lovely models, a new banquet room, and a buffet dinner will add to the gala preparations being made by the Junior Social Service Auxiliary for its Evening Fashion show to be held on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera.

Guests will enjoy cocktails and a buffet dinner while viewing original fashion designs by Elisabeth Vincent of San Francisco. Professional models from the Coronet Modeling Studio in San Francisco will display the clothes.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Muzinich, preparations are well on the way to completion. Proceeds gained from the benefit will go toward aiding the Social Service Welfare Agency's medical plan for under-privileged families.

'OLDE ORPHEUM DAZE' TITLE OF SAUSALITO CLUB COMEDY

"Olde Orpheum Daze" with a definite nostalgic element of melodrama and comedy, is the name chosen for the annual December show of the Sausalito Woman's Club. It will be a "for fun" production put on by the members of the Club with the assistance of the husbands.

Because of the limited seating capacity of the clubhouse the committee will produce the show on two nights, Friday and Saturday night, Dec. 5 and 6.

The show committee is headed by Mrs. Sylvester McAtee, a veteran of theatrical productions. She is assisted by Mesdames Leonard Wood, Fred Tetzlaff and David Christian on the directing end of the production; Nathan Smith and Fredrik Waiss doing the choreography, and Justin Day, the scenery.

Mrs. Harold Fletcher is the musical director and Mrs. Frank Rossman is general assistant to Mrs. McAtee.

Among those who are taking part are Mesdames Ronald Mackenzie, John Ward and Jerome Adams, and Messrs. James Sweet, Robert O'Leary, John Ehlen, Raymond White, Rupert Kempf, John Ward and Jerome Adams.

Guest artists on the show will be Mrs. William Gurr of San Francisco and Mrs. Natale Andreotti of Sausalito.

Mesdames Ernest King, Henry Douglas and John Stickney are in charge of the refreshments for the two nights of fun.

Guests will enjoy dancing on both evenings after the "Daze" is over and the performances on both nights will be open to the public.

Fashion Show Precedes Tea Of NCO Wives

With organ music by Mrs. Jack Kane, nine Hamilton Air Force Base Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives showed the "Fabulous collection of world renowned and acclaimed fashion designeds," at the Tuesday welcome tea held at the NCO Club on the base.

Mrs. Henry Hanson gave a commentary on the combinations of "fashions." The eight present, including special guests from the Travis NCO Wives Club, viewed what to wear for every occasion.

Models were Mesdames Robert Mack, Bill Halloman, Warren K. Sloan, Walter Zahorenko, Perry Baldwin, Walter R. Anasoff, Carl Reinhardt, Francis Halloran and Howard Hall.

Chairman of the show was Mrs. Robert Shaw, whose committee included Mrs. Anasoff, Mrs. Halloran and Mrs. Peter Eyerman, who, with Mrs. Shaw, composed the script.

Prior to the "Fashions," tea and refreshments were served by Mrs. Everett Griffin and her committee of Mesdames George Parker, A. B. Burdett, John Lyons and Paul Butler. Mrs. Vernon W. Wangerin was hostess chairman.

A beautiful red and gold center piece for the serving table was arranged by Mrs. Reinhardt.

Robert J. Dunphys Hosts At Buffet

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunphy of Kentfield were hosts at a recent buffet supper and family gathering for 25 guests honoring the arrival of their daughter-in-law and grandchildren, Mrs. Robert F. Dunphy and Joyce, Terry and Robert from the Philippine Islands.

Their son, Robert, is stationed with the U.S. Navy in Japan, and will arrive home before Christmas. The family has recently moved into a new home in Novato.

There is an easier way of measuring than packing it into a measuring cup. If you need ½ cup of shortening, fill a 1 cup measuring utensil with ½ cup of cold water; then drop in enough shortening to bring the water up to the 1 cup measurement. Pour out the water, and you're all set.

Variety Keynotes Toastmistress, Dinner Program

Variety was the keynote in the speeches given at the pre-Thanksgiving dinner of members and guests of Marin Toastmistress Club 651 on Thursday evening at the Kent Woodlands Restaurant in Kentfield.

In keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit, topic mistress, Mrs. Muriel Brown, took as her subject, "What I Am Thankful For," and then each member spoke on this theme for one minute, running the gamut from the immediate family dishwasher to the international thought of freedom of the world. Mrs. Brown then ended her talk with a prayer.

In the five to seven-minute speeches a greaty variety was shown with Mrs. Marian Allen talking on, "A Man's World"; Mrs. Freda Preston on, "Time Enough Yet"; Mrs. Virginia Hotchkin on, "Step-Mothers Handibook' and Mrs. Jean Hansen on, "Toastmistress Training." Evaluators for the speeches were Mesdames Ruth Goodreau, Rose Paul and Caroline Hagel with Mrs. Emily O'Dell Riley as general evaluator for the entire program. Toastmistress for the event was Mrs. Minnie Warren. Mrs. Hortense Buck presided.

The next meeting to be held on Dec. 11 will have as its theme "Christmas," and anyone interested in attending as a guest may contact Mrs. Buck.

Assn. Fetes Mrs. Larsen In Novato

The Primary Assn. of the Novato Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints recently held a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Dauglas H. Larsen. Mrs. Larsen has served as president of the Primary Assn. during the past year.

Hostess for the luncheon in her Raposa Vista home in Novato was Mrs. Stuart D. Nas.

The luncheon tables were covered with multi-colored cloths centered with wicker cornucopias filled with autumn flowers. Following the luncheon Mrs. Larsen was presented with a tribute by Mrs. Dean Caldwell, the new president of the Primary, as well as with a gift of a wall clock by all the officers and teachers of the group.

Mrs. Larsen has been called to serve on the San Francisco state Primary board of the church and will be in a position of training teachers for the various wards and branches of the church in the San Francisco area.

Assisting Mrs. Caldwell in the Novato branch presidency are Mrs. Gordon Yurth, first counsellor, and Mrs. Jack Lewis, second counsellor.

Light Opera Group Will Give Operetta

A concert version of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial by Jury," will be given at a dinner meeting later this month by the Mill Valley Light Opera Company at the Tiburon Recreation Center.

The date for the affair will be announced later.

Stanley Brooks, president, announces that Mr. and Mrs. Barry Mineah will be in charge of this first meeting of the season for members and guests and that the operetta, produced several years ago, is being repeated by request as entertainment for the evening.

Turkey Whist Party

The public is invited to a turkey whist party to be given tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Odd Fellows Hall, Mill Valley, by the Tamalpais Circle of Druids.

The regular monthly Salad Bowl Luncheon will also be on Tuesday at the Odd Fellows Hall with luncheon served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Mt. Carmel Club Plans Yule Sales

The Mill Valley Mt. Carmel Women's Club's annual pre-Christmas Needlecraft and Food Sale will be held on Dec. 5 through 8, according to Mrs. Michael Jackowski, needlecraft chairman.

In the lower meeting hall of the Mt. Carmel School, food will be sold from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 5 and 6 only, whereas needlework will be on sale during the same period and on Dec. 7 and 8 after each Mass.

The food sale will offer tempting hot dishes, salads and casseroles, as well as homemade pies, cakes, rolls and cookies.

Needlework items range from Christmas novelties, such as stockings, stuffed toys, children's decorative toss pillows to embroidered pillow slips, aprons, dishtowels and doll clothes.

Featured will be flannel pajamas for both girls and boys and flannel shirts.

Committee members for the sale are Mesdames Edgar Hensley, George Beckstrand, Frances Ferrario, A. J. Almada, J. C. Traugh, Joseph Hannery, William Boitano, J. J. Rasella, Arthur Borden, Frank Martinez and Miss Flora Bartell.

INTERNATIONAL

Foreign Songs And Dances Program At OWC Luncheon

At the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club recent November luncheon, Mrs. John Ficicchy, general chairman for the hostess group, the 78th Hospital, opened the program by saying, "We felt it would be appropriate to give a program on an international theme because many of us have been guests in foreign countries."

Carrying out the international theme at the luncheon tables were dolls from all over the world where Hamilton families have been stationed. In addition to travel posters on the stage, tiny flags of all the world's countries and multicolored confetti completed the colorful table decorations.

Mrs. Ficicchy introduced Mrs. Sam A. Mehling, who, in a authentic Japanese kimona did a festival dance and an ancient Hawaiian hula in a rustling hula skirt accompanying herself with a pair of bright feathered gourds.

Second on the "Music and Dance Festival" program was Mrs. Lizette Appe, a member of the International Institute of Oakland who sang German folk songs. She accompanied herself on a zither which is nearly 200 years old. Her native costume, which she wore is found in the Black Forest area of Germany, Mrs. Appe explained.

Third entertainer was tiny Kathleen Sweeney who did two Scottish numbers—soft shoe and clog—dressed in a costume symbolic of the dancing school in Dublin, Ireland, which she attended—the Cadwell School of Dance. Her bright green fitted waist length jacket was set off by her white pleated shirt. Her costume was made by her 19 year old sister and the embroidery, symbolic of ancient Keltic art of entertwined snakes, was done by her mother.

Woodwardia Celebrates At Annual Dinner

Woodwardia Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, held its annual dinner at Rickey's Rancho Rafael Saturday night, celebrating its 53rd year as a fraternal insurance organization.

Mrs. Frank Mattos was chairman and Mrs. Harry Cahill co-chairman; Raymond Duffy, master of ceremonies. Others on the committee were Mrs. E. C. Berg (guardian neighbor), Mesdames Joseph Codoni, Annie B. Curry, Adah Kane, Raymond Duffy, and Dr. C. B. Musante.

The banquet room at Rickey's was a perfect setting for the festivities. Highlight of the decorations was the ornamented cake in the center of the horseshoe-shaped table.

The master of ceremonies called on several dignitaries for a few remarks. Honored guest was Mrs. Eugene Smith, only living charter member of the circle.

Young Arthur "Butch" Woods, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Azevedo, entertained with several accordion solos and also played for community singing.

Group Seeks Items For Auction

Articles are being solicited for the silent auction which the LARCS are planning for Saturday, Nov. 29 from noon until 3 p.m. at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. A great many items have already been donated including several pieces of enamel on copper jewelry and a modern black and white zebra striped vase.

The LARCS are the Ladies Auxiliary to the Recreation Center and have already sponsored one fund raising event, purchasing furniture for the main room at the Center from the proceeds. The group is planning a series of events to raise money for more furniture, to provide shower curtains and to make the clubhouse generally more attractive.

All women members of the Center are automatically members of the LARCS. At the present time there is no formal organization but, following the silent auction, permanent officers will be elected.

Mrs. Howard McGill and Mrs. Sam Mercer are co-chairmen for the auction. Committee chairmen are Mesdames John Del Mar, posters; Stanley Peterson and Alan Cundall, publicity; George Berticevich, refreshments and Thomas Stanton and Albert Hand, evaluation.

Brownie Troop Has Investiture

Brownie Troop 269 of Ross held an investiture ceremony recently at the home of Mrs. Wagner d'Alessio.

Shelley Parmalee, Joanne Stevenson, Judy Hooper and Terry Shistar were received into the troop. Two year pins were awarded to Joan Ammonette, Heidi Bortfeld, Mary Curro, Barbara d'Alessio, Rosalind Diller, Martha Jennings, Carol Nutting, Gayle Powell, Ravelle Prola, Ann Younger and Joan Goodman.

Pamela Skewes-Cox and Katherine Robyns received first year pins. Candy Holiday, a transfer from Australia, assisted Mrs. Joseph Prola, troop leader, in presenting the awards.

Ross School Plans Summer Program

A proposed summer activities program for Ross Grammar School students received unanimous approval of the Ross P-TA at a recent meeting and will be put into effect next July for a one-month period.

In order to present a sound working plan to the P-TA membership, Charles Doyle of Ross studied programs now in successful use by neighboring schools in Marin and also programs carried on in other public schools throughout the state.

Doyle was assisted by Mrs. Peter Pike, Dr. Chester Noyes, Crawford Green Jr., William Poole, Charles Fitch and Edward Rudloff.

Actual activities in which the children may participate will be determined by a professional director.

There are three ways of knowing whether a cake is well baked. The top surface should spring back, without leaving a dent, after being touched lightly. The cake should pull slightly away from the sides of the pan. A cake tester, inserted in the center, should come out clean.

Grape Festival Proceeds Told At Guild Tea

"It is with a feeling of gratitude and sincere appreciation that the Board of Directors of Sunny Hills announces the final outcome of the 1958 Grape Festival," stated Mrs. H. Wallace Hickman, president of the board of directors, at the final report tea held at Sunny Hills recently.

"The $30,000 we took in is the most money we have collected in the 59 years of the Grape Festival's existence. This is the culmination of a year's concentrated efforts on the part of our guilds, Junior Auxiliary, and additional wonderful help from Marin County community groups."

Mrs. Walter Zwieg, this year's Grape Festival chairman, was given a standing ovation.

Old Mill P-TA Hears Talk By Robert McConnell

Addressing a meeting of the Old Mill P-TA Tuesday, Robert McConnell, superintendent of the Mill Valley School District, declared that "Lack of foresight and planning plus piecemeal solutions result in higher tax bills."

McConnell, speaking on "How To Reduce Taxes," said that utimate savings to the taxpayers can be achieved by citizens giving more attention to local government, admitting that no individual can be expected to attend all meetings but can work through groups.

McConnell advocated four steps as a part of tax control. They are:

1. Acquisition of properties when the need is well established by a far-sighted community.
2. Equitable assessment practices and broadening of the tax base through encouragement of desirable industry and commercial enterprises.
3. Maintenance of and improvement of an attractive community for industry and commercial enterprises.
4. Freedom for government (at all levels) to use modern business methods without criticism of initial expenditures, such as long overdue installation of modern machines.

Education Topic For Homestead P-TA Panelists

Values of the society that supports it are reflected in public education—this was the concensus of the panel members who discussed the philosophy of education as the program for the recent Homestead P-TA meeting.

Winners of the essay contest for parents on the purposes and methods of education, Mrs. Ed Radenzel and Peter Pell, were two members of the panel, and others were Thurston Womack, associate professor of languages at San Francisco State College; Rex Allen, architect and past chairman of the Mill Valley Education Council, and Mrs. Milan Dempster, Homestead School teacher. Moderator was Warren Jacobs.

In the business meeting preceding the discussion Mrs. James Behr, P-TA president, introduced the board, and the budget submitted by the treasurer, Mrs. George Collins, was approved.

Santa's Skirt To Aid Humane Society Fund

"Santa's Skirt" is the holiday fund-raising idea of Mrs. James Lysle of Kent Woodlands, who has donated a handsome white felt tree-skirt (to put under the Christmas tree with the presents), which she has made and decorated.

Mrs. Lysle, who is a new member of the Humane Society Auxiliary, will donate the proceeds from her award project to the auxiliary's fund for the Humane Society of Marin.

The unusual Christmas tree skirt will be on display at the First National Bank in San Rafael on Nov. 25, 26 and 28. The Kentfield branch of the First National Bank will have the Christmas tree skirt on view on Dec. 2, 3 and 4; and the decorative felt tree-skirt may be seen at the Belvedere-Tiburon Branch of the First National Bank, on the Boardwalk, Dec. 9, 10 and 11. At each First National Bank branch, Humane Society Auxiliary members will staff a booth where tickets may be obtained for the benefit holiday Santa's Skirt.

Assisting Mrs. Lysle with her fund-raising project for the Humane Society are auxiliary members, Mesdames Maurice Gale and Ray Hawley.

Tickets may be purchased from committee members staffing the "Santa's Skirt" at each of the First National Bank branches and from Mrs. Hawley of Fairfax.

The award winner of the Christmas tree skirt will be announced on Dec. 16 at the San Anselmo home of Miss Ethel Tompkins.

Yacht Auxiliary Elects Officers

Mrs. Colin J. Mason of Kentfield was named president of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club at a recent luncheon meeting at the Belvedere clubhouse.

Serving as vice president is Mrs. Emmet Rixford of Sausalito, Mrs. Sherman Peterson of Belvedere is secretary and Mrs. Robert Barth, also of Belvedere, treasurer. Members of the board of directors are the retiring president, Mrs. Robert Boat and Mesdames Chris Gasparich, Rex Brunsing and Tyler Seely.

Next activity for the Auxiliary is the holiday cocktail hour fashion show, Yuletide for Yachtsmen, which the Auxiliary has scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 13. Mrs. Rixford is chairman of the event. Clothes will be from the Modern Eve Shop, San Rafael, and shoes from Netboy's.

At Fitzharris Home

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cletus J. Fitzharris of San Rafael have been Mr. and Mrs. John Foster Collins and their children, Laurie, Kenny and Carole. Mr. Collins, who has been American consul in Singapore for the past few years and was formerly American representative in Thailand, is taking his family to Washington, D.C. where he has a two-year assignment. Mrs. Collins, a cousin of Mrs. Fitzharris, is the daughter of Dr. Ed Deming of Hartford, Conn. who visited with the Fitzharris family when he was making a 'round-the-world trip which concluded with a year with the Collins family in Singapore. Mrs. Collins' brother, Dr. Ed Deming Jr., a plastic surgeon and sculptor, came from Hartford for a visit with the Fitzharrises in April.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

This Is Farm-City Week To Remind You Of Agriculture

Farm-City Week, sponsored jointly by the Marin County Farm Bureau and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, is being observed this week here in Marin.

The rapid growth of subdivisions has rolled back the borders of our farm lands since World War II until we now tend to think of farming only as "something that used to be, but is no more."

The facts of the matter are quite different. Actually, dairy production in Marin has increased steadily in recent years. Last year it amounted to more than $11 million.

It is true that crops such as grapes, pears, walnuts, apples, peaches, apricots and prunes have nearly faded away. But our nursery and cut flower business has increased until it now exceeds a million dollars a year in Marin.

According to the annual report of County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam, Marin agricultural production last year also included:

Nearly $100 thousand worth of vegetables,

More than $200 thousand worth of field crops including hay and oats.

Nearly one million dollar's worth of beef cattle,

More than $300 thousand worth of lambs and wool, and

More than a quarter million dollar's worth of eggs and poultry.

Peryam's report also shows a steady gain in the value of agricultural products produced in Marin over the past five years, rising to a high of more than $14 million last year.

So agriculture is still with us here in Marin and production seems to climb despite declining farm acreages.

So it is appropriate for us to give recognition to the contribution of agriculture to the economy of our county.

Strangely enough, farm equipment, machinery and feed are NOT sold in our county seat. But this does NOT mean that our shopping districts don't benefit from agriculture.

Our farmers buy most of their drygoods right here in Marin. And their $14 million annual income represents quite a chunk of purchasing power.

When you see the dairy cows on display in front of the court house later this week, let them be more than curiosities. Let them be reminders of the importance of agriculture to Marin.

Spring Flowers In Marin Now

The narcissus, regarded as an early spring flower in most of the country, is blooming in November, as usual, in some parts of Marin.

These lovely, exquisitely fragrant lilies bloom through January in our benign climate. Their waxy blossoms, consisting of a colored cup surrounded by delicate white petals, are a delight to the eye. Their perfume is pervading and heady.

These attractive flowers have become the symbol of self-love. They bear the same name as the Narcissus who became so enamored with his own reflection in a pool that he fell in and drowned.

Marin seems ideally suited to their cultivation. They thrive here with a minimum of work and fretting. The flowers are beautiful. If they are in love with themselves, at least they have good reason.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

THE EARTHWORM'S CONTRIBUTION

Lowly earthworms perform an important service to mankind. They maintain productive soils by mixing organic material near the surface with the vital particles underlying it.

Scientists claim that earthworms in an acre of good ground can bring approximately 20 tons of buried soil to the surface each year.

Millions of them are found in an acre of good, rich soil. Quietly, but persistently, they dig their way through the earth, transporting small portions of it from one level to another and cementing together various soil particles. This produces a well-aerated and well-drained soil for both farmer and forester.

You will find countless testimonies in nature to the fabulous plan of the Creator. Whether it is the insignificant earthworm, an eagle soaring through the air, a whale in the depths of the seas, or the sun warming the earth, each reflects the glory and majesty of God.

Lift up your eyes on high, and see Who hath created these things." (Isaias 40:26)

Thanks to You, O bountiful Father, for the endless blessings of creation.

TV Demonstration One Of Best Fields For Glamour Girls Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't raise your daughter to be a pretty milkmaid.

If she's really pretty and can act, she can do much better as a television commercial actress, one of the girls who demonstrate everything from shampoos to refrigerators on the video screen.

This is the newest and most competitive of the glamour girl industries and one of the best paying.

"A good magazine model can make $10,000 to $15,000 a year," said Candy Jones, "but a top TV commercial actress now can earn $25,000 to $35,000 a year and up."

Candy, born Jessie Wilcox in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., is one of a comparative handful of ex-models who went on to carve a big niche in the business world.

A SLENDER and sprightly blonde with "Air Force blue" eyes, she came here in 1941 looking for a modeling job. She applied to Harry Conover, and his first verdict was she "wouldn't do."

But he did change her name from Jessie Wilcox to Candy Jones.

Her first week Candy earned $105, "a big figure in those days." She went on to become a top model, a Broadway performer, and finally Conover married this girl who "wouldn't do."

Today Miss Jones, still lovely and in her thirties, runs the million-dollar-a-year Conover Television Agency, directs the placements, and listens to the hopes and heartaches of a stable of 75 beautiful TV commercial actresses.

"THERE ARE only about 500 active in the field here in New York, compared to perhaps 1,500 photographic models," she said.

As a photographic model herself Candy in 1945 became perhaps the first to rate a fee of $30 an hour, a figure often eclipsed in the inflationary years since.

But few, if any, television commercial actresses have matched a record she set not too long ago.

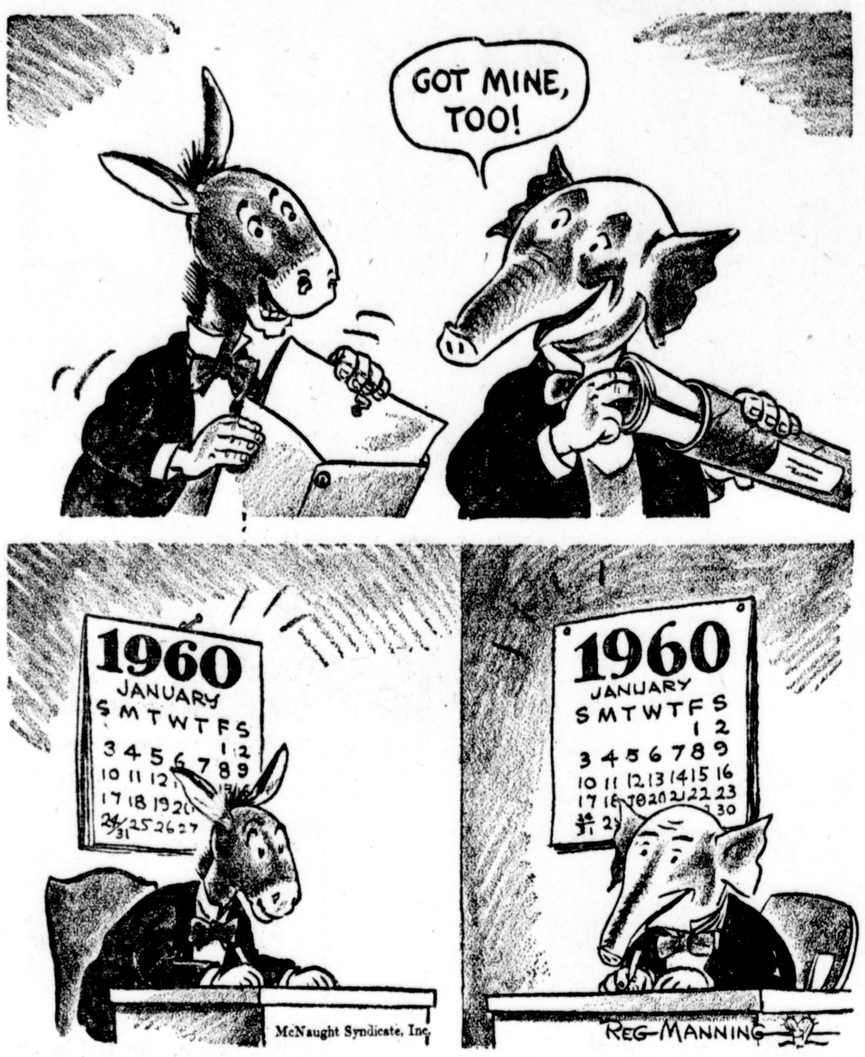

"I did six TV soap testimonial films in a single day," she recalled, "and the final pay, counting residuals, came to $24,000."

Just To Prove We're Not Square

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I enjoyed your editorial on cocktail party fare;
We'll really go to any lengths to prove we are no square.
We don't keep up witht he Joneses — we're too blase these days,
But WE are non-conformists, original in all way.
The greatest insult you can offer is not to say 'You're nuts!'
But 'You're a type!' — them's fighting words; ay! There's the knife that cuts!
We're struggling to free ourselves — there is no place to go,
We're trapped by explanations of ego, id and libido.
There'll be some doggone doctor with some sneaky little pill
To block the old escape route with the rule to be tranquil.
Batten down the hatches! Don't let them get away!
You no longer can 'go crazy' —you must find some other way.
So we eat chocolate covered ants; our clothes are Harper's Bizarre.
The Pioneers were rugged folk but we're more adventuresome by far!
Please excuse the ragged edges — this rhymy was writ in haste,
To put it in your column will no doubt be a waste;
But it's presented just in fun, I haven't meant to snipe.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I congratulate E. J. Dooley of San Rafael who was pictured in your paper photographing, rather than killing the small animals of Marin County. He is a true Marinite, one we are proud of and one we always want in our midst.

This "kill for bounty" order so recently issued, has, I feel sure, shocked the majority of long-time residents of Marin County. It is against everything we stand for and something, I hope, we will not tolerate.

Curb Other Things Not Just Animals

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Three rousing cheers for Hanna Blair of Sausalito and her letter of Nov. 18 concerning the bounties on foxes, skunks and raccoons. My wife and I wish to add our cry of protest against this ridiculous, petty, cruel and dangerous program. It is so completely unnecessary and directs incentive almost one hundred per cent toward those least qualified to carry it out, the juvenile hunter.

If the energy, thought and planning that officials find time to put into "boondoggles" like this one were directed toward anti-litter, safe and courteous driving, curbing infantile juveniles or some other of the many things that really NEED doing, Marin County might again become the delightful place we so fondly remember it was many years ago.

Will Gasoline Be Next Item On Which State Will Fix Prices?

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The question of whether the state legislature will extend the price-fixing authority to include gasoline during the 1959 session is a good one to ask at the present time. Hearings on the subject will be conducted by the Democratic assemblyman from Sacramento county, Thomas J. MacBride.

Already, the State of California fixes the prices of milk in various marketing areas, the result of which is the creation of a milk trust, and the abandonment of private enterprise in the milk industry.

The state also requires liquor prices to be posted, and imposes penalties if retailers are caught having a sale at prices below those filed with the state director of alcoholic beverage control.

MacBRIDE IS chairman of the Assembly Interim Judiciary Sub-committee On Marketing and Trade Practices. He has announced he will hold hearing with his committee in Sacramento Monday and Tuesday.

Evidence regarding the establishment of marketing areas, and the requirement that all gas of the same manufacture and quality be sold to retail dealers at the same wholesale price in the same marketing area will be taken by the committee.

This type of testimony, of course, is merely leading up to establishment of another set of bureaucrats, who would work somewhat on the same lines as the liquor administrator, which would be watching the wholesalers to assure that none of them cut prices.

THE COMMITTEE also will seek to determine whether practices of gasoline and oil suppliers are actually a cause of gas wars and whether the consumer public and service station dealers are ultimately prejudiced by the price wars.

Retail gas dealers appear to be the complaintants, as MacBride says they have charged the oil industry with using unfair and discriminatory marketing practices to control gasoline prices and the activities of retail gasoline dealers.

The gas buying public usually isn't hurt when prices drop due to competition. The injury occurs when the industry gets the state to fix prices.

Gerald W. Johnson suggests in his new book, Peril and Promise, that "you might be interested to discover who was the most successful of all our Presidents, measured by the ability to do everything he promised. It was James K. Polk!"

Polk promised that if he were elected, he would acquire California, settle the Oregon dispute, lower the tariff, establish a subtreasury, and retire at the end of his first term. He was elected in 1845 — and accomplished every one of his five major aims! No one has ever approached that record.

Joe E. Lewis, nightclub entertainer supreme, vows he'll never drink another drop of whisky. (That'll be the day!) "I've switched to carrot juice," explains Joe. "I get just as loaded, but I see better."

Way Sausalito Picks New Police Chief May Set Personnel Policy

Next week, the Sausalito city council is scheduled to make a decision on whether it will hold a competitive examination leading to the selection of a chief of police to take over when Lou Mountanos becomes sheriff.

City Manager Don Duerr has suggested a series of qualifications as to maximum age, minimum education, practical background and so on which Councilman George Keeney and some citizens object to, contending that it should be filled by promotion from the ranks.

Duerr points out that any present member of the department with three or more years service in any rank is eligible for the test, where an outsider would need at least five years police experience, at least three as sergeant, to qualify. Keeney feels that it is not a matter of qualifying for an examination, but rather one of being considered on a basis of experience and knowledge of the man.

The outcome of these two schools of thought may well determine the future of Sausalito's personnel policies.

WE WERE UNHAPPY to learn that Mill Valley taximan Bob Robertson was laid low last week after a freak accident near Truckee. Bob was thrown through the windshield of a car in which he was a passenger, being cut to the point where he required considerable plasma to recover.

At the time, he and Bill Wood were investigating sources of mistletoe to be sold by "Project 17" members during the holidays.

Bob is now at home and expects to be around in a few days.

AT SAUSALITO Rotary Club luncheon last week, when visiting Rotarians were asked to rise and identify their classification, Edward F. Healey of San Rafael announced his classification as "delivery service."

He is Dr. Healey, obstetrician.

IN THE NAME Dropper Dept., we note that Calvin Kentfield, one of the mainstays of the new publication "Contact," is a very fixed resident of Sausalito.

AS LAST WEEK'S annual Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting approached what many guests hoped would be the conclusion, new President Don Geddes asked for comments from the floor.

A number arose to get things off their chest and guests became restless.

When a speaker finished and sat down, Don was about to adjourn the meeting. Up popped Walt Filippi of the Elroy Garage. When Don recognized him, Walt said: "I'm not talking. My wife and I are merely leaving to relieve the baby sitter."

End of meeting.

EQUIPMENT WHICH cities can acquire for little cost on the premise that it will be used for civil defense work resulted in Sausalito getting a mighty serviceable pickup truck for $88.50. That's really a pickup!

WALTER LIPPMANN

Public Spending For Concentrated Population Is Big Problem For Us

What is this tide which has brought in both Nelson Rockefeller and a great Democratic majority? It is propelled, I believe, by the growing conviction that our public needs are not being adequately met.

We have become in large part a mass society living in congested urban agglomerations. One half of our people live in metropolitan areas; in the six Northeastern states four-fifths of the people live close together in such metropolitan areas.

This is not the only reason, but it is an important and a sufficient reason, why the country today is compelled to spend on civilian projects more public money than it used to spend.

OUT IN THE COUNTRY or even in small villages, the individual can do many things for himself which in the city must be done by public enterprise.

When a community grows from, let us say, 10,000 inhabitants to 100,000, the cost of the public services required is bound to go up more than ten times. For the larger community requires extensive facilities—as, for example, wider roads and underpasses — which the small town does not have to have at all.

BECAUSE OF the great cost of the second World War and the large cost of the cold war, this country, which is a very different country from what it was 20 years ago, is in a predicament. It is rich in the things that money can buy and it is, speaking comparatively, poor in the services and the facilities that private enterprise cannot supply.

From now on, barring a great war, our internal policies will be dominated, we may be reasonably certain, by this predicament.

In it lies the real problem of "spending." The problem is whether the productivity of our economy can be increased so that public spending can be increased without forcing a decrease in private spending, perhaps even while permitting an increase in private spending. This will be the subject of a great debate in the years ahead of us.

There are, no doubt, many different conclusions to be drawn from all this. But the first conclusion I would draw is that the President should look not only at his $80,000,000,000 budget and its $12,000,000,000 deficit. He should look also at the problem of the economy which is still running below capacity.

AND LAST but not least, he should look squarely at the vast complex of difficulties which are being caused by the lag in our public services, and at the human strain to which this lag subjects our people.

The future, which he must face for another two years, will be greatly concerned with this lag. It will be concerned with the lag in the provision of schools and colleges, with the lag in hospitals and medical services, with the deficiency of highways and the backwardness of much of our transportation, and with city planning and slum clearance.

THE FUTURE will be concerned with the conservation and the development of our natural resources, with the water supply of large areas of the country, with the contamination of the air, and with many other consequences of the extraordinary growth of our population, its conglomeration in big urban masses, and with the shaking up of the people's habits due to the application of modern science.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Irving Links, manager of the Mill Valley Store of Albert's, Inc., was elevated to the presidency of Mill Valley chamber of commerce.

A 750-acre tract of the historic Olopali Rancho, just north of Novato on Highway 101, was purchased by the University of San Francisco. The property was to be used as a retreat for elderly Jesuit priests and a recreation center for the younger clergy.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is spending a third of a million dollars in Marin County to provide better service to the county's postwar population, Clifford Bartlett of San Rafael, PG and E North Bay division manager, announced.

Artist Group To Seek Mill Valley Art Center

A Mill Valley art center is the eventual goal of Artists-Associates, Mrs. A. J. Oehler announced today.

Mrs. Oehler is one of the group of seven artists and teachers who met informally Friday evening to consider ways of establishing such a center in El Paseo, after Mrs. Henry Foster, owner of the building, offered the room as a gallery.

Paintings and sculpture by these seven artists may be seen daily except Sunday from noon to 4:30 p.m. The public exhibit will remain until the end of the year.

Other professional members of the charter group are Arthur Palmer of Woodacre, Carlo Talliabu, Thomas and Marjorie Leighton of San Francisco, and John Moran and Viking Leon, of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Oehler, who has a national reputation as a painter, teacher and lecturer, also lives in Mill Valley. She acted as spokesman for the group.

"We feel that Mill Valley has the natural setting to become an art center like Carmel," she explained." There is much enthusiasm for the idea among many artists who have been contacted.

"Membership in the group will be by invitation, with final selection determined by acceptance of works judged by a panel of members. Participation will not necessarily be local since quality only will be the criterion for acceptance."

Artists-Associates will make further decisions at their next meeting on Dec. 3.

Hanna Boys Center To Note 9th Year

Four Marin residents are helping prepare for the ninth anniversary next month of Hanna Boys Center near Sonoma, a non-profit home for under-privileged boys at the Valley of the Moon.

Executive secretary of the "boys' town" is James E. Muldoon of Sausalito, a retired Army major who was formerly staff member at Boys' Town, Neb.

Other Marin representatives on the board of directors are Albert V. Martin of San Rafael, Roger P. Garety of San Rafael, assistant district attorney, and Frank M. Paganini of Ross.

About 125 boys will help observe the anniversary of its founding on Dec. 4. Chief Justice Earl Warren, then governor, dedicated the 180-acre site after ground-breaking ceremonies led by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen nine years ago.

Muldoon announced that progress this year included development of the academic school and ranching activities, and extensive expansion of the new trade school program to include training in electricity, carpentry, general mechanics, metals, and printing.

Rt. Rev. William L. O'Connor, director, expressed his appreciation to the many Marin residents who have contributed to Hanna Center's growth.

College Expands Guidance Service With High School

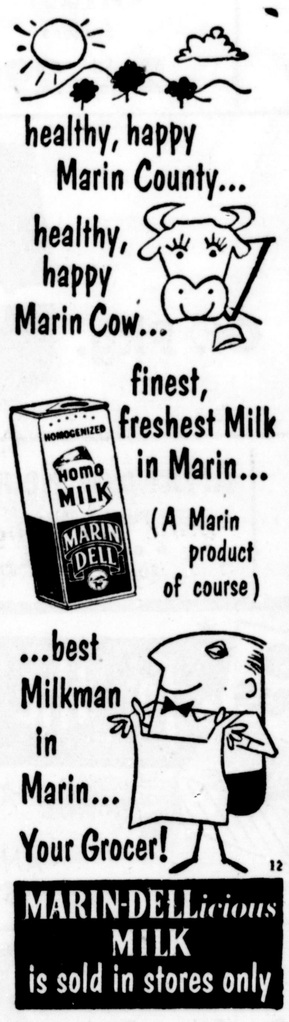

A classroom observer exchange between College of Marin and San Rafael High School for their English classes has started. Reports on the first period of observation will be made at a 1:30 p.m. meeting on Dec.. 4 at College of Marin.

Marin's nine high schools, both public and private schools, were represented at an initial session at College of Marin to discuss teaching of English at the high school and college levels.

In charge of the Dec. 4 meeting are Webster Wilson and John King of San Rafael High School and Cornelius Weber and Howell Breece of College of Marin.

Hospital Safety Film

A hospital fire safety film provided by the Marin County Fire Department will be shown to employees of Marin General Hospital tomorrow and Wednesday in connection with their continuing safety program.

Seminary Sets Organ Recital

Ludwig Altman, organist of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Temple Emanu-El and the Palace of the Legion of Honor, will be presented in a dedicatory recital by the Department of Sacred Music, San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, next Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

The recital will be held at Montgomery Chapel on the Seminary campus and will be in dedication of the rebuilding and enlarging by 600 pipes of the chapel organ.

Altman received his musical education at the University of Berlin and the State Academy for Church and School Music, Berlin. He is widely known in the music world.

He will present a program composed of excerpts from Bach's "Clavieruebung" and an historical survey of five centuries or organ music in 10 examples.

New Savings Stamp Sells At Post Office

A new 25-cent United States savings stamp, printed in red and blue, is now on sale at the San Rafael Post Office.

Postmaster Warren H. Williams suggested that $2.50 and $5 gift books of the new stamps, available at the post office, make excellent Christmas gifts.

Redevelopment Officers Lauded

F. Harry Logan, planning coordinator with the Oakland architectural firm of Reynolds and Chamberlain, told directors of the Marin City Community Services District Thursday night that "Marin City is blessed to have two dedicated men like Bert Klahn and Morton Schaffran to carry on your redevelopment program."

Klahn and Schaffran are executive director and deputy director, respectively, of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency.

Logan discussed possible availability of state funds for recreational purposes in the district and said that he would return in January to address a public meeting on the subject.

College Exchange Class Observers

Expansion of College of Marin's counseling and guidance services to Marin County adults was announced today by Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, director of adult education at the college.

As authorized by the board of trustees, the services will now include evaluation of occupational and scholastic aptitudes. Marin adults interested in this service may call the adult education department for appointment.

In cases where the counselor believes aptitude tests will be helpful, the applicant will bear the cost of administering and scoring such tests.

PRISONERS HELP YULE SEAL JOB

More than 30 San Quentin inmates helped the Marin County Chapter of the Tuberculosis Assn. recently by stuffing "mail-outs" for the annual Christmas Seal Drive. The association is mailing about 33,000 pleas —30,000 of which were processed by the prisoners. Shown working with the group is Ken J. Meade of the San Quentin education staff, who coordinated the effort. (San Quentin photo)

Tam Trustees Tell Goal If Tax Passes

The Tamalpais Union High School District board of trustees has spelled out improvements it hopes to make in district operations, provided the Feb. 17 tax election is successful.

If the $1.90 tax rate is approved the board said it would reinstate projects the loss of which "has seriously curtailed the program that can be offered students."

The board would:

1. Employ enough teachers to maintain present pupil-teacher ratios.
2. Increase funds for books and educational materials.
3. Upgrade teacher salaries.
4. Reinstate driver training courses.
5. Improve district maintenance programs.
6. Rebuild adequate financial reserves.
7. As funds permit, provide additional services.

The recommendation was originally presented to the board by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle with the section on upgrading of teachers' salaries heading the list of improvements. At the request of Trustee E. J. Thomas Jr. the teachers' salaries were placed in third place. The intention to rebuild financial reserves was suggested by W. B. Lewis.

NAMED TO ORCHESTRA—Noel Beard, Tamalpais High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Beard of Marin City, has been chosen Tam High's representative in the Northern California High School Orchestra, made up of outstanding players from high schools throughout the northern half of the state. The orchestra will play a concert at the University of California in Berkeley Dec. 6. Miss Beard is a violinist.

Bay Model Open On Thanksgiving

The Army Corps of Engineers' acre-sized model of San Francisco Bay in Sausalito will be open to the public Thanksgiving Day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Guides will explain the operation of the model to visitors and show films demonstrating the utility and operation of various hydraulic working models developed by the Corps of Engineers.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Here's Check List Of Things To Do Now

Here is a check list of some of the things that you should consider doing or taking action about now, before the first of the year if you want to get the most benefit from the rules of the tax service.

Watch for later columns in this newspaper. They will cover these and other items more fully.

BAD DEBTS

Bad debts: Be sure you can prove they are bad this year and claim the deduction.

Capital losses: If you have stock market losses, sell this year to take the loss. Warning —do not repurchase the same or similar stock until at least 31 days after the sale.

Contributions: Pay them to secure the deduction this year. Pledges are not deductible. They must be paid. You can take up to 30 per cent in some circumstances.

DEPENDENTS

Dependents: Be sure you can claim them. If you are not providing over one-half the cost of support, see if you can make an agreement with the others who are helping with the support.

Alimony: Separation payments may be deducted by the husband and included by the wife. You may want to catch up on these payments this year.

If your spouse died in 1956 or 1957, chances are you filed a joint return with her for that year. You can compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return for 1958 if you have not remarried and if you have a dependent child or stepchild. You may want to recheck your dependency credits on this.

BUSINESS SALES

Sales of your business equipment and business buildings: If you have a loss from such a sale you can carry the loss back for two years and forward for five years, or until it is offset by earnings. If you have a loss that you must take, go ahead and sell this year. You can take the loss against 1956 and 1957 income, and if that doesn't cover it all, you can carry it forward to 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Depreciation: You can depreciate new equipment, original in use with you, under several new systems which can produce a depreciation rate twice as fast as the old straight line method.

LOSSES, GAINS

Capital gains and losses: Consider offsetting short-term gains with long-term losses, etc.

Medical expenses: Pay them all this year to get the deduction.

If any of these apply to you, you should consult your accountant now, before the end of the year, to secure the utmost advantage from the beneficial provisions of the code.

Realtors To Have Hawaii Breakfast

3-School Book Fair To Benefit Library

A book fair to raise funds for a new library at Marinwood's Silveira School will be held Dec. 1 and 2, with a "preview party" from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Marinwood Home and School Club and Marinwood Garden Club.

A local author will be on hand at the preview party to autograph books, according to Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. DeKay, library committee co-chairmen. The party will also include refreshments and special book displays.

Any book in print can be ordered at the fair, said Mr. and Mrs. DeKay. The garden club, under Mrs. Henry E. Wramp, president, will offer a selection of books on home activities.

Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kiefer, presidents of the Home and School Club, and a committee of teachers.

Heading committees are: Mrs. Robert Pederson, refreshments; Mrs. Wramp, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. Turner May, orders and money; Mrs. Herbert Rikles, posters; Dan S. McIntire Jr., publicity; Mrs. George Martus, Mrs. William Yerby, Mrs. Barbara Gusmano and Mrs. Wilson Stackhouse.

Lowest in rank of military aides to the presidents of the United States was Maj. Archibald W. Butt. He served in that position for Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.

Firm Incorporates

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced Santa's Toys, Inc., a Marin County toy, novelty and stationery firm, has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $50,000 in $10 par shares. Directors of the company were listed as Henry and Zella Wolf, 49 Loring way, Mill Valley, and Reynold H. Colvin, San Francisco.

If Your Child Is Accident-Prone, Keep Close Tab On His Playing

All small children need watching. They've little sense of danger. They take chances. A few children have one accident after another. Let's look at "Sammy" and "Debby."

SAMMY

I watched small Sammy run full tilt into a concrete wall. He was showing his pals how fast he could run. He forgot the wall was there. Result? Two broken arms. He recovered. Then he climbed high in a tree. He jumped, to prove he was brave. Result? A broken leg. Now he's in a cast. His folks are wondering what next.

DEBBY

I saw Debby's father fish her out of a pool in a park. He saved her life, but he was angry over it. He explained that this was the third time Debby had leaned too far over the edge of that pool, and fallen in. "She just can't be careful," he said. "She makes me mad."

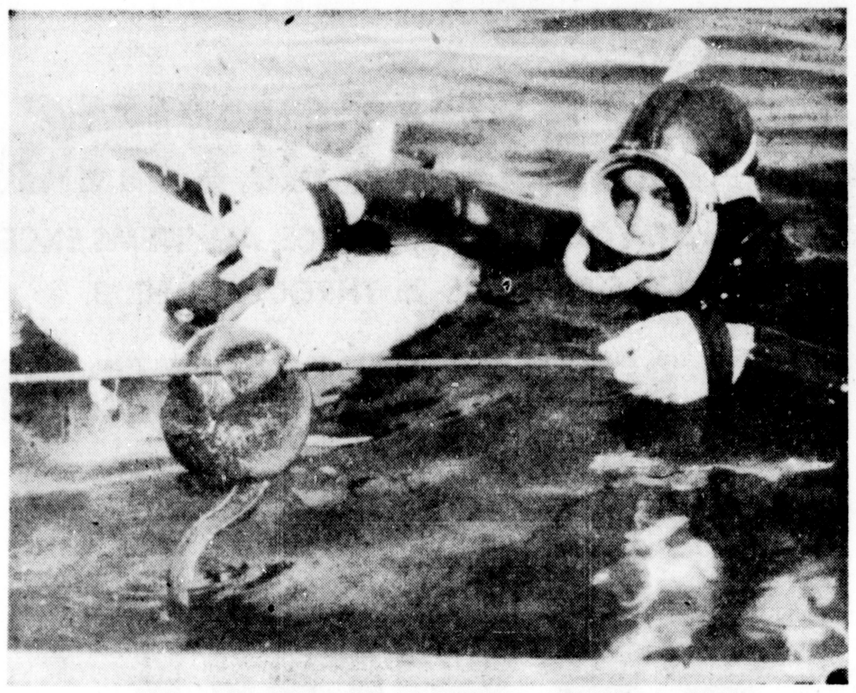

Do you have a child like Sammy or Debby? Some accident-prone youngsters have serious emotional problems. Subconsciously they may be trying to end it all. They need psychiatric help. But most of them are normal. They're vigorous, happy, active. They're a bit too helter-skelter. Their coordination and timing is a wee bit off. That's all.

What can you do with an accident-prone child? Supervise him very closely, and hope for the best. When he's tiny, watch him every minute. As he gets older, enforce safety rules rigidly. Probably when he reaches adolescence he'll stop having personal accidents. Then you can begin to relax. Good luck!

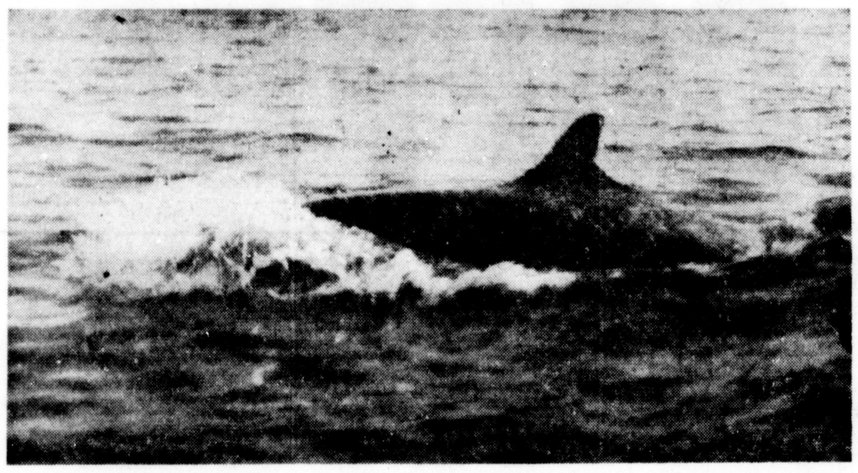

READERS' FORUM

Elsie R. "The principal at our high school published a list of the offenses for which teachers should send pupils to his office. Isn't that wrong? "

Reply: I don't believe so. The list may help the teachers be consistent. Discipline is a problem in most high schools. The list may improve things.

Sonoma Plans To Remodel Courthouse

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Sonoma County supervisors have ordered the interior of the 50-year-old county courthouse remodeled as the first step in a five-year, two-and-one-quarter-million-dollar building program.

Work on a special service building and combined office, warehouse and motor pool building is set to start next spring.

Both new structures are to be completed by July, 1960. Other county buildings will follow.

Novato Audiences Get Chance To Comment On Plays

At the recent four-night production of "Three Domestic Duels" by the Novato Community Players, ballots requesting comments and suggestions were included with the programs.

Counts of the ballots showed "Mooney's Kid Don't Cry," starring Beverly and George Wahl, was most popular of the three one-act plays. Second was "Fumed Oak," which starred Paul Terry, Nancy Germon and Mary Ellen Lester, and in third place was "Sorry, Wrong Number," in which Phyllis Hiller had the lead.

Suggestions received for future plays were "Bell, Book and Candle," "Winterset," "Street Scene," "As You Desire me," "Time of Your Life," "Out Town," "Reluctant Debutante," "Hay Fever" and "The Moon is Blue."

Also on the ballot were comments on the "Three Duels" show. Many felt the three one-act plays were "terrific" or "all excellent." Other comments were "Would like to see something more elevating," and "very imaginative scenery." (The scenery for the three short plays was suggestive rather than exact reproductions of the rooms in which the scenes took place.) A few felt the choice of plays was poor.

Mt. Whittier in New Hampshire was named for the poet John Greenleaf Whittier, who wrote many poems depicting the beauty and grandeur of the area.

'Every Day Something Fantastic,' Say Marin Trio On Skin-Diving Trip

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

Three Marin skin divers in search of adventure got just what they wanted this month when they forsook the comforts of home for the perils of the deep on a week-long expedition to Mexico.

When they left by car for Ensenada, the vacationing trio, all members of the Marin Skin Divers Club, were heading straight for danger in the brilliant blue waters off the coast of Baja, California.

Within 24 hours, amidst killer sharks and barracuda some 10 fathoms below the surface, they were getting more adventure than most persons experience in a lifetime.

"We couldn't believe it! Every day there was something fantastic," said Alfred F. Giddings Jr. of 14 Sequoia road, Fairfax, after his return.

Giddings, secretary-treasurer of the divers club and employee of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., made the trip with club president George Tsegeletos of 275 Karen way, Mill Valley and James M. Carty of 1458 Lincoln avenue, San Rafael. Tsegeletos is a correctional officer at San Quentin Prison and Carty works for Morrison Tree Service.

For their Mexican adventure they carted along a 35-horsepower outboard motor, their skin diving suits and related equipment, aqualungs for deep submergence and several harpoon guns.

In Ensenada they rented a 16-foot boat, putting out to sea about 5:30 or 6 o'clock every morning. The weather was sunny and the water calm. The first day they dove off Punta Bonda, about six miles down the coast. Subsequent diving was done in the Toto Santos Islands nine miles offshore.

On their initial foray they had been in the water less than 20 minutes when a shark about seven feet long started circling them.

"It came within 20 feet," Giddings said. "We tried unsuccessfully to get a shot at it. For a good killing shot we'd have had to be within 10 feet."

The shark left after making two circles. It had shown up, Giddings said, "because we made a lot of noise getting into the water. Sharks are attracted by vibrations."

He said another lure may have been the sounds made by a sheepshead which Tsegeletos had harpooned moments earlier. "When a fish is shot, it lets outcries just like a human being in pain," he said.

The three Marinites felt reasonably secure in the presence of sharks.

"Actually they're quite stupid," Giddings said. "They attack only when they're darned sure that what they're after can't bite back. They're not aware of their tremendous power. If they were, it would be a different story."

After their first encounter with a shark, the three divers started hunting sheepshead in earnest. But new dangers were lurking in the depths.

Using his aqualung in about 60 feet of water, Giddings came upon a school of 50 to 100 barracuda. "They made one pass, looked me over and went on," he said.

On the fourth day, Tsegeletos suddenly appeared on the surface, screamed, "Shark!" and disappeared again. Giddings dived after him and quickly saw what all the shouting was about. The shark was a 10-foot thresher weighing about 400 pounds. It was too big to shoot, and, like the first, swam away after its curiosity was satisfied.

Another time, Giddings shot a bat ray, which proceeded to pull him deeper and deeper with flaps of its huge, powerful wings.

"I guess the gear I was using wasn't heavy enough because the fish pulled the threads right off my spear," he said. "It must have weighed 60 or 70 pounds."

The divers flushed a number of lobsters out of holes on the ocean floor, but caught only one — a big 10-pounder which they boiled and ate. Carty proved allergic to lobster meat and required treatment at an Ensenada hospital.

In seeking out the crustaceans, the men often found themselves face to face with vicious moray eels, which have a penchant for occupying lobster holes on a sort of share-the-rent basis. They caught five of the slimy creatures.

Thanks to a Mexican skin diver, they learned that the way to bring sheepshead within easy shooting range is to cut open a mussel on the ocean floor, leave it there and wait. The Mexican assured them the fish would come in droves.

"And they did — first small ones by the hundreds, then the big ones," Giddings said. "They were like sitting ducks."

The men gave their catches to Ensenada residents, who were delighted to get a free meal.

Schools of frolicking porpoises became a familiar sight to the skin divers on their daily trips to the offshore islands.

But one day they were endangered by a large school of blackfish, a type of whale weighing about 3,000 pounds and measuring about 20 feet.

Some of the whales surfaced three feet from the boat, spouting water from their blowholes and uttering shrill squeaky cries.

"The water was alive with them," Giddings said. "There must have been close to a hundred. They could have overturned the boat very easily if they'd wanted to."

On their last day out, the skin divers sighted three monster killer whales in the distance. Suddenly a military plane appeared. It made several passes at the whales, strafing them with machine gun fire. The men could not identify the plane's nationality.

Marveling at the wonders of the deep, Giddings said: "It's fantastic down there because it's all dead silence. You can see everything around you for 80 or 90 feet. We swam through a lot of kelp—a beautiful sight with rays of light shining on it. It looked like the early morning sun coming through a stand of redwoods."

As souvenirs of their trip, the adventuresome Marinites brought back a quantity of shells and some 130 photographs — all colored slides, including about 75 underwater shots.

Author To Analyze State Election

Eugene Burdick, novelist and political science professor, will be featured speaker at a meeting of the Marin Democratic Assembly honoring Congressman-elect Clement W. Miller at 8 o'clock tonight in Olney Hall of College of Marin, Kentfield.

Burdick, who besides writing two best selling novels, "The Ninth Wave" and "The Ugly American," is political science professor at University of California in Berkeley, will speak on "An Analysis of the California Election."

Miller, who will succeed Rep. Hubert B. Scudder in January, will be guest of honor at the public affair.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Art Stolen To Win Bet

AIX EN PROVENCE, France (AP)—Two missing portraits by Van Dyck showed up neatly wrapped at the Beaux Arts Museum today with a little note saying they had been taken to win a bet.

The two postcard-size old masters, worth $14,000, disappeared Saturday. They were of Dutch painters Van Diepnbeeok and Rickaert. The janitor of the museum found them on the outside ledge of one of the building's windows.

It's All Right, Son

SHREVEPORT, La, (AP)—Allie Dowden has his mother's approval to be married next Wednesday. Dowden is 77, his mother is 103.

Dowden, a carpenter, will marry Mrs. Syleter Pevytoe, 65.

Tito Blasts Moscow

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito lashed out in a new oral assault on the Moscow bloc yesterday and declared the West was more realistic than the Communists in relations with Yugoslavia.

"We agree often with the Soviet Union on foreign policy issues but the West does not consider that we should be attacked for that. They somehow look on us more realistically than those in the East," he told a mass meeting.

Julie London To Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Julie London and jazz pianist-composer Bobby Troup, who have been dating for four years, plan to marry about Dec. 15, their manager reports.

"They suddenly discovered there's no reason not to be married," said Robert H. Ginter, who manages both.

Miss London, 31, has two children by Jack Webb, from whom she was divorced. Troup also has two children by a previous marriage.

Singer, Mate Split

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Singer Helen O'Connell has filed a separate maintenance suit against Thomas Chamales, whom she accuses of threatening her with a knife.

Chamales, 45-year-old novelist, was arrested last week for assault with a deadly weapon when police were called to the singer's fashionable Brentwood district home. The suit was filed Friday.

Pope To Turn 77

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII is 77 tomorrow.

He has been too busy in his first month as pontiff to make any personal plans for the day. He may, at the last minute, call in one or two friends for a quiet meal, Vatican aides say.

'Naked' Radium Found

WHEELING, W.Va. (UPI)—A widow who lived in a house where 10 milligrams of deadly radium had been lying for a year and a half shielded only by a frying pan was assured of a healthy future today.

The widow, Mrs. Anita Belgrade, said during the weekend she was given a clean bill of health by physicians who told her she apparently suffered no ill effects from the dangerous rays.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Belgrade asked Professor Robert W. Shramm at West Liberty College if he wanted to purchase the radium. The scientist, during the telephone call, found that Mrs. Belgrade had taken no precautionary measures with the element.

A hurried visit to her home by the professor revealed that the radium—about as big as a shotgun pellet—was in a leather covered box. Schramm said exposure to the substance for several consecutive hours could be fatal. He said his geiger counter "went wild" in every room of the house.

Criminal Or Not?

ROME (UPI) — Parliament is faced today with the problem of deciding whether artificial insemination is a crime in predominantly-Catholic Italy.

MSI (Fascist) deputies Giuseppe Gonella and Clemente Manco have introduced a bill providing one-year jail sentences for any woman who submits to artificial insemination, for the donor and for her husband if he consents.

Parliament is faced with a choice between the recent decision of a court in Padua that a woman who had given birth to an artificially-induced child was not guilty of adultery and the church stand that artificial insemination is "against natural law."

Bus Flips, 16 Hurt

WICKENBURG, Ariz. (UPI)—Fifteen passengers and the driver aboard a Greyhound bus were injured last night when the bus shot out of control and flipped over on its side during a trip from Los Angeles to Phoenix, Ariz.

Hope Gone For Scouts

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Only a dozen rescuers set out today and nearly all hope had disappeared for finding alive three Tucson Boy Scouts missing in rugged mountains for 10 days.

The youths, Mike Early, 16, Dave Greenberg, 12, and Michael Lanoue, 13, became separated from tnree other hiking companions Nov. 15 when a snowstorm lashed the Santa Rita mountains, about 30 miles south of here.

Goldwater Plugs Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has urged the Republican Party to take its stand "to the right of center" in 1960 and nominate Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

Goldwater, the only GOP conservative returned to the Senate in this month's elections, said the party cannot win two years hence unless it plays its traditional conservative role.

He said Nixon was his personal choice to head the 1960 ticket and as of now the vice president "would be considered the leading candidate."

Club Aids Theft Victim

ALHAMBRA (UPI) — An 80-year-old woman pensioner whose $450 savings for an eye operation were stolen by a purse snatcher will be operated on anyway.

The local Lions Club announced over the weekend that newspaper readers who read of Eva Des Autels' plight had contributed $150 towards the operation and that the club would make up the rest of the cost.

Miss Des Autels, a $55-a-month pensioner, had saved $450 from her earnings as a seamstress, but the money was stolen last week. She needs the operation to save her right eye.

Caracas War Hinted

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Unconfirmed reports reaching here today said deposed dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez and former Gen. Luis Llovera Paez are organizing an invasion force in the Dominican Republic.

Military sources here said both the army and navy have been alerted and were ready to face any threat from outside the country. They also declared unfounded reports published abroad that navy officers would join in an anti-government movement.

Communist Kills Self

MELROSE, Mass. (UPI) — A man who pulled one of American communism's biggest boners has taken his own life.

The body of Franklin P. Collier Jr., 52, who issued the 1946 Communist Party card to key FBI counterspy Herbert A. Philbrick, was found hanging in the cellar of his suburban Boston home yesterday.

Trains In San Diego

IT'S FRESH AND IT'S HOT

Tony Caruso, Sausalito seafood entrepreneur, loads cooker with fresh-caught Dungeness crab as it reaches his shop on the Marinship waterfront. Crab season started week ago, is now in full swing, with fresh-cooked crab featured at markets and eating places. Catch so far does not include too many of the "big fellows," Caruso reported. Brown Made Many Pledges In Campaign

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Pat Brown says he will be a "bread and butter" governor for all of the people of California.

Exactly what this means when translated into the hard, cold lexicon of practical politics is hard to say.

But the 53-year-old governor-elect, during more than a year of strenuous campaigning, did lay down the broad outlines of the legislative program he expects to pursue when he takes office in January.

Certainly the political climate is ripe for Brown to succeed in his program—for no new California governor has stepped into office in decades with a more receptive legislative branch than Brown will find next Jan. 5.

Semi-official but final election results show the Democratic chief executive will have a Senate weighted with 27 Democrats against only 13 Republicans. And the Assembly, the lower house of the Legislature, will be split 47 to 33 in favor of Brown's party.

The leaders of both houses meet with Brown's personal approval and many of them worked hard in the campaign to assure his election. He will have almost everything going for him when he first sits down in the governor's chair.

A careful review of all of the speeches Brown made during his year-long campaign for the governorship shows that he made many specific pledges and promises. Most of them will cost the taxpayers money.

That, perhaps, will be the most difficult problem he faces —how to boost teachers' salaries, enlarge the state university, hire more probation officers, build the Feather River project, add more state hospitals, increase recreational facilities and still cope with an expected budget deficit of more than 200 million dollars.

Brown never has said flatly one way or the other whether he will recommend new or higher taxes when he takes office. But he has hinted tax increases probably will be necessary.

They probably would be anyway, no matter whether Brown's ambitious legislative program is enacted or not, because the state for the past several years has been in deficit financing—that is, it has been spending more than it is taking in, and the wartime surpluses piled up under ex-Gov. Warren are all but exhausted.

If he seeks new taxes, he is in for a battle. Warren, despite all his personal popularity, never was able to sell the Legislature on his complete tax program. Retiring Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, like Warren a Republican, also failed in his bid for a cigarette tax, although he did obtain a 14 million dollar increase in hard liquor taxes while failing to boost beer and horse racing levies.

Brown himself admits that finances and taxes are his most serious problem.

"The toughest single problem I'm going to have to face is the question of economy in government and new taxes," he said.

(Tomorrow: Brown's basic eight-point program.)

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVES YOU BEST!

WHEN SELLING PROPERTY BECAUSE

1. You list your property with the Realtor of your choice.
2. Through Multiple Listing over 350 experienced real estate salesmen offer your property for sale to their prospective buyers.
3. Your property is shown at your convenience and by appointment only, if you desire. Your Realtor saves you the annoyance of dealing with many different people. He sifts the "wheat from the chaff," weeds out the mere "lookers." Yet with all this convenience you still have several hundred salesmen working on the sale of your property!
4. You are given, without charge, helpful suggestions on ways and means of increasing your property's saleability and how and when the property should be shown to best advantage.
5. Without charge your property is photographed to its best advantage.
6. Through Multiple Listing your property will sell faster and easier because it is listed with description and photograph in all 128 member-offices — reaching most prospective buyers in a wider area.

LAW IN ACTION

State Property Law Has Spanish Origin

(This column, prepared by California lawyers, appears regularly in the Independent-Journal.)

California's community property law came to us from Mexican and Spanish law.

Under the peace treaty of 1848, the United States agreed that we would respect Mexican property rights.

Afterwards California itself adopted the system that man and wife shall share alike all property they earn after marriage. This system differs from the property laws in most other states which grew out of the English common law.

VALID MARRIAGE

What property you own is either "separate" or "community." Community comes with a valid marriage.

A person owns separate property before marriage. It is also inherited property, gifts, and after marriage, the income from them.

Community property arises out of a man and wife's earnings, and so separate property does not become community merely when a couple marries.

Property from a common law state does not become community property, even though it would have been, had the couple acquired it here.

ANOTHER STATE

But separate earnings may become community property. For example, if a husband spent much of his time managing and maintaining his separate property (an apartment house) instead of earning an income in other ways. The husband's time belonged to the "community."

SCRAMBLED PROPERTY

If a husband and wife have "commingled" their property so that it cannot be unscrambled, the law assumes it is community.

The law presumes that what a married woman gets by a written instrument, (e.g. a deed, bill of sale, note, or registration certificate), or what she earns, is her own separate property. All of these presumptions can be overcome in court by evidence.

When we first adopted our system the husband could control or manage the community property as if it were his own. But today if a husband gives away such property without his wife's consent, she can set aside the gift.

Parkyakarkas Dies At Height Of TV Party

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harry Einstein, 54, who rose to radio fame as the Greek funnyman Parkyakarkas, died of a heart attack today backstage at a show business gathering.

Einstein had just finished an hilarious talk at a Friar's Club testimonial dinner for Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz when he collapsed.

He was carried backstage and while some of the nation's top entertainers kept the show going, doctors summoned from the audience made an incision in his chest and massaged his heart.

NO RESPONSE

For two hours they kept his heart pumping by their manipulation but there was no response from the heart. Einstein was finally pronounced dead by Dr. Alfred Goldman.

Goldman was one of five doctors in the audience of 1,200 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel who rushed forward when comedian Milton Berle suddenly sent a chill through the gay crowd with his cry: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

COMIC SLUMPS

Berle was sitting next to Einstein on the speaker's platform. Just after taking his seat following his brief talk, Einstein slumped over, his head falling on Berle's shoulder.

Parky, as everyone called him, had drawn the biggest laughs of the evening during his appearance topping such well-known comics as Berle, George Burns and Danny Thomas.

HALTS SHOW

For awhile the others kept the entertainment going, but finally Arnaz stepped forward.

"This dinner is something I've looked forward to for a long time," he said, "but it doesn't mean anything now. They say the show must go on. But why must it?" And the show stopped.

Arnaz, Lucille Ball, Berle and others from the audience clustered behind the curtained backstage area where the dramatic fight to save Einstein's life was going on.

THREE SONS

Nearby, but not watching, was Parky's wife, the former actress Thelma Leeds. She was comforted by her son Clifford, 18. Einstein leaves three other sons, including the novelist Charles Einstein.

Parky was born in Boston and started out as a newspaper reporter and later advertising man there. He was a master of dialects and made an immediate hit as a comedian when he appeared as a guest on the Eddie Cantor show in the early 1930s.

OWN PROGRAM

After years as a guest on other leading shows, he got a program of his own. He retired from radio several years ago and limited his performances to night clubs and personal appearances.

In addition to the doctors, a rescue squad from the Beverly Hills Fire Department helped in the fight to keep Parky alive. They brought blood plasma, and gave him transfusions while the heart massage was kept up.

Paradise Property Owners Incorporate

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced the Paradise Property Owners Assn. in Marin County has filed articles with his office to form a nonprofit corporation.

The association listed its directors as A. Jack Weber, 5 Barnar lane, and Robert L. Hamilton, 4925 Paradise drive, both of Corte Madera, and Bruce H. Keppel, 27 Old Landing road, Tiburon.

The price of fuel oil in the U.S. went from $1.53 a barrel in 1956 to $3.27 in September, 1958.

Historic Burdell School Burns; Arsonist Blamed

ONLY THE SWING IS LEFT — North Marin's historic Burdell School, which survived being moved to make way for Stafford Dam and continued its old-fashioned ways in the shadow of Novato's expanding unified school system, was reduced to this pile of ruins by a fire early yesterday. Clerk James Grossi of the Burdell School District board said he believed the fire was the work of an arsonist. (Independent-Journal photo)

One-Room Building Served For 55 Years

The old one-room Burdell School in North Marin burned to the ground yesterday, and Clerk James Grossi of the Burdell School Board declared today he believes the fire was the work of an arsonist.

Grossi was the first person to reach the fire just after 4 a.m. yesterday. He said he found the lock of the steel gate leading to the school yard had been forced.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero also reported that the fire apparently started on the school's front porch.

"It couldn't have started from the stove," he said. "The wall next to where the stove was located was the only wall that remained upright.."

The schoolhouse, which opened for its first class in 1903, had served as a factory for the Burdell Cheese Co. before that. It had been moved to its last location, overlooking Stafford Reservoir, in 1951 from a former site below what is now Stafford Dam.

MILKER SPOTS FIRE

The glow from the burning schoolhouse was first sighted by Manuel Fagundes, while he was milking cows at the nearby George Grossi ranch.

Grossi, whose telephone was put out of order when the flames snapped telephone cables at the school, rushed to the home of his brother, James, to call the Novato Fire Department.

Twenty volunteer and regular firement converged on the scene several minutes later with four fire engines. In the two hours that followed, 7,200 gallons of water were poured on the flames from the rolling tankers, which made several trips to and from Stafford Reservoir to refill with water. There are no fire hydrants in the area.

ALREADY GONE

"The building was long gone before we got there," Cavallero said. "Flames were shooting out from the windows and doors. But it apparently started from outside on the porch. That area was going strong when we first arrived."

James Grossi today estimated that the loss to equipment inside the schoolhouse at $2,000. No estimate has yet been made on the building itself, he said.

'IRREPLACABLE'

One trustee was quoted as saying: "It really can't be replaced for a million dollars."

That feeling was shared by Mrs. Florence Adams of San Rafael, Burdell's teacher for 18 years who is planning to retire after this year.

Supt. William J. J. Smith of Novato Unified School District said that district can easily absorb Burdell's dozen pupils. But the Burdell trustees, who annexed their district to Petaluma High School District a few years ago to prevent possible absorption into Novato's "city-type" schools, were looking for a temporary location instead.

Today, they inspected a building on North Marin Water

Mistreatment Of Bolinas Pupils Alleged

A row over alleged mistreatment of Bolinas School children is expected to be discussed behind closed doors at a special meeting of Bolinas School District trustees tonight.

But before the trustees meet, the school will hold a 7 o'clock open house program to acquaint parents with the work being done in its three classrooms.

MAN UNDER FIRE

This will be the first of two open houses for the same purpose, said Principal David Probert, who is also secretary of the school board—and who is the man under fire in the complaints of alleged mistreatment of pupils.

"Beating and kicking" of children has been alleged in Bolinas gossip. But Probert said today no specific complaint was set forth by a delegation of parents who appeared at the latest regular board meeting to complain.

POLICY MATTER

Gene W. McDaniel, clerk of the school board, said the closed-door meeting tonight was called to discuss "a policy matter" rather than the charges against Principal Probert.

Probert said the matter to be discussed involved personnel, and was left over from the agenda of the preceding regular meeting. At question is whether to resume having the school bus driver instruct an athletic program, as a volunteer. This has been done for several years but was stopped this year by Probert, who said he considered the program could be more satisfactorily handled by the regular teaching personnel.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE

One parent claimed upper grade pupils are staging a "sit-down strike" against participating in athletics because of the change.

Richard L. Foster, county superintendent of schools, said he had advised the Bolinas board the athletic program matter was one which it could legitimately discuss in private, although no formal decision could be made until a regular open meeting.

FIRST WORD

Foster said he had heard only this morning of the complaints against Probert. The

Sewer District Voters Go To Polls Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be election day for Corte Madera Sanitary District residents as they vote on whether to authorize an $850,000 bond issue for construction of a new sewage treatment plant and revamping of pumping facilities.

Harold A. Snyder, board president, said polling will be 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at District 2 offices, 500 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera.

Directors have described the bonds issue as the most practical way open to the district to solve present sewage problems and give additional capacity for future growth.

Harry N. Jenks, consulting engineer for the Ross Valley Sanitary District, last week attacked the proposal on the basis a better solution could have been worked out with his district. Corte Madera directors called the proposed contracts unacceptable.

A. N. (Al) Nipper, member of the Ross Valley Sanitary District, today said his board was neutral on the matter but that a contract had been presented to the other board offering 1,175,000 gallons per day of dry weather flow for $365,000.

Ben K. Rippe, member of the Corte Madera board, said at least one term of the contract was unacceptable to his district board.

The proposed bonds would pay for construction of a 1,250,000 gallon per day plant, capable of being expanded later, and improvement of related facilities. The issue requires a two-thirds majority vote.

DOUGLAS GIVES DEATH STAY TO DOOMED MAN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The governor's office said today Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court has granted a stay of execution of Cecil Herman Ward, sentenced to die Dec. 5 for two Kern County murders.

A telegram from Douglas said the stay is effective until the court can review the case.

Governor Knight last week turned down a petition for clemency, saying he could see no reason to change the sentence.

Ward, 26, was convicted of killing Mrs. Nell Parris, his mother-in-law, and Brenda Parris, his 12-year-old sister-in-law.

Doctor Suicide 5 Days After Saving Airman

Last Tuesday, Dr. Mark D. Muir of Marinwood, a psychiatrist and Army captain, cheated Death of a victim when he dissuaded a distraught airman from leaping from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Saturday, Death squared the account.

The body of Captain Muir was found in a San Francisco motel room. A note in the room made it plain that the doctor had taken his own life, apparently with an overdose of barbiturates.

VIGIL AT BRIDGE

On Tuesday, Muir was one of a group of Army psychiatrists and a chaplain who talked for four hours to persuade Air Force Sgt. William Cody, 33, to abandon his intent to jump from the bridge.

Among other things, Muir told Cody, "You don't have to do anything in this world unless you want to."

Muir and Death brushed arms again early Thursday, when a station wagon driven by Muir collided with a car at the entrance to Marinwood on Highway 101. Muir and his wife, Delores were injured. Both were taken to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, where Muir was a staff doctor.

STILL IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Muir is still in the hospital, under treatment for deep cuts of the face and head.

Muir was in the convalescent ward at Letterman. He simply walked away Friday, according to a hospital spokesman. He registered at the motel Friday afternoon. His body was found by the motel owner Saturday noon.

The note found near his body was addressed to his superior officer, Col. Theodore Kiersch, head of Letterman's neuropsychiatric department, and read:

"Please let me tell you that I sincerely appreciate all you have done.

"My entire life has been one trouble after another. During the past year I have been un-

Brown Names Six Men To Personal Staff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Governor-elect Edmund G. Brown today filled out his nine-man personal staff of advisers with six new appointments.

The appointees will form the chief executive's "kitchen cabinet." Their average age is 39.

Appointed were:

1. Municipal Judge Julian Beck, 53, Los Angeles, legislative secretary. Beck served in the assembly for 11 years. In his new job, he will act as go-between of the governor to the lawmakers.

2. Charles Johnson, 46, Sacramento, departmental secretary. Now assistant legislative counsel, Johnson will coordinate work with various state departments.

3. Hale Champion, 36, San Francisco, press secretary. Champion now is a reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle.

4. Jerry Maher, 40, Los Angeles, assistant press secretary. He is a former reporter of the Los Angeles Mirror-News.

5. William Coblentz, 36, San Francisco, research secretary. Coblentz is an attorney. He will gather information for the governor on various special projects.

6. Warren Christopher, 34, Los Angeles, special counsel. He is a former law clerk to U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, and now a practicing attorney. As special counsel, he will advise Brown on problems of law and government reorganization.

HAPPY DAYS GONE FOREVER— This photo was taken at Burdell School during a recess period. The playing children by their little schoolhouse, which began its existence as part of a cheese factory, provided a living scene full of nostalgia and typified a type of education Burdell parents and trustees were determined to keep. 'Doused' Fire Revives, Burns Porch, Wall

Mrs. Pauline Powell found a little hole burned in the cushion of a sofa Saturday night at her home at 286 Miller avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Powell lumped "gallons of water" on the pillow, she reported later. Then she put it on the front porch.

At 4:25 a.m. yesterday, a passerby saw the porch blazing merrily and called the Mill Valley Fire Department.

The porch was destroyed and the front wall of the house damaged before firemen could extinguish the flames.

Sheriff's Patrol Car Goes Amok, Hits Novato Home

A sheriff's patrol car, parked in Novato, careened down an incline Saturday and rammed a house at 639 Peach street, snapping a 4-by-4 inch pillar that supported the porch roof.

Deputy Sheriff Ernest Nielsen blamed a faulty hand brake. He had stopped near 642 Peach street to talk to residents there. A few minutes later, heard a loud crash. Running outside, he found his patrol car rammed against the house of Joseph Enriquez of 639 Peach street.

The vehicle had rolled 100 feet down an incline, jumped a four-inch curb, waded 35 feet over a newly planted lawn and come to rest against the side of the house. The right front fender of the patrol car was damaged, and the radiator cracked. Nielsen said he found the hand brake in a set position, just as he had left it when he parked.

Ziffren Brother Held White Slaver

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Herman Ziffren, prominent Davenport, Iowa, merchant and brother of California Democratic National Committeeman Paul Ziffren, today was named on white slavery charges in a three-count federal indictment.

Fire Breaks Out In Jail, Doused Without Damage

Fire broke out in Marin County Jail yesterday, but Sheriff David Menary reported no one was hurt and nothing damaged.

About 2:40 a.m., Deputies Fred Hooper and Leo Ballard found smoke pouring out of the isolation cell. An hour earlier, John Jamison Fawcett, 27, of Ft. Baker had been booked by Sausalito police on suspicion of drunken driving. Jailers put him in the isolation cell alone.

Deputy Ballard said Fawcett apparently tossed a lighted cigarette onto a rag on the floor, igniting the rag.

San Rafael firemen used a blower to clear the smoke out of the jail.

4 Men Attack Homestead Father As Wife, Child Watch

A 21-year-old steel pressman from Homestead Valley was knocked down and slugged by four young men last night, while his wife and child watched helplessly.

The victim, William Richard Mastroianni of 336 Ridgewood avenue, suffered a cut lip and a small cut inside his mouth. He did not require hospitalization.

Mastroianni told sheriff's deputies he was driving home about 7:45 p.m. and turned up Ridgewood at Fernwood avenue. A tan sedan came down Ridgewood. As the two cars met, occupants of the other car shouted something.

Mastroianni said he stopped his car, walked over to the other car and demanded, "What did you say?" A youth got out of the back seat and said, "I'm looking for a fight," and started swinging.

Mastroianni swung back, but was overpowered by three others who ganged up on him, knocking him down and slugging him on the ground.

The victim's wife, Sandra Kay, ran to help her husband but women in the other car warned her to get back into her own car. Then the four youths jumped into their sedan and drove off.

The young couple said they did not get a close description of the attackers because it was dark.

Party Crashers Ignite Near Riot In Marin City

Marin City party crashers set off a near-riot that ended with an attack on the Marin City sheriff's substation and two pistol shots fired in the air by a deputy sheriff early Sunday.

From the milling group of about 30 men, who tossed firecrackers at the party scene and called officers filthy names, police arrested two men and three teen-agers.

John H. (Spot) Times, 24, of House 763 and Lester Kilgore, 27, of A19, 173, were booked for disturbing the peace and released on $50 bail. Leon Collins, 18, of San Francisco was in jail on suspicion of disturbing the peace and refusing to disperse.

Two others sent to Marin Juvenile Hall are 17-year-olds from Marin City. One of them, accused of kicking an officer and trying to leap from the

Motorboat Burns, Sinks Off Tiburon

A 14-foot inboard motorboat burned and sank off Tiburon yesterday. The boat was owned by Joseph B. Petrakis of San Mateo, according to the Coast Guard.

Petrakis found the boat afire at the Corinthian Yacht Club dock shortly before 11 a.m. the Coast Guard reported.

Petrakis jumped aboard, cast off and got the craft away from the dock where it was endangering other boats. He swam ashore.

Two Coast Guard boats sped to the scene but the burning boat had sunk when they arrived.

Strike Hits Second Airline, 3rd Looms

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Two unions went on strike against Eastern Air Lines today and within a few hours the line, the nation's largest domestic air carrier, was expected to join Trans World Airline in idleness.

American Airlines faced a threat of walkout tomorrow. Capital Air Lines went back to work.

The flight engineers called the first strike against Eastern, and just before the 10 a.m. strike deadline, the International Assn. of Machinists called a strike. A union official said that the mechanics' action was separate from that of the engineers.

Eastern was gearing for the start of the usual winter traffic to Florida. Last year Eastern carried about 8,700,00 passengers, more than any other U.S. airlines. A company spokesman said that the line had no choice but to "discontinue all services in the interests of public safety," and said the line would be shut down within a few hours. Planes were expected to run out regular flights to their destinations before they were grounded.

A strike against TWA entered its fourth day with no progress reported in efforts to settle the walkout.

WALKOUT SLATED

American Airlines was faced with a scheduled strike of its 1,500 pilots tomorrow night in a dispute over wages.

Stewardesses on Lake Central Airlines, a feeder airline, went on strike early today in the first walkout of stewardesses in airline history.

A spokesman for the line's 32 stewardesses said she had expected the pilots to refuse to cross the all-girl picket lines. However at least one flight this morning landed in Indianapolis and took off on schedule. The company said the walkout would not curtail service.

BACK IN AIR

Meanwhile, Capital Airlines resumed limited flights yesterday after a 37-day strike by 2,600 mechanics and other ground personnel. The line hoped to resume full operations by tomorrow.

The mechanics, members of the International Assn. of Machinists, has demanded a 42-cent hourly wage increase and voted to return to work after agreeing on a 41-cent pay hike. Prior to the walkout, the mechanics' top wage was $2.54 per hour.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy selling today brought the worst stock market shakeout in more than a year. Trading was active late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,500,000 shares compared with 3,950,000 Friday.

Leading issues were down fractions to three points or more.

Today's drop came after a consistent rise of more than seven months.

Profit taking was the chief motive in the selloff, brokers said.

American Telephone, Youngstown Sheet, Eastman Kodak and Zenith were down about three points apiece. Losses of two points or so were taken by Republic Steel, Goodyear, North American Aviation, International Telephone, Du Pont, Polaroid, Lorillard and Merck.

Losses of about a point were taken by General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, General Dynamics, Boeing, Raytheon, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, General Electric, Schick, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Royal Dutch, American Airlines, Johns-Manville and U.S. Gypsum.

Pennsylvania Railroad was up around a point.

Ingrid Will Wed In Paris By Yule

LONDON (UPI)—Swedish actress Ingrid Bergman, radiant at the success of her latest film, told friends in London last night that she will marry in Paris before Christmas, according to one informant.

Miss Bergman and her fiance, 40-year-old Swedish film producer Lars Schmidt, publicly announced that their marriage plans were still secret. But privately they confirmed that Miss Bergman will take marriage vows for the third time before Christmas.

Herman A. Cotton Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services for Novato logging contractor Herman A. (Mike) Cotton, 46, who was killed Friday night in an automobile accident on Highway 101 near the Marin-Sonoma County line, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Mt. Tamalpais Mausoleum Chapel, San Rafael.

Rev. Lawrence H. Doyle, pastor of the Novato Community Methodist Church, will officiate at the services, under direction of Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato.

Cotton had resided at 7 Joan avenue, with his wife, Lydia and their four children, Elizabeth, 14, Alice, 8, Michael, 4, and Patrick, 3. He is survived also by his father and two sisters in Maine.

Marin Contractor George Pope Dies

A Requiem High Mass for George Pope, 83-year-old San Rafael house builder, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

Pope died Saturday night at his home at 257½ Glen Park avenue, San Rafael, after a long illness. He is survived by his wife, Clara; a daughter, Mrs. William Bell and a son, Edward Pope, both of San Rafael; and by four grandsons. He is also survived by three brothers and a sister living in the Bay Area who were members of a family of 13 children.

He was a native of Canada and a resident of Marin County for 35 years. In business for himself, Pope built a number of houses and then rented them.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

BURTON R. KIRCHNER
Heads Bank Group

Kirchner To Head Banker Association

Burton R. Kirchner of San Rafael, vice president of the First National Bank in San Rafael, is the newly elected president of the Independent Bankers Assn. of Northern California.

Kirchner was elected at the association's annual meeting in Oakland. Chosen to serve with him were A. E. Miguel of the Pajaro Valley Bank, Watsonville, vice president, and Eugene Price of Wells Fargo Bank, San Francisco, secretary-treasurer.

About 125 Northern California bankers attended the meeting. Marin was represented by Kirchner, William P. Murray, Arthur C. Latno, Jordan B. Dell'Era and A. L. Nieri of the First National's home office in San Rafael, J. M. Lethbridge of its Kentfield branch and P. Ferrarese of its Novato branch.

patrol car, is booked for resisting arrest in addition to disturbing the peace and failing to disperse.

First sign of a flareup came about 11:30 p.m. when Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, 44, a nurse's aide of C41, Apartment 321, called for help. She told Deputies Boyd Burnham and Edward Klementovich that crashers had disrupted a reception at her home.

The deputies ordered about 30 milling youths to leave, but they refused. Arthur Menjou, Fredrick Marcus and D. L. Greeson arrived to help, and the crowd drew back to the front of Brice Brothers market.

Shortly after midnight, the riotous group began pelting the substation with empty wine and whisky bottles, smashing two windows. Deputy Marcus, who was alone at the station, ran out in pursuit chasing them across Briones street into a fire alley between Buildings A10 and A11 where they vanished.

Marcus called to them to halt, then fired two shot in the air over their heads, but they escaped.

ESTEVAN, Canada (AP)—Four thousand young rainbow trout have been planted in two "spoil pits" in the coalfields east of here. It is hoped the pits, created by coal-stripping machines will make favorable breeding grounds.

SAYS ONE SHARK TO ANOTHER: YOU SHOULD SEE WHO GOT AWAY

Nine-year-old Susie Blackmore of Belvedere was fishing with two other youngsters from the San Francisco Yacht Club breakwater yesterday when a big fish grabbed her hook and yanked her pole into the water.

Susie forgot to let go.

She was fished out a moment later by several bystanders cold but otherwise unhurt.

Belvedere Police Sgt. William Woodington drove the shivering girl home. En route, she told Wooding it was a leopard shark that she had hooked.

Susie is a daughter of E. L. Blackmore, assistant county school superintendent, of 12 Bella Vista avenue, Belvedere.

Studebaker-Packard Workers Go On Strike

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—About 6,200 Studebaker-Packard workers went on strike today when prolonged negotiations failed to produce an agreement.

Members of the United Auto Workers Union yesterday rejected a company proposal which would have tied pay increases on the rate of new car sales.

Last ditch negotiations continued until the early hours today, but broke up in a deadlock. Picket lines were set up outside the plant early today.

The strike is likely to hurt the small car producer in its bid for a bigger share of the nation's new car market. The company is basing its hopes for a comeback this year on a new economy car, the Studebaker Lark. The firm said it has received more than 50,000 orders for the 1959 Lark.

FOR 900 EMPTY JARS, HE'LL GET A TRIP TO MARS

APPLETON, Wis. (UPI) — Airliss French was driving along a highway a few weeks ago and read a sign that said a shaving cream company would give "free—a trip to Mars—for 900 empty jars."

French advertised in the Post-Crescent for empty shaving cream jars, collected 900, and told the company he was ready to make his flight to Mars.

The company will pay up. French leaves Dec. 2 for Mars—a hamlet with a population of 78 in Germany.

Stock Market Takes Biggest Drop In Year

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market absorbed its biggest loss in a year today in heavy selling.

Leading stocks dropped $1 to $4 a share. A few wide movers fell even harder.

Chief reason for the selloff was profit taking, brokers said.

The drop came after a consistent rise of more than seven months.

Trading was so heavy the ticker was late time and again. The last occasion was just before the close when prices were heading down.

The market showed little in the way of a rallying effort throughout the session.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $3.50 to $202.40 at noon. The loss was the steepest the market has taken since Nov. 26, 1957.

District property near the Stafford Reservoir treatment plant as a possible temporary site for the school. Meanwhile, Burdell pupils will have an extended Thanksgiving vacation.

TEARFUL SPECTATORS

The spectacle of the flaming building brought tears to some of the persons who had risen from their beds to watch the death of the school that had meant much in their lives.

"It was a sad thing to see our little schoolhouse go like that," said Mrs. Joseph Corda, wife of one of the trustees.

And Graossi added, "it's a bad feeling to know that the school where you got all your education is suddenly gone. Now we'll have to decide where to go from here."

Rain Probable In North State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A storm centered today over the state of Washington was expected to move into the northern regions of California by late tonight.

The Weather Bureau said rain was likely during the night from Cape Mendocino northward and likely would spread to Pt. Arena and Marysville tomorrow. The storm will bring snow in mountain areas.

SHAKEN UP BUT NOT INJURED

Mrs. Lores Bartol of Forest Knolls is helped to her feet by her husband, Anton, and Marin Sheriff's Deputy Bruce McLeod. She had started climbing out of the 1958 station wagon that Bartol had parked in front of their house steps on Juarez road, Forest Knolls, at 7:45 p.m. Saturday. In moving across the front seat to get out on the driver's side, Mrs. Bartol released the emergency brake, her husband said. The station wagon rolled backwards across Juarez road and 10 feet down an embankment, turning onto its right side. (Photo by Dennis McCarthy)

Woman Injured In Rear-End Crash

A Walnut Creek woman received minor injuries late yesterday when her husband slowed their car behind a line of cars on Highway 101 slightly north of the Freitas Parkway and their car was struck in the rear.

The injured woman is Mrs. Harriet McPherson, 50, wife of Lloyd H. McPherson, 64, a Walnut Creek insurance broker. She said she would see her own doctor.

The McPherson car was struck in the rear by one driven by Donald Allen Shawler, 19-year-old student at College of Marin who lives at 122 DuBois street, San Rafael. Shawler's car was struck in the rear by the car of Arnulfo Alva, 54, a San Francisco cannery worker. Shawler and Alva both were cited by the California Highway Patrol for excessive speed and following too closely.

Band Played On At Fireman's Ball

The band had to play an extra hour Saturday night to please the crowd of 400-500 persons attending the fourth annual Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen's Ball at Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said the Jack Barnes band was held over until 2 a.m. to provide an extra hour's entertainment for the large audience.

Proceeds from the dance will go into the volunteer firemen's health and welfare fund.

Rider Knocked From Bicycle

Wyland Stanley, 43, a timekeeper at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, was knocked off his bicycle by a car at 6:20 p.m. Saturday as he was southbound on Sausalito road headed toward the Golden Gate Bridge, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The injured bike rider was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco by the driver of the car, John Quincy Johnson, 48, of San Francisco. Stanley was treated for a head cut and bruised left leg and kept overnight at the hospital for observation.

PROMOTION MEN SAY:

Turkey Shouldn't Be A Sometime Thing

By ALTON PRYOR

DAVIS (UPI)—Those who think that a woman's work is never done should take a look at the life being forced on the lady turkey.

Promotion men have already suggested depriving the lady turkey of her "sex label" at the meat counter — and now University of California scientists are pushing the lady bird even farther against the hen house wall by suggesting that she work the year around.

The promotion men hope to push sales by removing the turkey hen's gender from the meat counter sales tag, and the scientists hope to fool the bird into providing a constant year-around supply for the meat counter.

Turkeys generally spend eight months of the year gathering strength and planning ahead, followed by a four-month flurry of egg-laying—that is until their ambitions were aroused by artificial lighting and weather regulating techniques.

Applying the artificial days and seasons in a series of experiments is Wilbor O. Wilson of the Poultry Husbandry Department on the University's Davis campus.

Wilson said his study of turkey production using artificial lighting to regulate the length of the laying day and air conditioning to level off the seasons makes it "entirely possible today for the supply of fresh turkeys to be continuous throughout the year."

Wilson housed his birds in light-proofed pens in his latest experiment. Each pen was equipped with a room air conditioner to supply fresh air

He said the best production was obtained when the working hours for the birds were suddenly increased following a "conditioning" period during which the lights were on for only six hours a day. After this three-week short-day period, he jumped the hours of illumination to 14 hours a day.

"Apparently it's the abrupt jump—from a six-hour day to a 14-hour day—that accounts for the improved production," said Wilson. And he added that "This investigation indicates the need for forced ventilation and for cooling of darkened rooms."

The experiments also showed that the hens matured earlier under the lighting and season control. Wilson said that during the experiment hens began laying as early as the 23rd week of age. Most turkey breeders assume that hens should be 30 weeks of age before they begin to lay.

"Year around turkey production should benefit almost everyone," said Wilson. "The grower's operation will be steady during the year, distributors will not have to hold so many birds in cold storage and the housewife will be able to get her favorite size of turkey anytime—and probably at a lower price."

Corte Maderans To Meet On Merger

First meeting of the Corte Madera citizens committee to study merger with Larkspur will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Corte Madera Town Hall.

Mrs. Nadine Penney, town clerk, said any resident wishing to attend "is more than welcome."

Temporary chairman of the committee, which was formed last Monday is Town Councilman Roger F. Morse. Mrs. Penney said she expects the committee to elect a permanent chairman and secretary tonight.

The Larkspur merger committee, organized earlier, also will meet at the same hour tonight in the Larkspur City Hall.

OBITUARIES

Ross Tax Collector Kenneth Martin Dies

Kenneth C. Martin, treasurer-tax collector of the Town of Ross since 1948, died in a local hospital yesterday after suffering a stroke Saturday night in his home at 46 Woodside way, Ross. He was 56.

A native of Oakland and 25-year resident of Ross, he was employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco as a commercial engineer.

PART-TIME POST

Martin was appointed to the part-time post of town treasurer-tax collector by the Ross Town Council in May of 1948. He was elected to the post in April, 1952, and re-elected in April, 1956.

Born Jan. 19, 1902, he was a son of the late Shelby Martin, an Oakland bank president, and grandson of the late J. West Martin, former mayor of Oakland.

Last May, Martin suffered a mild stroke from which he appeared to have made a satisfactory recovery. He was admitted to the hospital at 10:15 p.m. Saturday after being stricken a second time. Death came at 2:15 a.m. yesterday.

Martin was a member of the Indian Valley Golf Club and Bell Telephone Golf Club.

SURVIVORS LISTED

He is survived by his wife, Phyllis; a son, Shelby of San Mateo; a daughter, Mrs. Sally Dorn of Novato; a brother, J. Wesley Martin of Oakland, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Gothic Chapel of Mountain View Cemetery at the end of Piedmont avenue, Oakland.

Friends may call at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, until noon tomorrow.

Rinaldo Calpestri Of Larkspur Dies

Rinaldo E. Calpestri of Larkspur, longtime employee of Yellow Cab Co. in San Francisco and a Marin County resident for about 25 years, died in a local hospital Saturday at the age of 56.

Born in Italy, he came to California with his parents when he was 2 years old. Once a resident of Fairfax, he operated the Marin Ravioli Factory there with his father until the latter's death.

Calpestri went to work for Yellow Cab as a driver in 1927. He became a dispatcher in 1946, holding the position until his death.

An accomplished drummer, he played in dance orchestras throughout the Bay Area. He was a member of Musicians Union Local 6, San Francisco.

Victim of a heart attack, Calpestri died less than one hour after being admitted to the hospital Saturday night. He had been ill a short time before suffering the attack.

He lived at 12 Liberty street, Larkspur, with his wife, Ynez, who survives. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Bartram of Larkspur, a sister, Mrs. Esther Pallavicini of San Anselmo, and two granddaughters.

A Requiem Mass was offered today at St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur. Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mary T. Soares Of Mill Valley Dies

Mrs. Mary T. Soares, 74, a Mill Valley resident for seven years, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Saturday at 448 E. Blithedale avenue, where she made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Mary Armas.

Mrs. Soares was the widow of Manuel T. Soares, known as one of the leading growers of the famous Turlock watermelons. He resided in Mill Valley following his retirement, until his death in March 1956.

Mrs. Soares was born in Hayward, but spent most of her life at Turlock.

Besides Mrs. Armas, she leaves two other daughters and a son, Mrs. Belle Leandro of Mill Valley, Mrs. Anna Furtado of Pacific Grove and Joseph C. Soares of Turlock; a sister, Mrs. F. Silveira of Newman, Stanislaus County; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mass of Requiem will be offered Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at Sacred Heart Church in Turlock. The funeral cortege will form at 9 a.m. at the Allen Mortuary in Turlock, where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in Turlock Cemetery. Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, is handling funeral arrangements locally.

Lisa Wood Smith, Ex-Marinite, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Lisa Wood Smith, 72, former longtime San Rafael resident, were held today in Portland, Ore., where she died Saturday after long illness.

Mrs. Smith was the wife of G. Kirkham Smith, former San Francisco insurance broker. They resided many years in San Rafael before moving 10 years ago to Sonoma. For the past three months, they had made their home with a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Livingston, in Portland.

Surviving also are another daughter, Mrs. Nan Johns of Portland, and a son, Allan Kirkham Smith of Berkeley.

The family requested that tributes be donations to the American Cancer Society or the Marin Conservation League.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Rome Robertson, 22, of 78th Air Police Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base, and Mary E. Helms, 18, of C-21, Apartment 321, Marin City.

DIVORCES ASKED

LOWRIE—Christie E. vs. Bud R., cruelty.

Josephine Regalia Dies; Resident Of Marin 55 Years

Mrs. Josephine Regalia, a San Rafael resident for 55 years, died yesterday afternoon at a local hospital after a long illness. She was 74.

Mrs. Regalia lived at 19 Bayview street with her husband, Ambrose, a retired gardener, who survives. She is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Nora Mainini of South San Francisco, Mrs. Irene Miller of San Anselmo and Mrs. Marie Sauer of San Rafael, and by five grandchildren.

A native of Italy, she was a member of the Italian Catholic Federation of San Rafael and of San Rafael Circle 137 of Druids.

A requiem High Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Entombment will be at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Anna Duffy Dies In Sausalito

Mrs. Anna Amelia Duffy, Sausalito waterfront resident for more than 65 years and a friend of author Jack London, died at her home at 215 Bridgeway late Saturday after a brief illness. She was 88.

Mrs. Duffy's home is on the Boardwalk just north of the Valhalla Inn, where she once worked in the early days of the famed tavern. In later years, she had been highly successful in buying and selling real estate in the area and at one time owned and later sold the colorful "Old Castle by the Sea" building at Bridgeway and Richardson street.

Around the turn of the century, Mrs. Duffy became a close friend of Jack London during his Sausalito visits.

A native of Russia, Mrs. Duffy emigrated to New York when she was 14. After an earlier marriage, she married William Duffy in 1912. He survives her.

She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Forde of Sausalito; a son, Gustave Elk of Fort Bragg; a sister, Mrs. Ida Heynen of Sausalito, and a brother, Fred Otto of St. Petersburg, Fla. There are also six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Russell and Gooch Chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be private.

Lars Olsen Nielsen Dies At Age 97

Lars Olsen Nielsen, a retired carpenter, died yesterday at his home at 52 Princess street, Sausalito, three years short of the century mark.

Nielsen was born 97 years ago in Denmark. He came to the United States, and Marin County, 18 years ago, after his retirement. He made his home in Sausalito with Dr. C. F. Larsen, a nephew.

Private funeral services will be held Wednesday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Emma Coppin

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma L. Coppin, resident of San Anselmo since coming to Marin County 10 years ago from Paris, France, were held today at Chapel of the Hills, in San Anselmo. Burial was in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mrs. Coppin, 86, died in a local hospital yesterday after a year's illness.

She and her late husband, George, who was a precision instrument maker in France prior to his retirement, made their home with Mrs. Coppin's sister, Mrs. Betty Rourke, at 353 San Francisco boulevard in San Anselmo. Coppin died about three years ago.

In addition to her sister, Mrs. Coppin is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Mitchell of Mill Valley, and three grandchildren.

Herbert S. Tipping, Pharmacist, Dies

Funeral arrangements are pending for Herbert Spencer Tipping, a native of Mill Valley, who died Friday at the Ft. Miley Veterans' Hospital in San Francisco after suffering a heart attack at his home at 3 Summit avenue. He was 62.

His only survivor is a stepbrother, Walter Muntz, also of Mill Valley.

A bachelor, Tipping was a pharmacist. He had been employed at Vernon's Pharmacy in Mill Valley for 14 years.

Tipping's parents had made their home in San Francisco but maintained a Mill Valley summer home where he was born in 1896. The Tipping family moved to Mill Valley when their San Francisco home was destroyed in the 1906 fire and earthquake.

Tipping had been a member of the Army Medical Corps in World War I and had been a registered pharmacist since 1917. He was a long-time member of the California Pharmaceutical Assn.

Mrs. Elisa Nieri Dies In Kentfield

A Requiem Mass for Mrs. Elisa Nieri, wife of Silvio Nieri of Kentfield who owns the Golden Gate Salami Co. of San Francisco, will be offered Wednesday at St. Sebastian's Church, Greenbrae, at 9:30 a.m. The funeral procession will leave Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, at 9:10 a.m. Committal will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at the Keaton Chapel tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Nieri, a resident of Kentfield for 37 years, died at her 33 Laurel Grove avenue home Saturday night after long illness. She was 62 years old.

She came to California 44 years ago from Italy. She was a member of the ladies auxiliary to the Sons of Italy of San Rafael.

Two sons, A. L. Nieri, assistant cashier at the First National Bank of San Rafael, and Alfred F. Nieri of Kentfield, who is in business with his father, survive, in addition to Mrs. Nieri's husband.

Minnie Johnston Dies In Hub City

Minnie Jonston of San Anselmo, 82-year-old native of England and a Marin County resident for 11 years, died yesterday after a long illness.

Death came at the home of her son, Milburn, at 1514 Sir Francis Drake boulevard where she lived with her husband, John, a retired grocery salesman.

Mrs. Johnston, who came to the United States when she was a child, was a resident of Michigan before moving to Marin in 1947.

Besides her husband, she is survived by another son, Ernest of Fairfax, and two grandchildren.

Family services were held today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Entombment was at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Orphelia S. Gugel Of Nicasio Dies

Family funeral services for Mrs. Orphelia Stull Gugel of Nicasio, assistant to the San Francisco Chronicle's literary editor, were held today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Inurnment followed in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Mrs. Gugel, 61, died this morning in a local hospital. She had been hospitalized for the last three months of a six-month illness.

She worked in a New York publishing house before coming to the West Coast about 30 years ago.

She was associated with the Chronicle for 19 years.

Mrs. Gugel's husband, George, was formerly a bartender at DeBorba's cocktail lounge in Novato and is now a route man for the Fairfax French Laundry and Cleaners.

Also surviving at the Nicasio home are the Gugels' daughter, Mrs. Joan Morris, and her four children. Another daughter, Mrs. Jane Benet, is food editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, under the name "Jane Friendly."

Additional survivors are a son, John Gugel of San Rafael; a brother, John Stull of New Jersey; a sister, Carolyn Stull of San Francisco, and a fifth grandchild.

Retired Cook Dies In Leap From Span

A retired San Francisco cook Saturday became the 183rd known suicide from the Golden Gate Bridge.

John Losky, 68, left a note in his coat on the bridge, saying he had been ill for five months and "I cannot take it any longer."

Ike Names Military Aid Study Group

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today named a committee of former government officials to evaluate the U. S. military aid program in terms of how to strengthen national security.

He announced the appointment of William H. Draper Jr., a Republican who was undersecretary of the Army in the Truman administration, to head the committee.

In a "Dear Bill" letter to Draper, the President said: "What is needed from your committee is a forthright evaluation of the extent to which future military assistance can, by strengthening our friends and allies, advance U. S. national security and foreign policy interests."

Appointment of the study committee comes in the midst of an Eisenhower drive to cut government spending.

'A PROPER TEST'

Top Court Upholds Alabama School Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that the Alabama pupil placement law—as written—is constitutional.

Today's brief order affirmed a lower court ruling to this effect. An appeal had been filed on behalf of four Negro children.

A three-judge federal court held last May that the Alabama statute, on its face, provides the machinery for administering schools "in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

The opinion said the record in the case did not show the exclusion of the four Negroes from schools of their choice to be based on anything but a proper test. But the opinion added if the law were not properly administered it might be declared unconstitutional in some future lawsuit.

Today's high court order made it plain that it was affirming "on the limited grounds on which the district court rested its decision."

The case started with an application by the children in August, 1957, for transfer to white schools in Birmingham nearer their homes. They brought suit in federal court after the Birmingham Board of Education failed to act on their application within a time limit set by the school placement law.

Alabama is one of 10 southern states that have adopted various forms of school placement or pupil assignment laws since the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation ruling. The high court previously declined to review lower court decisions which held Virginia and Louisiana pupil assignment laws unconstitutional and North Carolina's law constitutional.

The Alabama statute, adopted in 1955 and amended in 1957, directs local school boards, in assigning pupils to schools, to consider a number of factors. The latter include available space, psychological qualifications, the possibility of disorder and "the maintenance or severance of established social and psychological relationships with other pupils and with teachers." Race is not mentioned as a factor.

In their appeal to Supreme Court, lawyers for the four Negro children contended that the fact that race is not mentioned is immaterial.

They argued that the law was clearly intended "to prevent non-segregated public education in Alabama at all costs."

Merchant Seaman Cuts His Wrists

A 54-year-old San Anselmo merchant seaman today slashed his wrists with a pocket knife but was not seriously hurt.

Norman Swall was taken by ambulance from his home at 82 Oak Knoll avenue, San Anselmo, to Ross General Hospital at 7:45 a.m.

Swall used a pocket knife with two-inch blade to cut his wrists and inflict a superficial cut on his chest, said Police Officer Attilio Demaestri.

A tendon of Swall's right wrist was partially severed. His wounds were sutured and he was transferred to Marine Hospital in San Francisco.

Swall told hospital attendants he had been despondent about his health.

Grace Kelly, Prince Arrive For U.S. Visit

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco says she has no intentions now of going back into the movies.

She made the comment as she arrived yesterday with her husband Prince Rainier for a monthlong informal visit here and in Philadelphia.

The princess, former Hollywood actress Grace Kelly, plans to see some Broadway shows, shop and visit friends here with her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

Tomorrow night they will attend a state dinner at the Lotos Club. They will spend Thanksgiving at the Kelly home. They are scheduled to appear at the Imperial Ball Dec. 4 at the Astor Hotel.

Minds, too, need cultivating

Nourish the mind, and the harvest can be bountiful beyond all measure.

Our nation, up to now, has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nourished in our colleges and universities. The kind of learning developed there has made possible our American way of life.

Today these colleges are facing a serious crisis. Low salaries are driving too many gifted teachers into other fields. Many classrooms are seriously overcrowded. And by 1967 enrollments are expected to double!

Our institutions of higher learning are doing their best to meet these challenges. But they need help. Help the college of your choice now, and help perpetuate the American way of life.

If you want to know more about what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Both Parties Eying Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Republicans and Democrats have their eyes on Chicago as a possible site for the 1960 presidential nominating conventions—but for opposite reasons.

The Republicans want to revive their strength in the Midwest, where they received a whipping in the Nov. 4 elections.

The Democrats want to flex their new Midwest muscles and keep their opponents down.

The Democratic National Committee is expected to name its convention site at a Dec. 6 meeting. The Republicans probably will wait until late December or mid-January.

A choice in the Midwest is by no means certain. Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has just come back from Miami Beach, where he inspected its possibilities as a convention site.

If both parties want the Midwest, the odds are on Chicago. No other city from the area has bid for both conventions.

In 1956, the Democrats met in Chicago while the Republicans met in San Francisco. But if they meet in 1960 at the same site, probably a week apart, they could share construction and decoration costs.

Kansas City, Louisville and Cleveland also have bid for the Republican convention.

Philadelphia, Atlantic City and New York in the East and San Francisco and Los Angeles in the Far West are bidding for both conventions.

Nixon, Rockefeller To Go Own Ways Politically

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently have reached an understanding to avoid stepping on each other's political toes until 1960.

A weekend conference here between the vice president and the Republican governor-elect of New York produced an informal agreement pointed publicly at cooperation between them in rebuilding the GOP from its heavy election this year.

Rockefeller endorsed a thesis Nixon first advanced in October—that the party will be best served if it develops a number of men of national stature as possible presidential nominees for 1960.

While Nixon makes no secret that he wants that nomination, Rockefeller said he is interested only in doing a good job as governor of New York. Asked if this wasn't the best way to run for president, Rockefeller only grinned.

Rockefeller's statement that he intends to confine his activities to New York was taken as assurance he will not personally interfere in the spade work Nixon's supporters are engaged in elsewhere.

Nixon, on the other hand, obviously is not going to intrude in New York, where Rockefeller is expected to have control of the largest of the state delegations to the convention two years from now.

It also seems implicit in the understanding between the two men that Rockefeller will not lend his support to any stop-Nixon move such as Harold E. Stassen is trying to get off the ground.

Vandals Use Paint On Firehouse Bulb

Somebody gave the green light to the Homestead Volunteer Fire Department during the weekend, but firemen don't like the way it was done.

Fire Chief Chester Kirby reported a 24-hour light which shines over the alarm button at the Homestead firehouse was covered with green paint by vandals.

In addition, Kirby said, a stop sign at La Verne and Melrose avenue was painted. Here the vandal had used red paint to obscure the lettering.

On Coast Maneuvers

Army Capt. Donald J. Hernandez, 22, of 495 Pinewood drive, Marinwood, and Pfc. Richard G. Downes, son of Mrs. Mary G. Downes, 285 Madrone avenue, Larkspur, recently participated with the 4th Armored Division in "Exercise Rocky Shoals," a joint Army-Navy maneuver on the California coast.

Alaskans Going To Polls For 1st State Election

JUNEAN, Alaska (AP) — Between 35,000 and 40,000 residents are expected to brave snow and bitter cold in many parts of this vast territory tomorrow to vote in the first state election.

Democrats are heavily favored in the balloting for two new United States senators, one congressman, governor, secretary of state and 60 members of Alaska's first state legislature.

There seemed general agreement that E. L. Bartlett, Democratic delegate to Congress for the past 14 years, would win one Senate seat easily. The race between Republican Gov. Mike Stepovich and ex-Gov. Ernest Gruening, a Democrat, appeared close.

Nixon Going To London, Will Lunch With Queen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon leaves for London today on a five-day visit that will give Britons their first chance to size him up as a leading contender for the U.S. presidency.

Radio Moscow and the London Daily Worker all but came right out and called on British Communists to give the vice president and his wife, Pat, a violent Venezuela-style protest reception.

The trip is being made by Nixon to represent this country at the dedication of the American Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral.

His itinerary will be highlighted by the dedication ceremony on Wednesday but also will include a luncheon with Queen Elizabeth II and private meetings with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and other top officials of the Conservative and Labor Parties.

De Gaulle Endorsed In National Vote For New Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle, without having lifted a finger in the campaign, won another strong endorsement from the French people in first-round voting yesterday for the new National Assembly.

With many candidates trying to ride de Gaulle's coattails, outright foes of the premier made the poorest showing.

A strong rightist swing was accompanied by a Communist decline, though the anti-Gaullist Communists were still the strongest single party. Red chieftain Jacques Duclos faced a stiff fight in the runoff next Sunday.

The de Gaulle tide swamped such non-Communist foes as former Premiers Pierre Mendes-France and Maurice Bourges-Maunoury. Both lost their Assembly seats on the first ballot.

NEW PARTY

It boomed to second rank—after the Communists—a brand new de Gaullist party, the Union for the New Republic (UNR) headed by Information Minister Jacques Soustelle.

This was the clearcut trend though only 41 of the 465 deputies from mainland France were elected by a majority vote over all opponents. The remainder will be chosen in runoffs next Sunday, when a winner will need only a plurality.

RESULTS LISTED

With only 20,994,797 of the 28 million eligible bothering to vote, the Interior Ministry gave this breakdown of the results:

Communists, elected 1 deputy, 3,882,204 popular votes, 18.94 per cent of the vote.

UNR, 8 deputies, 3,603,958 votes 17.6 per cent.

Socialists, 2 deputies, 3,167,354 votes, 15.5 per cent.

Independents, mostly rightists, 15 deputies, 2,816,176 votes, 13.74 per cent.

The remaining votes were scattered among 14 other parties and groups.

U.S. Proposes Going It Alone On Space Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States today proposed that the U.N. go ahead without the Soviet Union if the Russians refuse to take part in a proposed international study of outer space cooperation.

The proposal was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who told the U.N.'s 81-National Political Committee he had been unable to reach agreement with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin in private talks.

Lodge said he hoped Zorin would vote for a revised 20-nation resolution which embodies many of the elements in a rival Soviet plan. He added, however, that failure of the Soviet Union to agree should not halt U.N. action.

"We hope the Soviet Union will cooperate," Lodge said. "If the Soviet Union does not take part, I do not think that is a reason to falter. We can still do useful work."

Lodge reported that the United States and the Soviet Union had run into a solid deadlock over the composition of the proposed U.N. committee which would be given the task of working out a permanent agency on the peaceful uses of outer space.

Western diplomats predicted a handsome majority for the 20-nation proposal with or without Soviet support.

Red Guns Pound Offshore Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist shore batteries lifted their fire today after pounding the Quemoy Island with the heaviest barrage in nearly three weeks.

The Red guns fell silent on this even-numbered, no-shelling day. The Quemoy garrison reported hundreds of Communist soldiers went back to work on coastal fortifications facing the offsore islands.

Nationalist defense headquarters said the Reds unloaded 1,975 shells on Quemoy and the smaller islands yesterday.

The National Bureau of Standards has said that a wood siding of white keeps a house cooler. White paint, it reports, gives more protection against the sun than aluminum, colored paints and other surfaces.

MERGER IN AFRICA—Map locates West Africa republics of Guinea and Ghana whose premiers said today would be joined in a united republic, subject to approval by the legislatures of each. The two countries are about 300 miles apart at their nearest point. Conakry and Accra are their capital cities. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Guinea, Ghana Tell Plans For Merger

LONDON (UPI)—British diplomats wondered today whether the projected Guinea-Ghana merger means the Commonwealth has gained a Guinea or lost a Ghana.

The joint announcement yesterday in which the two nations said they planned to join forces to form the "nucleus of a union of West African states" made no mention of Ghana's membership in the Commonwealth.

British experts said the situation was unprecedented in Commonwealth history and raised problems that could be solved only by agreement among all the Commonwealth nations.

They wondered whether Ghana's Premier Kwame Nkrumah wanted to leave the Commonwealth or planned to bring Guinea in as a new partner.

Greek Royalty Heads For S.F. After L.A. Tour

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Queen Frederika of Greece—showing no signs of weariness after dancing with Hollywood stars at a party that lasted well into the small hours—boarded a train for San Francisco last night following a three-day visit to Hollywood and Los Angeles.

The trim, smiling monarch accompanied by her attractive 20-year-old daughter, Princess Sophie, presided over the Imperial Ball of the World Adoption International fund at a fashionable Beverly Hills hotel Saturday night.

About 1,200 society leaders and entertainment stars attended the affair at which her royal majesty danced with socialite-actor Robert Stack among others.

But the indefatigable monarch was bright-eyed until some smog caught up with her—and ready to see more sights when she began her final day of visits yesterday.

"I never suffered so much with the eyes," her royal majesty complained during the height of the smog yesterday.

Paris has more night clubs than New York City.

Oil Well Honored

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The University of Texas is building a permanent campus memorial to an oil well, the Santa Rita No. 1.

This is the well that "blew in" May 28, 1923, on land owned by the university of West Texas — long considered an "oilman's graveyard."

The oilmen who leased mineral rights to the land called the well the Santa Rita after the Saint of Impossible. But their success provided the university with the first revenue to a fund that now totals about 300 million dollars.

Allies Disagree On West Berlin Policy

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers were reported still unable to agree today on a policy of unified action toward the Communist challenge in Berlin.

There were many indications that the United States, Britain and France were finding it difficult to agree on a plan of action if and when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev unlimbers a definite proposal for dismantling the four-power regime for the city.

Khrushchev declared two weeks ago that the Soviet Union was ready to pull out of the four-power setup, a leftover from the victorious Allies' cooperation in Germany, and leave the Western powers on their own in dealing with the East Germans.

The West's dilemma was how far to go in dealing with Moscow's East German satellite. Despite official denials, reports persisted here, in London, in Washigton and in Bonn that the British see less danger in such dealing than do the Americans, French or West Germans.

The West German government in Bonn is opposed to any Western dealings with the East German Reds. It favors the use of tanks to break down the barricades and fighting planes to protect an airlift if the East Germans get tough about letting supplies through to the 10,000 British, American and French troops holding the island of West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

The West's uncertainty seemed to stem partly from the fact it was still facing an "iffy" situation. So far, Khrushchev hadn't lifted a finger to carry out his threat.

Atop official at U.S. headquarters here indicated there had been no Western decision because "after all the Russians haven't announced what they are going to do."

Woman Charged With Hiring Love Killer

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A 22-year-old social worker is charged with hiring a man to kill the wife of a state highway patrolman she loved. The man she allegedly hired for $500 turned out to be a police detective.

The intended murder was not committed. The highway patrolman was not implicated.

'MURDERER' HIRED

The warrant for her arrest charged that she solicited Charlotte Detective Richard Ruth "to murder one Frances Smith," mother of two children, for $500.

Police gave this account:

Miss Massey asked a man in Charlotte about two weeks ago to suggest someone for the job of killing Mrs. Smith. The man she asked was a police informer who notified Detective Ruth.

TAPE RECORDER

Ruth met Miss Massey Nov. 15. He carried a hidden tape recorder. She gave him a $500 check.

Police said Miss Massey was not arrested until yesterday, since officials had not decided on the charge to be placed against her.

Charlotte Solicitor (prosecutor) W. H. Scarborough said the charge is a misdemeanor, carrying a maximum sentence of two years.

SPLENDID RECORD

Patrol Col. James R. Smith (no relation) said at Raleigh that the trooper "had a splendid record and had been an outstanding member of the patrol."

Lt. Willard said Miss Massey, an assistant case worker with the Guilford County Welfare Department, made a statement to police that cleared Trooper Smith of any implication in the case.

Miss Massey's father D. F. Massey was a Greensboro policeman for 12 years. In 1948 he was arrested for breaking and entering a cafe and served a prison sentence. About three years ago he was found dead by a roadside in Sampson County.

As a high school student, Miss Massey won the national Knights of Pythias public speaking contest in St. Louis, Mo., in 1953, and was awarded a $1,000 scholarship. At Wake Forest College, she was the first girl freshman to make the debating team. After graduation she attended Wake Forest Law School for a year.

Crime Rises 11 Per Cent During 1958

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI said today crime increased by 11 per cent in the first nine months of this year, compared with the corresponding period in 1957.

Based on preliminary reports from cities over 25,000 population, the FBI crime index showed the following increases for seven types of offenses:

Robbery, 18 per cent; burglary, 14 per cent; forcible rape, 13 per cent; larceny over $50, 13 per cent; auto theft, 5 per cent; murder, 3 per cent; aggravated assault, 2 per cent.

HELP IS IN VAIN

Can't Stop Car, Drives To Death

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A woman drove to her death early today as a policeman in a cruiser vainly tried to tell her how to shut off the ignition of her speeding automobile as it approached a steep hill.

The woman was identified as Myrtle Einhaus, 49.

Officer Ellsworth Greiner said he was sitting in a restaurant drinking a cup of coffee when his cruiser was sideswiped. He dashed outside, jumped into his car and gave chase.

"Pull over to the curb," he demanded of the woman driver when he drew alongside.

"I can't stop the car!" she cried out.

"Turn off the ignition key," Greiner directed.

"I can't find it!" she shouted back.

Approaching cars forced the officer to drop back as the woman reached a hill. There is a turn at the end of the hill. Mrs. Einhaus failed to make it. Her car hit a pole and she was killed.

Parallel Parking Protest Prepared

San Rafael businessman Andrew Pedroli, who has properties on B street, declared today he will represent 25 to 30 fellow merchants on protesting the newly installed parallel parking at next Monday's meeting of the city council.

Pedroli estimates that the changeover from angle to parallel parking on two blocks of B street resulted in the loss of 23 cars. Assuming that each space is used about 18 times a day, the loss amounts to 414 parking spaces each day, Pedroli estimated.

"The city works for many, many years to beautify the street, then they take business right out of the street," Pedroli asserted.

He said he feels the committee that worked out the parallel parking plan made a sincere effort to improve the street. "They probably thought they were doing the right thing, but they made a big mistake," he declared.

Sheriff Solves Killing Of Dad

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Sheriff Ray Wilson's probe of his father's 18-year-old slaying has ended in conviction of two Crestview brothers.

The Okaloosa County officer was a 12-year-old boy when a shotgun blast fatally wounded Crestview Police Chief Lester Wilson. The boy grew up, became sheriff two years ago and launched a new investigation that reached out as far as Texas and North Carolina for witnesses.

TWO GUILTY

A Circuit Court jury yesterday found Jesse Cayson, 56, and Cayson's brother Doyle, 51, guilty of first degree murder in the 1940 killing. It recommended mercy, which means sentences of life imprisonment for both men.

William Dorace Brown, 49, accused with the Caysons, was acquitted.

A prosecution witness, Mrs. Mattie Lee Taylor Boeck of San Antonio, Tex., testified she saw the three defendants in a cafe the night of the slaying and later saw them follow Wilson in a car with lights off.

WOMAN BEATEN

Mrs. Boeck said she was beaten up later that night by an unidentified assailant who threatened worse "if you don't forget what you saw tonight."

Another prosecution witness, Mrs. Marjorie King of Rocky Mount, N.C., said she heard three men urge Jesse Cayson to go to the state mental hospital at Chattahoochee because they had heard he was going around the county saying he had shot Wilson.

How Do You Know Your Business Is Really Covered by Adequate Insurance?

You don't—unless you insure through an independent insurance agent. Here's why:

No Single Insurance Company Offers Every Type of Business Insurance.

If you buy insurance directly from an insurance company, it's likely you will hear only about the policy or policies that company offers. But if you insure your business through an independent insurance agent, here's what happens: 1. He personally surveys your plant or working site. 2. He suggests ways you may be able to reduce the premiums you pay. 3. He determines your insurance needs. 4. He chooses for you the best insurance for your business out of hundreds of policies offered by different, competing insurance companies.

You can be sure your business has adequate insurance coverage when you insure through an independent insurance agent. So, look for this seal before you buy insurance. Only an independent insurance agent can display it.

THERE GOES HUGH — Halfback Hugh McElhenny (39) of 49ers starts out on a 39-yard run to Green Bay's 39-yard line in first quarter of their game in Milwaukee yesterday. Leading the play is end Billy Wilson (84). McElhenny enjoyed a banner day, gaining 159 yards on 22 carries. (AP Wirephoto)

Improved Blocking Sparks 49ers To 33-12 Triumph

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Coach Frankie Albert of San Francisco today credited a return to form by his team's offensive line as the big factor in the 49ers' 33-12 National Football League win over Green Bay.

Backs Hugh HcElhenny and Joe Perry were repeatedly sprung loose as they gained 159 and 73 yards respectively.

"It was the first time we got lanes open for our backs this season, allowing them to move with freedom," he said.

Albert shrugged off the brawls which dotted yesterday's tussle.

"Tempers flared up, that's all," the voluble coach said. "Those things will happen."

Neither the 49er players involved nor Referee Bob Austin were able to pinpoint the cause of the fights. One sideline observer said he believed that the main trouble was that Green Bay's defensive platoon became frustrated with the inability of the team's offensive unit to move the ball.

The Californians gained 539 to Green Bay's 236. But at the end of three quarters, the San Franciscans were lucky to hold a 12-12 tie. The Packers stopped drive after drive inside the 20 and might have led had not the usually reliable Billy Howton dropped a pass in the end zone.

Y. A. Tittle hit Billy Wilson with a 6-yard scoring toss in early minutes of play to culminate a 43-yard play. Minutes later Green Bay uncorked an 80-yard drive with Vito Parilli tossing 15 yards to Howton for the score.

The rest of the first three periods was a bizarre battle of field goals. Green Bay's Paul Hornung made two and had two blocked while Gordy Soltau made two, missed two and saw two blocked by a Green Bay line led by linebacker Tom Bettis, a real toughie all day.

The Packers crumbled in the final period. Tittle passed to Wilson for 15 yards for one score and after a Packer fumble, Tittle found R. C. Owens on a 23-yard "Alley-Oop" pass. It was the first Alley-Ooper to score this season.

The final 49er tally came after another Alley-Oop toss after a Packer fumble. Interference was called and the 49ers got the ball on the one. McElhenny scored.

That ended the scoring, but not the action. Jostling and fighting broke out, climaxed by a near riot on the final play of the game. Jim Pace of San Francisco was knocked out of bounds and fists and helmets started flying in a wild melee that almost turned into a riot as Packers and spectators rushed to the scene. Fortunately cooler heads prevailed.

Sharing the statistical spotlight with McElhenny and Perry were Tittle, who completed 20 of 35 passes for 283 yards, and Wilson with 8 catches for 128 yards.

A disappointing crowd of 19,786 witnessed the clash. The win left the San Franciscans in fourth with a 4-5 mark while the Packers are mired in last place with a 1-7-1 record. Off yesterday's performance, they don't figure to improve their cellar status.

On the horizon for the 49ers are two tussles with senational Baltimore, including one next Sunday at Baltimore.

GREAT MAILS STRICKEN AT ELKO BANQUET—INDIGESTION

ELKO, Nev., (UPI) — Former pitching star Walter (The Great) Mails, 61, was to be released from Elko General Hospital today after suffering an attack of indigestion during a banquet Saturday night.

Doctors at first feared that the popular former Cleveland Indian had suffered a heart attack, but further examination proved his condition was only what Mails termed "gas pains."

"The electro-cardiograph showed I was in excellent condition," Mails said. "The doctor just suggested that I slow down a bit and go on a diet. Also, it is possible that the high altitude bothered me."

Mails, promotion director for the San Francisco Giants, was here to speak to a sports banquet along with Jim Davenport, Giant third baseman. He is a resident of San Quentin Village.

Macauley Off To Good Start With St. Louis

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now they know why they call Ed Macauley of the St. Louis Hawks "Easy Ed."

He finds it easy winning as a coach in the National Basketball Assn.

Since taking over from Andy Phillip last week, Macauley has guided the Hawks two two victories in as many games. They defeated Minneapolis 114-109 Saturday night and Cincinnati 100-89 in yesterday's natioally-televised game.

The Hawks, however, have been unable to gain ground to Detroit, runner-up to St. Louis in the Western Division. The pistons turned back Minneapolis 124-109 last night after beating Cincinnati 103-86 Saturday.

WARRIORS WIN

In another Sunday night game, Jack George's three points in the final 49 seconds gave the Philadelphia Warriors a 110-107 win over the Syracuse Nationals.

Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette shared scoring honors for St. Louis yesterday with 24 points apiece.

Cincinnati now has won only two games in 11 starts.

George Yardley was the big man for Detroit last night, scoring 34 points as the Pistons increased their second place margin over Minneapolis to two games. Rookie Elgin Baylor had 30 for the Lakers.

George scored 11 points in a final quarter rally for the Warriors. Red Kerr had 25 points for Syracuse.

In other Saturday night games, the New York Knickerbockers roared to their 10th victory in 11 starts—and eighth straight—by beating Syracuse 114-99, and Boston nipped Philadelphia, 105-100.

BASS CLINCHES RUSHING TITLE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

College of the Pacific and Fresno State wind up their season with a Thanksgiving Day collision.

Both will be fresh from victories last Saturday. COP crushed San Diego State 68-17 and Fresno ground out a 35-0 lacing over San Francisco State, champ of the Far Western Conference.

COP halfback Dick Bass clinched the national collegiate rushing title while figuring in six of COP's nine touchdowns—he made five of them on runs and one on a pass from Gary Hubb.

The brilliant halfback pushed his season rushing total to 1,228 yards by gaining 191 yards on 23 carries against San Diego.

U.S. Doubles Team Gains Semi-Finals

SYDNEY (AP)—Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo, the probable U.S. Davis Cup doubles team, reached the semifinals of the New South Wales Tennis Tournament today, defeating Australians Roy Emerson and Bob Mark 4-6, 13-11, 10-8, 7-5.

The top Aussie pair of Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser kept pace, downing Andres Gimeno and Jose Arilla of Spain, 7-9, 11-9, 6-3, 6-1.

Colts Romp Over Rams, 34-7; Near Western Division Title

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Baltimore Colts are galloping toward their first pro football division title in 10 seasons and the Cleveland Browns are edging toward their 12th in 13 campaigns.

Coach Webb Ewbank's Colts, led by John Unitas and Lenny Moore, scored 21 points in six minutes during the final period yesterday to crush the Los Angeles Rams. 34-7. Baltimore, which has whipped its closest pursuers in its last two starts, held its two-game lead in the National League's Western Division with only three to play. The Colts kicked the Rams three games off the pace.

Coach Paul Brown's Cleveland club hung to its one-game margin over the New York Giants in the Eastern Division by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-14. New York, which slipped out of a first-place tie with Cleveland by bowing to the Pittsburgh Steelers Nov. 16, bounced back by blanking the Washington Redskins, 30-0.

The Chicago Bears, 17-0 victims of the Colts a week ago, remained two games behind Baltimore by rallying to down the Detroit Lions, 20-7. The defeat officially ended Detroit's slim hopes of keeping the Western Division and League titles.

Pittsburgh remained a game behind New York and two behind Cleveland by defeating the Chicago Cardinals 27-20, on Bobby Layne's 78-yard pass-run touchdown toss to Jack Orr in the last six minutes. Ollie Matson of the Cardinals raced 101 yards to score with the first kickoff. In the other game, Y. A. Tittle threw two passes to Billy Wilson and one to R. C. Owens to spark the San Francisco 49ers to a 33-12 victory over the Green Bay Packers.

49ERS NEXT

Each of the 12 clubs has three more games. The Colts didn't win a division title during three seasons in the old All-American Conference and failed in six previous NFL campaigns. But this looks like Baltimore's year. If they defeat the visiting 49ers next Sunday and the Steelers down the Bears at Pittsburgh, the Colts will have the western title clinched before they wind up their regular season next month at Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Cleveland has a smaller lead but appears—on paper— to have a slightly easier schedule than New York. The Browns entertain the crippled Redskins next Sunday and play at Philadelphia before invading New York. The Giants entertain the Eagles, then have what could be a tough game in Detroit before meeting the Browns in a game that already is a virtual Yankee Stadium sellout.

UNITAS HOT

Unitas, who missed two games with cracked ribs, returns to Baltimore's quarterback post yesterday and bombed the Rams with their own favorite weapon on the first play from scrimmage. He fired to Moore and Lenny raced 58 yards to score.

Moore also ran eight yards to score in the second period, but the Colts were clinging to a 13-7 lead when they thrilled a capacity home crowd of 57,557 with their last-period spree. Unitas passed 12 yards to Jim Mutscheller and plunged a yard while L. G. Dupre ran six for three quick touchdowns.

RAMS SCHACKLED

The Rams scored on pass-runs plays covering 64, 65, 72, 92 and 93 yards in other games this year, but never got untracked against Baltimore's defense, the league's finest. The Colts recovered five Los Angeles fumbles, turning two into touchdowns and using two to stop drives on the Baltimore one. The Colts also intercepted four passes.

The Bears trailed at halftime in Detroit, 7-6, but won on Zeke Bratkowski's five and 67-yard scoring passes to Bill McColl in the third period. A capacity crowd of 55,280 watched the Lions, who clobbered the Browns in the 1957 championship game, 59-14, bow out of the western race while being throttled by the Chicago defense.

BUT FOR A PROMISE . . .

Kenny Washington Might Have Been Ball Great

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Kenny Washington, a great football star both in college and as a pro, might have become one of baseball's finest infielders if he had not been a man of his word.

The pledge Washington made back in 1945 was to play with the Los Angeles Rams the following year. But that was the year his former teammate at UCLA, Jackie Robinson, broke the "color line" in major league baseball by being brought up by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The major league scouts who knew Washington as a great high school and college baseball player, immediately besieged him to sign a baseball contract.

"I had given my word to Mr. Chile Walsh and Mr. Dan Reeves of the Rams to play football for them and I couldn't go back on it.

"And as I look back now I feel it was just as important for a colored player to break into pro football as it was in baseball," Washington said.

For 13 years prior to Washington's addition to the Rams roster, there had not been a Negro in the National Football League.

Washington's baseball ability was brought to light for a new generation recently when he was signed as a part-time scout by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

He started playing baseball at Lincoln High School here in Los Angeles because until his junior year Washington was too small for football. But he became an outstanding shortstop and even as a freshman he was just a shade below Bobby Doerr in the battle for the city batting championship. The next year he won it and his four-year high school batting average was .425.

At UCLA Washington played only freshman and sophomore baseball, but as a sophomore he batted .454 and played third base. Robinson came to UCLA as a junior college transfer and while he and Washington were on the same football team, contrary to common belief, they never played baseball together.

In football Washington was a tailback and combined brilliant running with outstanding passing ability. In the 1937 UCLA-Southern California game he threw a pass that carried 62 yards in the air that still stands as a UCLA record and the 1,915 yards he made rushing over a three-year period also is a school record.

And in the three-year period he was with the Rams, Washington, despite two bad knees on which he had undergone surgery, had 859 yards rushing for an all-time Ram high average of 6.14 yards per carry.

Washington retired from football after the 1948 season but the baseball "bug" was still with him and in 1950 he tried out for the New York Giants.

Leo Durocher was manager of the Giants then and while he was impressed with Washington's batting in spring training he felt the years of football had stiffened him up too much for big league play.

On Durocher's recommendation, Washington joined the Los Angeles Angels and played part of the 1950 season before his football injuries made it too difficult.

WEEK'S BOXING CARD

Folley Battles Briton In Comeback Attempt

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Zora Folley, whose status as a heavyweight title contender was slightly tarnished in England, thinks he can get even today. It's a little complicated.

Folley fights the man, Joe Bygraves, who beat the man, Henry Cooper, who beat him, in October. The Folley-Bygraves bout is scheduled for Leicester, England with Art Swide of Pittsburgh and Joey Armstrong of Jamaica in a companion 10-round heavy match.

The latest rankings show Folley, who had been No. 1, listed as No. 3 by Ring and No. 4 by the National Boxing Assn.

On the theory that any man who is batting 1.000 with 14 knockouts in 14 fights must be worth looking at, there is interest in the appearance of Victor Zalazar of Argentina on tonight's show at St. Nicholas Arena in New York. Zalazar meets Frank Keating of Wallingford, Conn.

Zalazar's only other U.S. appearance was two weeks ago when he stopped the durable Otis Woodard in five rounds. Woodard recently fought a draw with Paddy Young.

When Carl "Bobo" Olson and Paddy Young fought in 1953, the American middleweight title was at stake. Olson's victory sent him into a world title match with Randy Turpin which Olson won.

They meet again tomorrow night in Oakland, a pair of veteran light heavyweights on a comeback. Olson who retired once after knockouts by Sugar Ray Robinson, stopped Don Grant last month in a comeback start. Young was held to a draw by Woodard.

Willi Besmanoff of Germany and Mike De John, two heavyweights who vaulted into prominence by knocking out the same man—Alex Miteff of Argentina—top the Friday card at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Since he flattened Miteff, the lanky DeJohn from Syracuse, N.Y., has beaten Bob Baker and dropped two split decisions to Nino Valdez. Besmanoff stopped Miteff in his most recent start, Sept. 23. Earlier in the year he beat Pat McMurtry and lost to Harold Carter and Archie Moore.

The bout will be carried on NBC radio-TV.

Rudell Stitch, a promising newcomer from Louisville who broke even in two matches with Isaac Logart, faces experienced Yama Bahama of Bimini, British West Indies, on the Wednesday show from the Kentucky State Fair and Exposition center in Louisville.

Tamites Win Tennis Title

Tamalpais High School, whose tennis team completed an undefeated season Friday, should be even stronger on the courts next season.

All eight member of the Tam team will be back next year, including junior Toby Van Rossum Daum, and Tom Mathews, sophomores Dennis Langhoff, Bob Hope, Raoul Bozio and Steve Clark and freshmen Bob Scott and Brian Laurie.

Tam's vicitories were over Napa, Santa Rosa, Drake, Redwood, Vallejo and Montgomery for the North Bay League championship.

Detroit Offers Hoeft For Lumpe

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are trying to trade pitcher Bill Hoeft to the New York Yankees for infielder Jerry Lumpe.

The Tigers would throw in another player along with Hoeft in order to get Lumpe, who could solve Detroit's third base problem.

Sparrow-Mullins Team Captures Golf Tournament

Bud Sparrow and Audrey Mullins teamed up to win the Indian Valley Golf Club's "Mixed Two-Ball Turkey Shoot" golf tournament yesterday.

Results:

Bud Sparrow-Audrey Mullins, 83-16—67; C. B. Coleman-Betsy Evans, 88-19—69; John Badura-Colleen Smith, 89-19½—69½; Carl Williams-Helen Hardcastle, 98-28—70.

Match Vs. Par Sweepstakes: C. B. Coleman, one down; Fred Volz, two down; Steve Meuse, four down.

MacPhail Starts Work With O's

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lee MacPhail takes over today as general manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 41-year-old baseball executive was serving as director of player personnel for the New York Yankees when he agreed Nov. 5 to take the Oriole job. He is the son of Larry MacPhail, former owner of the Yanks.

Rose Bowl-Bound Cal Must Strengthen Pass Defense

Big Weakness In Narrow Victory Over Stanford

Pete Elliott admitted today his California Bears may have to make drastic revisions of their pass defense if they plan on stopping Iowa in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Despite an underdog role, young Pete and his charges definitely intend to stop the Hawkeyes, who are Big Ten champs and losers of only one game this year—to Ohio State.

"Maybe we're not the best team in the world," Elliott said, "but we've done everything asked of us this year. Maybe we're not so bad."

His Bears have a 7-3 record. They lost their first two games to College of the Pacific and Michigan State and their only Pacific Coast Conference loss was to Oregon State.

A close squeak came Saturday when California beat Stanford in the 61st Big Game 16-15 at Berkeley.

Stanford had lost seven games going into that one, but came alive with quarterbacks Bob Nicolet and Dick Norman completing 22 of 41 passes.

Halfback John Bond set up the first Indian touchdown when he took the ball on a double reverse and threw his first pass of the season, a 40-yarder to end Irv Nikolai.

Stanford's 23 passes were good for 279 yards.

What makes that dangerous for Cal is that Iowa has one of the best passers in the nation in Randy Duncan.

The Bears decided the Stanford running game was no menace—after it gained only 30 yards in the first half and rushed only two or three men most of the time.

The secondary stayed back to stop the passes, but time and again Indian receivers successfully maneuvered in front of or in back of the Bear defenders.

BOTTOM TO TOP

Elliott, the 31-year-old coach who brought California from the PCC cellar to the top spot in one short season, will give his players a rest while he does some advance planning.

He will go to Los Angeles this week to scout Saturday's Southern California-Notre Dame game.

California meets Notre Dame at Berkeley next Oct. 10 and USC also is on the schedule.

Elliott has his choice of films of two Iowa games, but he hasn't made up his mind yet which to take. Before deciding, he may spend a few moments talking with his brother Bumps.

Bumps is the new head coach-elect at Michigan and knows all about the Hawkeyes, who clobbered Michigan 37-14.

Stanford Coach Jack Curtice left it up to the men on the field after Norman hit end Joe Freis with a 21-yard touchdown pass with 90 seconds left.

They elected to go for the victory and 81,490 excited fans watched Skip Face as he started around right end. Fullback Billy Patton grabbed the halfback from behind. A flock of Bear linemen poured on top of him to save the day.

HART STARS

Quarterback Joe Kapp directed the Bear attack, as usual in fine fashion, but it was halfback Jack Hart who furnished the punch. The 184-pound senior scored both touchdowns on 1-yard plunges, and carried the ball 22 times for 103 yards. He also caught three passes for 48 yards.

The all important conversions came on an end sweep by Grover Garvin of San Rafael and a pass from Kapp to Wayne Crow.

Stanford took a 9-8 halftime lead when Face kicked an 18-yard field goal in the second quarter. He had scored the first Stanford touchdown in the first quarter on a 3-yard run right after Bond's pass.

Had the Bears last Saturday, Washington State would have been in the Rose Bowl picture since the Cougars wound up their season by beating Washington 18-14. That gave the northerners a 6-2 PCC record compared to California's 6-1.

Oregon upset Oregon State 20-0 and Southern California and UCLA played to a 15-15 tie. That left Oregon State at 5-3 and Southern at 4-2-1.

Washington State had to rally in the second half to beat Washington, 1-6 in PCC activity. The Cougars were behind 14-12, but moved 79 yards for the go-ahead touchdown on the third quarter kickoff and dominated play thereafter. They got to the Washington 3 twice, but failed to score.

USC THIRD

Southern California finished third in league standings and also had to come from behind. A fourth quarter 74-yard kickoff return by Luther Hayes and a two-point conversion run by Tom Maudlin tied the battle. UCLA finished with a 2-4-1 conference mark.

Oregon, 4-4, held Oregon State to only four first downs and gave Coach Tommy Prothro his first defeat at Corvallis in four years there. Fullback Dave Powell scored twice, on a one-yard plunge and a 10-yard run.

California, Washington, Southern California and UCLA already have banded into a "Big Four" conference to replace the dying PCC.

CAL ALLOTTED 46,000 DUCATS FOR ROSE BOWL

BERKELEY (AP)—A University of California official said today that his school will be allotted 46,000 tickets for its Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game against Iowa.

Ticket boss Harry Davis said 57,000 applications will be mailed out this week to paid up members of the alumni Big C society, paid up members of the Alumni Assn., season ticket purchasers and former stadium subscribers.

Students and faculty members, Davis said, will take care of an estimated 13,000 tickets. The rest will be allocated by lottery.

Brown Held To 66 Yards By Eagles

CLEVELAND (AP)—Although the Philadelphia Eagles are tied for last in the National Football League's Eastern Division, they've had some success containing Cleveland's explosive fullback, Jimmy Brown.

The Eagles limited Brown to 66 yards in 20 carries yesterday, his longest gain was nine yards.

Sunday's gains raised Brown's league-leading rushing yardage to 1,229. He has three more games to add to his yardage record which supplants the 1,146 yards Steve Van Buran gained for Philadelphia in 1949.

Wyoming To Play In Sun Bowl Tilt

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming's Cowboys, football champions of the Skyline Conference, will make their second trip in three years to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.

The players voted yesterday to accept an invitation to the Dec. 31 game at the Sun Bowl, where they scored a 21-14 victory over Texas Tech in the 1956 contest.

Pete Cooper Wins Florida Tourney

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Pete Cooper added $2,000 to his bankroll today with a sudden death playoff victory in the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open Golf Tournament.

Cooper, 43-year-old pro from Lakeland, Fla., played steady, sub-par golf on the final round yesterday to finish with a 70 and 269, tying Wesley Ellis Jr. of Aldecress, N.J.

Then the bespectacled Cooper sank a seven-foot putt for a birdie on the first extra hole while Ellis missed a 14-footer and had a par 5. Ellis previously had a 73.

Their 269 for 72 holes was 19 strokes under par for the West Palm Beach Country Club Course.

Ellis' second place finish was worth $1,500 while Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., finished with 68 to tie Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., at 273 and pick up $1,100.

Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., had 275 to win $900.

Spaniard Wins Playoff For International Title

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The dramatic victory of an ignored Spaniard and an under-rated Irish team in the Canada Cup finals was called further proof the U.S. and British Isles no longer rule the golf world.

Not only did Angel Miguel win the individual world's championship and Ireland the team trophy yesterday, but a list of the leaders sounded like a United Nations roster.

"Golf is now really an international game," said Frank Pace Jr., president of the sponsoring International Golf Assn.

Only once before, in 1955, had the matches ended so dramatically.

But as skies began to darken the Club de Golf Mexico Course, young Miguel and stocky, 45-year-old Harry Bradshaw of Ireland battled to an unexpected tie with 72-hole totals of 286.

Without rest, Miguel and Bradshaw went into a sudden-death playoff. They were even for two holes. On the 188-yard third, both sliced their drives into the spectators. Luckily, both balls bounced back into play on the green.

Miguel sank a spectacular 25-foot putt for a deuce, Bradshaw missed by inches and the Spaniard, new world's golf champion, was mobbed by the excited fans.

Behind Miguel and Bradshaw came Flory Van Donck of Belgium with a 287; Miguel Sala, Colombia, 288; Eric Brown, Scotland, and Frank Phillips, Australia, 289; Leopoldo Ruiz, Argentina, 292; Harold Henning, South Africa, O'Connor, and Chen Ching-Po, China, 293.

Spain was second in the team competition with 582, followed by South Africa 584 and Australia and Scotland 588.

The United States lost out all around. It lost a good shot at the team title when Sam Snead had to withdraw Saturday morning at the start of the third round because of an ailing back.

And Ben Hogan, the captain of the U. S. team, could not do better than 36-38—74, two over par, in the fourth round yesterday which tied him at seventh place with Gary Player of South Africa with an aggregate of 291—five strokes off the pace.

"I gave it all I had, what more can I say," Hogan commented, adding he didn't understand how any golfer could play 72 holes in four days in this mile-and-a-half high city.

"But that's no alibi," said the 46-year-old Hogan. "After all the other guys had to play in the same altitude."

It marked the second year in a row that the United States has lost out in the "World Series" of golf. Hogan and Snead won the team championship back in 1956 when this tournament was held in England, with bantam Ben taking the individual title.

But last year it was Japan winning both the individual and team titles.

So it marked the second year in a row the U. S. has been shut out in this event.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

Army Likes Navy And Vice Versa

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Army and Navy are showing a traditionally healthy respect for each other's football prowess as they prepare for their annual football battle at Philadelphia Saturday.

Steven Belichick, chief scout for Navy, calls the Cadets "the most explosive football team I've ever seen—much better and entirely different from the team we beat last year."

And Army's top scout, Dale Mall, said the Middies have a "tremendous" squad which could pose more of a threat to the Cadets than the one which won 14-0 last year.

"Their passing attack is stronger than it has been, and in halfback Joe Bellino they have a greater individual threat," Hall sums up. "As a sophomore he has made mistakes, but he has made fewer and fewer and is one of the finest runners in the country if not the finest."

Belichick counters that Army halfback Pete Dawkins "is the finest all-around back I've seen in college football."

He says Dawkins is a great team leader—a "take charge" guy who sets the pace for the Cadets—a tremendous runner, good passer, good blocker, "and ought to win every award in the books this year."

But the strength of the undefeated Cadets runs much deeper than individual players, the Navy backfield coach says.

"This team has impressed me more than any others because they do many things well and are so explosive," he says. "They can kill you either passing or running."

This year Army is also a passing team—one of the nation's finest—and both Dawkins and Anderson take a hand in this along with quarterback Joe Caldwell. A lot of Army's passing is off running plays and if you draw your linebackers in they throw over you, Belichick says.

Army scout Hall, considers Navy's passing attack, guided by junior quarterback Joe Tranchini, and the running of Bellino, on punt and kickoff returns as well as rushing plays, to be major factors for Army to stop.

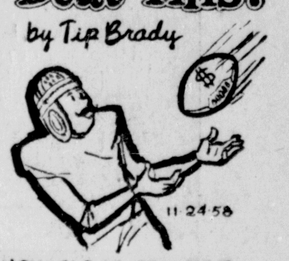

The game will be televised nationally.

HOW OLD IS COLLEGE PROSELYTING?

College proselyting is almost as old as intercollegiate sports. In 1884, Amos Alonzo Stagg, then a prep star at Phillips-Andover, received the following letter from the president of Dartmouth: "There is no college where a man can get along on less money. Many men pay their own way, receiving, of course, considerable aid in the way of scholarships."

His Highness Done To A Golden Turn

True to tradition, a tender, well-browned turkey will reign at the Thanksgiving feast in homes all over the country, come Thursday. The bird can look like a cook's dream if it's tucked snuggly in an airtight jacket of aluminum foil before it goes into the oven, then uncovered to brown shortly before it is removed.

Nothing is more tempting to a family and guests than the sight of the golden-brown turkey, piping hot, resting on a platter waiting to be carved. Just as there is a right way to cook a fowl, there is a right way to carve and serve it. And tasty cranberry orange relish in bright foil dishes makes the bird even most festive looking.

Here are recommendations for cooking, carving and serving the Thanksgiving turkey, as well as how to make the foil cranberry relish dishes.

ROASTING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 425 degrees F.

2. Grease skin of bird with soft butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper.

3. Set bird in center of large square of heavy-duty foil or double-thick household weight foil. (If sheet is too narrow, fold two together lengthwise, using double fold.)

4. Press edges together above turkey; close with double fold, pressing firmly against bird.

5. Fold ends over and over, pressing close to turkey.

6. Place wrapped turkey on rack in shallow pan.

7. If meat thermometer is used, insert it through foil.

8. Roast according to chart below.

9. Forty-five minutes before turkey is done, open foil; push away for browning.

When the turkey is taken from the oven, it should be permitted to "set" for a few minutes before it is carved. The platter on which the fowl is to be served should be warmed so that the bird will remain hot throughout carving and serving.

When carving is done at the table, the platter containing the turkey is set directly in front of the carver, forward of his place setting. His water glass and salad plate, and other tableware which may be in his way, can be moved aside. Warmed dinner plates are stacked in front of him. Whether he stands or sits to do his job is a matter of choice. All meats and fowls should be carved across the grain, with a sharp knife.

Here are some carving pointers:

1. Place bird on platter with legs to carver's right. Remove string and skewers.

2. Starting on side toward carver, place carving knife between thigh and body: cut through skin to joint.

3. Separate leg from body by pressing leg outward with knife and bending it back with the carving fork inserted, tines point down, into drumstick. Lift to extra warmed platter, placed at left of dinner plates.

4. Separate thigh from drumstick, just above round bone, slice off dark meat for service.

5. Disjoint wing and separate from body in same manner as leg.

6. Insert fork through ribs above backbone.

7. Make a cut above wing joint through to body frame.

8. Using either carving knife or slicer, slice breast downward with straight, even strokes beginning halfway up the breast. When knife reaches incision above wing bone, slices will fall free.

9. Continue slicing breast by beginning at a higher point each time until crest of bone is reached.

10. The plater is turned and the same procedure followed for other side.

A garnish of cranberry relish in foil cups presents a pretty picture on the platter. The relish may be made well in advance of Thanksgiving, then frozen in its foil cups. It can be thawed just before serving.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

2 navel oranges
1 pound fresh cranberries (4 cups)
2 cups sugar

1. Wash oranges; cut in eighths; remove seeds.

2. Put oranges (including rind), cranberries through coarse blade of food chopper.

3. Stir in sugar; blend thoroughly, chill.

4. Tear off twelve 6-inch wide pieces of 12-inch foil wrap; fold each piece in half, making 6-inch squares.

5. Fit squares into muffin cups; fold excess foil down to form edge.

6. Fill foil cups with Cranberry Orange Relish (approximately ¼ cup); put remaining relish into another container; freeze for later use.

7. Place muffin pans in freezer for several hours or until frozen.

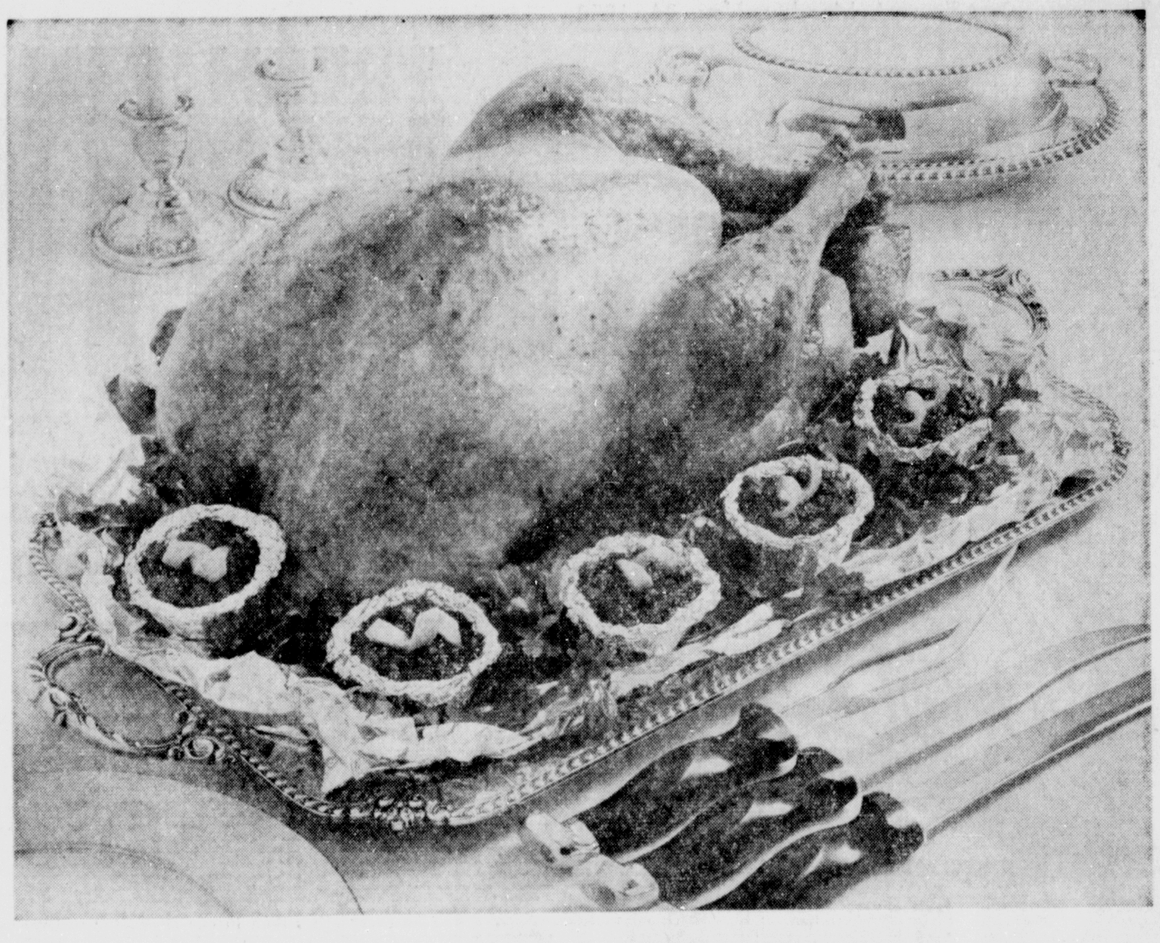

8. Remove foil cups from muffin pans; wrap cups completely in foil; return to freezer.

Yield: Approximately five cups.

TIME-TEMPERATURE CHART FOR TURKEY

Weight	Approx. Min. per pound	Meat Thermometer Reading When Bird Is Done
8-10 lbs.	18-16	200°F.
12-15 lbs.	16-14	200°F.
16-18 lbs.	14-12	200°F.

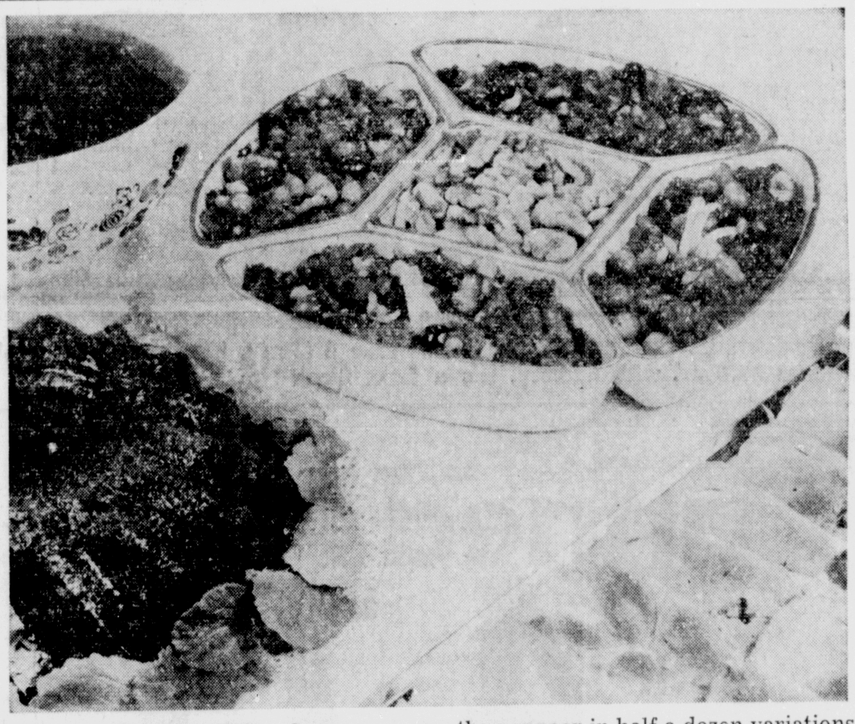

Important: The number of minutes per pound given here is for unstuffed, broad-breasted type turkeys. Add 3-5 minutes per pound for stuffed birds.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS—A tender, well-browned turkey reigns over millions of American tables Thursday, symbol of the bounty for which we give thanks. This bronze monarch was baked in foil, uncovered the last 45 minutes.

You'll save money if you buy whole broiler-fryers rather than the parts. You can cut up the bird and, if you have a freezer, store part of it, use the rest.

A teaspoon of dry mustard is a good addition to a ham glaze made with a cup of brown sugar and a couple of tablespoons of pineapple or other fruit juice.

RELISH ROUNDTABLE—Once upon a time, cranberries for Thanksgiving were a sauce, pure and simple. Now they appear in half a dozen variations on the relish theme, not to mention molded salads and nut breads.

Today It's Cranberry Relish— Tomorrow It's A Molded Salad

Fresh cranberry salads and relishes traditional for Thanksgiving, have come into their year-round identity. Each one is a natural mate for meat . . . whether the fare is broiled steak, tender slices of canned ham or juicy hamburgers.

There's something about the tart flavor of cranberries that belongs with meat. And what variety! Serve crispy relishes beside meat one night, then quickly turn leftover portion into a jellied salad for the next meal. Small amounts of leftover relishes can be mixed together. If you have a portion of two kinds left over, mix together to make a jellied salad.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

4 cups (1-pound) fresh cranberries
2 oranges, quartered and seeds removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and oranges (including rind) through coarse blade of food chopper. Stir in sugar. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator for flavors to blend. Makes about 1 quart.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH SALAD

1 package your favorite red gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups cranberry orange relish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in Cranberry Orange Relish. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds and chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on lettuce.

CRANBERRY FRUITY RELISH

4 cups (1-lb.) fresh cranberries
1 lemon, seeded and quartered
2 oranges, rind removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and lemon (including rind) through food-chopper. Dice orange pulp. Mix with other fruit. Add sugar. Stir and chill thoroughly for flavors to blend. Serve in notched orange shells.

CRANBERRY FRUIT RELISH SALAD

1 package your favorite red gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups Cranberry Fruity Relish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in relish. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds. Chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on lettuce.

CRANBERRY RELISH SUPREME

2 cups (½ pound) fresh cranberries
½ orange (rind and pulp)
½ lemon (rind and pulp)
1 apple, cored
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup sugar

Put cranberries, orange, lemon and apple through food chopper. Mix thoroughly with walnuts and sugar. Chill for flavors to blend. Makes 2 cups.

CRANBERRY RELISH SUPREME SALAD

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups Cranberry Relish Supreme

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in Cranberry Relish Supreme. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds. Unmold on lettuce just before serving.

Holiday Butter Cookie Cookbook

A scrumptuous collection of holiday cookies—both new and traditional—are being offered in the "Butter Cookie Cookbook." The title may seem familiar, but this volume is brand new, third in a series. It sells for 20 cents wherever (in your super market) paperbook cookbooks are sold.

If you can't find it there, send 20 cents to: Food Editor, Independent-Journal, P. O. Box 330, San Rafael, and we'll forward your order to the nation's flour capital. Allow three weeks for delivery (which means, "Order right now if your market doesn't have it").

LET'S TALK TURKEY

Like every other item in our store—our turkeys were selected for you only after careful investigation. The result was that we found not one but two brands that topped them all. Then we queried customers that we knew had tried both turkeys previously. Their answers convinced us that only a personal taste preference (and evenly divided among you) was the difference. What to do? Only one thing according to the way we operate. We bought them both . . . you can't miss . . . the two finest turkeys on the market.

'SOME LIKE IT HOT' . . ." and for them this Turkey Ring Bake is a refreshing way to approach turkey leftovers. Even dyed-in-the-wool bone pickers will yield a cup of cubed turkey for this creation. It's made with a hot roll mix and seasonings in turkey tradition.

TIPS ON LEFTOVERS

After It's Over, Be Sure You Save Some For Turkey Ring

Almost as good, if not better, than the holiday dinner itself is the turkey meat left over. And, as they say in the old nursery rhyme, "Some like it hot, some like it cold, some like it in the pot nine days old."

Whether you like it cold for sandwiches or baked in a casserole, you do want to preserve all the juiciness and flavor of the meat. Best way to keep the turkey from drying out—and incidentally save storage space in your refrigerator—is to slice it off the bird as soon as it has cooled.

Wrapped and sealed in aluminum foil or plastic film, turkey will stay fresh and sweet in the refrigerator about a week—in the freezer for six to nine months. In dividing the leftovers into mealsize packages, earmark the nice, white slices for sandwiches, bits and pieces for creaming or baking in a casserole or turkey pie.

There are so many good recipes for using leftover turkey that you may not have enough to try them all, but be sure to save one cup of cubes for this new favorite of ours, Turkey Ring Bake.

It's a main-dish bread made with hot roll mix that's full of turkey, onion, celery and pimiento bits and flavored with poultry seasoning. Served hot with a savory sour cream sauce, it's almost better than turkey 'n' dressing!

TURKEY RING BAKE

1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup hot water
1 package Hot Roll Mix Roll Mix
2 unbeaten eggs
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon sage
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup diced turkey
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Dissolve bouillon cube in water in large mixing bowl. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast from Mix over lukewarm bouillon. Stir to dissolve. Blend in eggs. Add Mix, and remaining ingredients. Stir to blend; beat hard with wooden spoon 50 strokes. Spread batter in well-greased 9-inch ring mold, or 9-inch square pan.

Let rise in warm place (85° to 90° F.) until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (375°) 30 to 35 minutes until deep golden brown. Turn out of pan immediately. Serve warm with creamed vegetables or your choice of sauce.

CHICKEN OR MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 can condensed Cream of Chicken Soup or 1 can condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup
1 cup commercial sour cream

Combine soup with sour cream. Heat just to boiling.

Snack Tray

Fresh fall fruits combine easily with a wide variety of popular foods to make handsome snack trays. Team bright rosy apples, tangy grapes, or juicy pears with mild nut-like Gouda cheese and crackers, tiny rolls, sugared doughnuts, or fruit cake slices.

Place rosy red Gouda in the center tray and surround it with the other foods, "as is," or cut into portion size pieces for easy nibbling.

Ever tried serving wedges of mild, nut-like flavored cheese with a spicy baked apple?

Old Favorite Vegetables Need Special Holiday Care

Holiday menus call for vegetables on their very best behaviour (like the small fry who must eat theirs or else . . .). The oldtime favorites like peas and brussels sprouts warm to a dash of this and that—mushrooms, for instance.

For broccoli, try combining it with garlic-fried croutons. Cauliflower warms under a Cardamom Sauce (your favorite smooth cheese sauce seasoned with an unusual spice.

Here are some to spark your imagination:

CREAMED PEAS WITH MUSHROOMS

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, boiling water, salt, 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 can (3 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms (drained), ⅛ teaspoon white pepper.

Method: Cook peas according to package directions, using the amount of water and salt called for; drain. Meanwhile melt butter over low heat in saucepan; stir in flour; add milk and cook and stir constantly until thickened; continue to cook and stir a few minutes. Add drained peas and mushrooms, ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper. Reheat, stirring a few times. Makes 4 servings.

TOP-HAT BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) frozen brussels sprouts, boiling water, salt, 3 tablespoons heavy cream, 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: Cook sprouts according to package directions using the amount of water and salt called for. Drain thoroughly. Beat cream until stiff; fold in grated cheese. Arrange sprouts in shallow small baking dish—a shirred egg dish is fine. Quickly spoon blobs of the cheese mixture over top of sprouts; spread lightly. Broil close to high heat for a few seconds—just long enough to brown topping. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

GREEN PEAS AND SCALLIONS

Ingredients: 6 scallons (green onions), 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, salt, pepper.

Method: Cut root ends from scallions and any frayed green leaf tips; keep as much of the green part as possible. Slice scallions in thin crosswise slanty pieces. Melt butter in 8-inch skillet over low heat; add scallions and cook, stirring often, until wilted — about 5 minutes. Cook peas according to package directions; drain. Add scallions and salt and pepper to taste; reheat if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

Have Pumpkin Without A Pie

Good things to do with pumpkin besides put it in pie!

NEW ENGLAND PUMPKIN CUSTARD

Ingredients: 3 eggs, ¾ cup canned pumpkin, ½ cup maple syrup, 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 cups milk (scalded).

Method: Beat eggs enough to blend yolks and whites. Add pumpkin, maple syrup, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg; stir well. Add scalded milk, beating in gently as you do so. Pour into custard cups. Place in shallow baking pan of hot water; have water come up nearly to tops of custard cups. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until a silver knife inserted near center comes out clean. Remove from water; cool. Makes 6 servings.

Ever add nutmeats (walnuts, pecans or almonds) to a salad of chicken, celery and mayonnaise?

Sea Shells From Pasta Land Lavished With Meaty Sauce

In Italy (and in its American counterparts) spaghetti is just one of some 33 forms of pasta. A change of texture creates a new dish, and if you don't believe it, experiment with some of the others.

One of the most delightful to roll over the tongue is the sea shell, which takes to all kinds of sauces.

In Italy there are also many kinds of sauces, some as quick as others are slow. This is a 30-minute Americanized version which calls for ingredients which are almost always on the pantry shelf.

SEA SHELLS IN CHOPPED BEEF SAUCE

1 lb. package of sea shells (a macaroni variety)
1 lb. ground beef
3 tbsp. melted butter
1 No. 2½ can of whole tomatoes
1 large onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 can tomato paste
1½ tbsp. Worchestershire sauce

Add beef, salt, onion and green pepper to butter, cook until meat is browned, stirring constantly. Add tomatoes, tomato paste and Worchestershire sauce, simmer one-half hour. Cook shells in 3 quarts of boiling, salted water for 9 minutes. Drain.

Place cooked shells on serving platter and cover with sauce. Serves 6.

Mill Valley Tennis Club Seats Officers

"Last Roundup" was the theme for the Mill Valley Tennis Club's recent November luncheon, when outgoing officers gave their reports, and Mrs. Warren Hodgdon turned over the gavel to Mrs. Jack Younger.

Adding a western touch to the gay '90's decor from the old time melodrama staged last week by the club was the buffet table decorated like a chuck wagon by Mrs. Gene Marker and Mrs. Lloyd Larson.

Other new officers introduced by Mrs. Younger were Mesdames A. M. Donnan, Jr., secretary; Rutherford Gilfillan, treasurer; Jack Murphy, social chairman; Leroy Waigand and John K. Bloom, tennis; William Breeze, junior tennis; R. B. Earl, swimming; E. M. Tobin and Jack Hughes, teen-age activities; Lloyd Larson and Martin Long, hospitality;

Donald Gallagher, and A. H. Harwood, junior activities (seventh and eighth grades); Richard Clarke and L. M. Douglas, junior activities (fifth and sixth grades); and John Kane and William Everts, telephone.

Officers elected by the men of the club the previous week were Messrs. Lloyd Postel, president; Kenneth Rall, vice president; Melvin Klyce, secretary; and S. A. Johnson, Russell Mills, Robert Saxton and Ervin Vickers, board of directors.

Guests of honor at the luncheon were two new members, Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Robert Bullock.

In appreciation of her work as social chairman and acting women's activities chairman for the year, Mrs. Hodgdon was presented with a cut crystal vase and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Waigand made the presentation.

Mrs. Marker, who with her husband manages the club, also received a gift in appreciation of her year's work.

Report Cards Discussed By Dr. Barnard

Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, director of elementary instruction for the San Rafael City Schools, was the featured speaker at the meeting of the Oliver Hartzell School Thursday. Her talk was entitled "New Dimensions in Grading," and she explained to the audience new report cards in which all children from first through sixth grades are marked A. B. C. D. and U. She stressed the point that only those children who produce outstanding and superior results and exceed the expectation for the class as a whole, will rate an "A" mark. She pointed out that the great majority would be in the "C" category, which is normal and average, and a very respectable grade. After a question and answer period, she closed her remarks with the reading of two heart warming and amusing pieces by Alan Beck, entitled "What is a Boy" and "What is a Girl."

During the business portion of the meeting, Mrs. Robert Oliver, membership chairman, gave a report on the P-TA membership drive, and Mrs. Carl Nelson told of the recent successful rummage sale and hot dog sale.

Dwight Manning, principal, exhibited a drawing of the proposed landscaping design for the school, and also reported on the KQED educational television program which the fourth, fifth and sixth grades were viewing.

Music Teachers Entertained In McKenzie Home

Marin County Branch of Music Teachers' Assn. of California met Monday evening at the home of Miss Barbara McKenzie, in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Charles Meacham, vice president, presided in place of Mrs. John Gottschalk who was unable to attend. After a short business meeting the guest artist, Miss Claire James of San Francisco, a pianist, was introduced by the program chairman, Miss McKenzie.

Miss James played numbers from the three "B's": J. S. Bach's last prelude, Ludwig von Beethoven's variations on the Eroica Symphony theme and two ballads of Johannes Brahms.

Staff Seated By Gold Star Mothers Unit

Mrs. Grace Barry served in the dual capacity of hostess and installing officer recently when the Gold Star Mothers met at her home in Ross for their annual installation ceremony.

Installed were Mesdames Ethel Jordan, president; Henry R. Sanborn, first vice president; George T. Carpenter, second vice president; Victor W. Jones, recording secretary; Estelle Bassett, corresponding secretary; Barry, treasurer; Sarah Allen, chaplain; Henrietta von Staden, sergeant-at-arms; William C. Anderson, color bearer; Bassett, custodian of records.

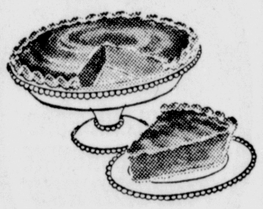

After the new officers had been seated, the outgoing president, Mrs. Marie Westlund, was presented with her past president's pin and thanked for her service to the organization by Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Anderson presented Mrs. Westlund with a black faille jewel-clasped evening bag, a gift from the chapter.

Mrs. Jordan brings to the group a wealth of organizational experience, having served as president of the local chapter once before, as president of the Arlington, Va., chapter, and she is a leader in the American Legion Auxiliary.

First on the list of her projects for the ensuing year will be participation in the Christmas party for veterans at Yountville when the Mothers will assist San Anselmo unit of the American Legion Auxiliary in preparing gifts.

DOUBLE RING

William Hicks Claims Bride In Minden, Nev., Ceremony

In a recent double ring ceremony at Minden, Nev., Diane L. McPhail of West Walker, Calif., became the bride of William Arthur Hicks of San Anselmo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McPhail of the Rancho Jan Karlos on the West Walker River, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. C. Hurt of San Anselmo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of ice blue mousseline de soie fashioned with heart shaped neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. A matching veil was attached to a blue velvet bandeau.

Mrs. Vernon E. Johnson of West Walker, as matron of honor, was gowned in a royal blue silk boucle Empire gown.

Helen Ann Hicks of San Anselmo, the bridegroom's sister, wore a white lace sheath dress.

Vernon E. Johnson of West Walker, was best man and Donald McPhail, the bride's brother, of West Walker, was an usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McPhail wore an aqua blue taffeta dress and the bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue silk faille dress.

After the ceremony, a wedding party was held at the Round House in Carson City, Nev.

The bride is a graduate of Glendale High School and has a brother, Donald, and twin brother and sister, Larry and Linda of West Walker.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. He served with the U.S. Marine Corps and is now employed by the state in West Walker.

Helen is the bridegroom's only sister and his maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Leonardi of San Rafael.

After a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the couple will take up their residence in West Walker.

Mrs. James Ridgway and son, Jaret, of San Rafael, an aunt of the bridegroom, accompanied the Hurts to Minden for the ceremony.

Original Fashions To Be Presented At Benefit Affair

Lovely models, a new banquet room, and a buffet dinner will add to the gala preparations being made by the Junior Social Service Auxiliary for its Evening Fashion show to be held on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera.

Guests will enjoy cocktails and a buffet dinner while viewing original fashion designs by Elisabeth Vincent of San Francisco. Professional models from the Coronet Modeling Studio in San Francisco will display the clothes.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Muzinich, preparations are well on the way to completion. Proceeds gained from the benefit will go toward aiding the Social Service Welfare Agency's medical plan for under-privileged families.

Variety Keynotes Toastmistress, Dinner Program

Variety was the keynote in the speeches given at the pre-Thanksgiving dinner of members and guests of Marin Toastmistress Club 651 on Thursday evening at the Kent Woodlands Restaurant in Kentfield.

In keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit, topic mistress, Mrs. Muriel Brown, took as her subject, "What I Am Thankful For," and then each member spoke on this theme for one minute, running the gamut from the immediate family dishwasher to the international thought of freedom of the world. Mrs. Brown then ended her talk with a prayer.

In the five to seven-minute speeches a greaty variety was shown with Mrs. Marian Allen talking on, "A Man's World"; Mrs. Freda Preston on, "Time Enough Yet"; Mrs. Virginia Hotchkin on, "Step-Mothers Handibook' and Mrs. Jean Hansen on, "Toastmistress Training." Evaluators for the speeches were Mesdames Ruth Goodreau, Rose Paul and Caroline Hagel with Mrs. Emily O'Dell Riley as general evaluator for the entire program. Toastmistress for the event was Mrs. Minnie Warren. Mrs. Hortense Buck presided.

The next meeting to be held on Dec. 11 will have as its theme "Christmas," and anyone interested in attending as a guest may contact Mrs. Buck.

Light Opera Group Will Give Operetta

A concert version of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial by Jury," will be given at a dinner meeting later this month by the Mill Valley Light Opera Company at the Tiburon Recreation Center.

The date for the affair will be announced later.

Stanley Brooks, president, announces that Mr. and Mrs. Barry Mineah will be in charge of this first meeting of the season for members and guests and that the operetta, produced several years ago, is being repeated by request as entertainment for the evening.

Assn. Fetes Mrs. Larsen In Novato

The Primary Assn. of the Novato Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints recently held a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Dauglas H. Larsen. Mrs. Larsen has served as president of the Primary Assn. during the past year.

Hostess for the luncheon in her Raposa Vista home in Novato was Mrs. Stuart D. Nas.

The luncheon tables were covered with multi-colored cloths centered with wicker cornucopias filled with autumn flowers. Following the luncheon Mrs. Larsen was presented with a tribute by Mrs. Dean Caldwell, the new president of the Primary, as well as with a gift of a wall clock by all the officers and teachers of the group.

Mrs. Larsen has been called to serve on the San Francisco state Primary board of the church and will be in a position of training teachers for the various wards and branches of the church in the San Francisco area.

Assisting Mrs. Caldwell in the Novato branch presidency are Mrs. Gordon Yurth, first counsellor, and Mrs. Jack Lewis, second counsellor.

Turkey Whist Party

The public is invited to a turkey whist party to be given tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Odd Fellows Hall, Mill Valley, by the Tamalpais Circle of Druids.

The regular monthly Salad Bowl Luncheon will also be on Tuesday at the Odd Fellows Hall with luncheon served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

'OLDE ORPHEUM DAZE' TITLE OF SAUSALITO CLUB COMEDY

"Olde Orpheum Daze" with a definite nostalgic element of melodrama and comedy, is the name chosen for the annual December show of the Sausalito Woman's Club. It will be a "for fun" production put on by the members of the Club with the assistance of the husbands.

Because of the limited seating capacity of the clubhouse the committee will produce the show on two nights, Friday and Saturday night, Dec. 5 and 6.

The show committee is headed by Mrs. Sylvester McAtee, a veteran of theatrical productions. She is assisted by Mesdames Leonard Wood, Fred Tetzlaff and David Christian on the directing end of the production; Nathan Smith and Fredrik Waiss doing the choreography, and Justin Day, the scenery.

Mrs. Harold Fletcher is the musical director and Mrs. Frank Rossman is general assistant to Mrs. McAtee.

Among those who are taking part are Mesdames Ronald Mackenzie, John Ward and Jerome Adams, and Messrs. James Sweet, Robert O'Leary, John Ehlen, Raymond White, Rupert Kempf, John Ward and Jerome Adams.

Guest artists on the show will be Mrs. William Gurr of San Francisco and Mrs. Natale Andreotti of Sausalito.

Mesdames Ernest King, Henry Douglas and John Stickney are in charge of the refreshments for the two nights of fun.

Guests will enjoy dancing on both evenings after the "Daze" is over and the performances on both nights will be open to the public.

Mt. Carmel Club Plans Yule Sales

The Mill Valley Mt. Carmel Women's Club's annual pre-Christmas Needlecraft and Food Sale will be held on Dec. 5 through 8, according to Mrs. Michael Jackowski, needlecraft chairman.

In the lower meeting hall of the Mt. Carmel School, food will be sold from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 5 and 6 only, whereas needlework will be on sale during the same period and on Dec. 7 and 8 after each Mass.

The food sale will offer tempting hot dishes, salads and casseroles, as well as homemade pies, cakes, rolls and cookies.

Needlework items range from Christmas novelties, such as stockings, stuffed toys, children's decorative toss pillows to embroidered pillow slips, aprons, dishtowels and doll clothes.

Featured will be flannel pajamas for both girls and boys and flannel shirts.

Committee members for the sale are Mesdames Edgar Hensley, George Beckstrand, Frances Ferrario, A. J. Almada, J. C. Traugh, Joseph Hannery, William Boitano, J. J. Rasella, Arthur Borden, Frank Martinez and Miss Flora Bartell.

Fashion Show Precedes Tea Of NCO Wives

With organ music by Mrs. Jack Kane, nine Hamilton Air Force Base Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives showed the "Fabulous collection of world renowned and acclaimed fashion designeds," at the Tuesday welcome tea held at the NCO Club on the base.

Mrs. Henry Hanson gave a commentary on the combinations of "fashions." The eight present, including special guests from the Travis NCO Wives Club, viewed what to wear for every occasion.

Models were Mesdames Robert Mack, Bill Halloman, Warren K. Sloan, Walter Zahorenko, Perry Baldwin, Walter R. Anasoff, Carl Reinhardt, Francis Halloran and Howard Hall.

Chairman of the show was Mrs. Robert Shaw, whose committee included Mrs. Anasoff, Mrs. Halloran and Mrs. Peter Eyerman, who, with Mrs. Shaw, composed the script.

Prior to the "Fashions," tea and refreshments were served by Mrs. Everett Griffin and her committee of Mesdames George Parker, A. B. Burdett, John Lyons and Paul Butler. Mrs. Vernon W. Wangerin was hostess chairman.

A beautiful red and gold center piece for the serving table was arranged by Mrs. Reinhardt.

Robert J. Dunphys Hosts At Buffet

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunphy of Kentfield were hosts at a recent buffet supper and family gathering for 25 guests honoring the arrival of their daughter-in-law and grandchildren, Mrs. Robert F. Dunphy and Joyce, Terry and Robert from the Philippine Islands.

Their son, Robert, is stationed with the U.S. Navy in Japan, and will arrive home before Christmas. The family has recently moved into a new home in Novato.

INTERNATIONAL

Foreign Songs And Dances Program At OWC Luncheon

At the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club recent November luncheon, Mrs. John Ficicchy, general chairman for the hostess group, the 78th Hospital, opened the program by saying, "We felt it would be appropriate to give a program on an international theme because many of us have been guests in foreign countries."

Carrying out the international theme at the luncheon tables were dolls from all over the world where Hamilton families have been stationed. In addition to travel posters on the stage, tiny flags of all the world's countries and multicolored confetti completed the colorful table decorations.

Mrs. Ficicchy introduced Mrs. Sam A. Mehling, who, in a authentic Japanese kimona did a festival dance and an ancient Hawaiian hula in a rustling hula skirt accompanying herself with a pair of bright feathered gourds.

Second on the "Music and Dance Festival" program was Mrs. Lizette Appe, a member of the International Institute of Oakland who sang German folk songs. She accompanied herself on a zither which is nearly 200 years old. Her native costume, which she wore is found in the Black Forest area of Germany, Mrs. Appe explained.

Third entertainer was tiny Kathleen Sweeney who did two Scottish numbers—soft shoe and clog—dressed in a costume symbolic of the dancing school in Dublin, Ireland, which she attended—the Cadwell School of Dance. Her bright green fitted waist length jacket was set off by her white pleated shirt. Her costume was made by her 19 year old sister and the embroidery, symbolic of ancient Keltic art of entertwined snakes, was done by her mother.

Woodwardia Celebrates At Annual Dinner

Woodwardia Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, held its annual dinner at Rickey's Rancho Rafael Saturday night, celebrating its 53rd year as a fraternal insurance organization.

Mrs. Frank Mattos was chairman and Mrs. Harry Cahill co-chairman; Raymond Duffy, master of ceremonies. Others on the committee were Mrs. E. C. Berg (guardian neighbor), Mesdames Joseph Codoni, Annie B. Curry, Adah Kane, Raymond Duffy, and Dr. C. B. Musante.

The banquet room at Rickey's was a perfect setting for the festivities. Highlight of the decorations was the ornamented cake in the center of the horseshoe-shaped table.

The master of ceremonies called on several dignitaries for a few remarks. Honored guest was Mrs. Eugene Smith, only living charter member of the circle.

Young Arthur "Butch" Woods, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Azevedo, entertained with several accordion solos and also played for community singing.

Group Seeks Items For Auction

Articles are being solicited for the silent auction which the LARCS are planning for Saturday, Nov. 29 from noon until 3 p.m. at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. A great many items have already been donated including several pieces of enamel on copper jewelry and a modern black and white zebra striped vase.

The LARCS are the Ladies Auxiliary to the Recreation Center and have already sponsored one fund raising event, purchasing furniture for the main room at the Center from the proceeds. The group is planning a series of events to raise money for more furniture, to provide shower curtains and to make the clubhouse generally more attractive.

All women members of the Center are automatically members of the LARCS. At the present time there is no formal organization but, following the silent auction, permanent officers will be elected.

Mrs. Howard McGill and Mrs. Sam Mercer are co-chairmen for the auction. Committee chairmen are Mesdames John Del Mar, posters; Stanley Peterson and Alan Cundall, publicity; George Berticevich, refreshments and Thomas Stanton and Albert Hand, evaluation.

There are three ways of knowing whether a cake is well baked. The top surface should spring back, without leaving a dent, after being touched lightly. The cake should pull slightly away from the sides of the pan. A cake tester, inserted in the center, should come out clean.

Brownie Troop Has Investiture

Brownie Troop 269 of Ross held an investiture ceremony recently at the home of Mrs. Wagner d'Alessio.

Shelley Parmalee, Joanne Stevenson, Judy Hooper and Terry Shistar were received into the troop. Two year pins were awarded to Joan Ammonette, Heidi Bortfeld, Mary Curro, Barbara d'Alessio, Rosalind Diller, Martha Jennings, Carol Nutting, Gayle Powell, Ravelle Prola, Ann Younger and Joan Goodman.

Pamela Skewes-Cox and Katherine Robyns received first year pins. Candy Holiday, a transfer from Australia, assisted Mrs. Joseph Prola, troop leader, in presenting the awards.

Ross School Plans Summer Program

A proposed summer activities program for Ross Grammar School students received unanimous approval of the Ross P-TA at a recent meeting and will be put into effect next July for a one-month period.

In order to present a sound working plan to the P-TA membership, Charles Doyle of Ross studied programs now in successful use by neighboring schools in Marin and also programs carried on in other public schools throughout the state.

Doyle was assisted by Mrs. Peter Pike, Dr. Chester Noyes, Crawford Green Jr., William Poole, Charles Fitch and Edward Rudloff.

Actual activities in which the children may participate will be determined by a professional director.

THE BETTER HALF — by Bob Barnes

"Try not to get any blood on the carpet."

Grape Festival Proceeds Told At Guild Tea

"It is with a feeling of gratitude and sincere appreciation that the Board of Directors of Sunny Hills announces the final outcome of the 1958 Grape Festival," stated Mrs. H. Wallace Hickman, president of the board of directors, at the final report tea held at Sunny Hills recently.

"The $30,000 we took in is the most money we have collected in the 59 years of the Grape Festival's existence. This is the culmination of a year's concentrated efforts on the part of our guilds, Junior Auxiliary, and additional wonderful help from Marin County community groups."

Mrs. Walter Zwieg, this year's Grape Festival chairman, was given a standing ovation.

Old Mill P-TA Hears Talk By Robert McConnell

Addressing a meeting of the Old Mill P-TA Tuesday, Robert McConnell, superintendent of the Mill Valley School District, declared that "Lack of foresight and planning plus piecemeal solutions result in higher tax bills."

McConnell, speaking on "How To Reduce Taxes," said that utimate savings to the taxpayers can be achieved by citizens giving more attention to local government, admitting that no individual can be expected to attend all meetings but can work through groups.

McConnell advocated four steps as a part of tax control. They are:

1. Acquisition of properties when the need is well established by a far-sighted community.
2. Equitable assessment practices and broadening of the tax base through encouragement of desirable industry and commercial enterprises.
3. Maintenance of and improvement of an attractive community for industry and commercial enterprises.
4. Freedom for government (at all levels) to use modern business methods without criticism of initial expenditures, such as long overdue installation of modern machines.

Education Topic For Homestead P-TA Panelists

Values of the society that supports it are reflected in public education—this was the concensus of the panel members who discussed the philosophy of education as the program for the recent Homestead P-TA meeting.

Winners of the essay contest for parents on the purposes and methods of education, Mrs. Ed Radenzel and Peter Pell, were two members of the panel, and others were Thurston Womack, associate professor of languages at San Francisco State College; Rex Allen, architect and past chairman of the Mill Valley Education Council, and Mrs. Milan Dempster, Homestead School teacher. Moderator was Warren Jacobs.

In the business meeting preceding the discussion Mrs. James Behr, P-TA president, introduced the board, and the budget submitted by the treasurer, Mrs. George Collins, was approved.

Santa's Skirt To Aid Humane Society Fund

"Santa's Skirt" is the holiday fund-raising idea of Mrs. James Lysle of Kent Woodlands, who has donated a handsome white felt tree-skirt (to put under the Christmas tree with the presents), which she has made and decorated.

Mrs. Lysle, who is a new member of the Humane Society Auxiliary, will donate the proceeds from her award project to the auxiliary's fund for the Humane Society of Marin.

The unusual Christmas tree skirt will be on display at the First National Bank in San Rafael on Nov. 25, 26 and 28. The Kentfield branch of the First National Bank will have the Christmas tree skirt on view on Dec. 2, 3 and 4; and the decorative felt tree-skirt may be seen at the Belvedere-Tiburon Branch of the First National Bank, on the Boardwalk, Dec. 9, 10 and 11. At each First National Bank branch, Humane Society Auxiliary members will staff a booth where tickets may be obtained for the benefit holiday Santa's Skirt.

Assisting Mrs. Lysle with her fund-raising project for the Humane Society are auxiliary members, Mesdames Maurice Gale and Ray Hawley.

Tickets may be purchased from committee members staffing the "Santa's Skirt" at each of the First National Bank branches and from Mrs. Hawley of Fairfax.

The award winner of the Christmas tree skirt will be announced on Dec. 16 at the San Anselmo home of Miss Ethel Tompkins.

Yacht Auxiliary Elects Officers

Mrs. Colin J. Mason of Kentfield was named president of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club at a recent luncheon meeting at the Belvedere clubhouse.

Serving as vice president is Mrs. Emmet Rixford of Sausalito, Mrs. Sherman Peterson of Belvedere is secretary and Mrs. Robert Barth, also of Belvedere, treasurer. Members of the board of directors are the retiring president, Mrs. Robert Boat and Mesdames Chris Gasparich, Rex Brunsing and Tyler Seely.

Next activity for the Auxiliary is the holiday cocktail hour fashion show, Yuletide for Yachtsmen, which the Auxiliary has scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 13. Mrs. Rixford is chairman of the event. Clothes will be from the Modern Eve Shop, San Rafael, and shoes from Netboy's.

At Fitzharris Home

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cletus J. Fitzharris of San Rafael have been Mr. and Mrs. John Foster Collins and their children, Laurie, Kenny and Carole. Mr. Collins, who has been American consul in Singapore for the past few years and was formerly American representative in Thailand, is taking his family to Washington, D.C. where he has a two-year assignment. Mrs. Collins, a cousin of Mrs. Fitzharris, is the daughter of Dr. Ed Deming of Hartford, Conn. who visited with the Fitzharris family when he was making a 'round-the-world trip which concluded with a year with the Collins family in Singapore. Mrs. Collins' brother, Dr. Ed Deming Jr., a plastic surgeon and sculptor, came from Hartford for a visit with the Fitzharrises in April.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

This Is Farm-City Week To Remind You Of Agriculture

Farm-City Week, sponsored jointly by the Marin County Farm Bureau and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, is being observed this week here in Marin.

The rapid growth of subdivisions has rolled back the borders of our farm lands since World War II until we now tend to think of farming only as "something that used to be, but is no more."

The facts of the matter are quite different. Actually, dairy production in Marin has increased steadily in recent years. Last year it amounted to more than $11 million.

It is true that crops such as grapes, pears, walnuts, apples, peaches, apricots and prunes have nearly faded away. But our nursery and cut flower business has increased until it now exceeds a million dollars a year in Marin.

According to the annual report of County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam, Marin agricultural production last year also included:

Nearly $100 thousand worth of vegetables,

More than $200 thousand worth of field crops including hay and oats.

Nearly one million dollar's worth of beef cattle,

More than $300 thousand worth of lambs and wool, and

More than a quarter million dollar's worth of eggs and poultry.

Peryam's report also shows a steady gain in the value of agricultural products produced in Marin over the past five years, rising to a high of more than $14 million last year.

So agriculture is still with us here in Marin and production seems to climb despite declining farm acreages.

So it is appropriate for us to give recognition to the contribution of agriculture to the economy of our county.

Strangely enough, farm equipment, machinery and feed are NOT sold in our county seat. But this does NOT mean that our shopping districts don't benefit from agriculture.

Our farmers buy most of their drygoods right here in Marin. And their $14 million annual income represents quite a chunk of purchasing power.

When you see the dairy cows on display in front of the court house later this week, let them be more than curiosities. Let them be reminders of the importance of agriculture to Marin.

Spring Flowers In Marin Now

The narcissus, regarded as an early spring flower in most of the country, is blooming in November, as usual, in some parts of Marin.

These lovely, exquisitely fragrant lilies bloom through January in our benign climate. Their waxy blossoms, consisting of a colored cup surrounded by delicate white petals, are a delight to the eye. Their perfume is pervading and heady.

These attractive flowers have become the symbol of self-love. They bear the same name as the Narcissus who became so enamored with his own reflection in a pool that he fell in and drowned.

Marin seems ideally suited to their cultivation. They thrive here with a minimum of work and fretting. The flowers are beautiful. If they are in love with themselves, at least they have good reason.

THE EARTHWORM'S CONTRIBUTION

Lowly earthworms perform an important service to mankind. They maintain productive soils by mixing organic material near the surface with the vital particles underlying it.

Scientists claim that earthworms in an acre of good ground can bring approximately 20 tons of buried soil to the surface each year.

Millions of them are found in an acre of good, rich soil. Quietly, but persistently, they dig their way through the earth, transporting small portions of it from one level to another and cementing together various soil particles. This produces a well-aerated and well-drained soil for both farmer and forester.

You will find countless testimonies in nature to the fabulous plan of the Creator. Whether it is the insignificant earthworm, an eagle soaring through the air, a whale in the depths of the seas, or the sun warming the earth, each reflects the glory and majesty of God.

Lift up your eyes on high, and see Who hath created these things." (Isaias 40:26)

Thanks to You, O bountiful Father, for the endless blessings of creation.

TV Demonstration One Of Best Fields For Glamour Girls Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't raise your daughter to be a pretty milkmaid.

If she's really pretty and can act, she can do much better as a television commercial actress, one of the girls who demonstrate everything from shampoos to refrigerators on the video screen.

This is the newest and most competitive of the glamour girl industries and one of the best paying.

"A good magazine model can make $10,000 to $15,000 a year," said Candy Jones, "but a top TV commercial actress now can earn $25,000 to $35,000 a year and up."

Candy, born Jessie Wilcox in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., is one of a comparative handful of ex-models who went on to carve a big niche in the business world.

A SLENDER and sprightly blonde with "Air Force blue" eyes, she came here in 1941 looking for a modeling job. She applied to Harry Conover, and his first verdict was she "wouldn't do."

But he did change her name from Jessie Wilcox to Candy Jones.

Her first week Candy earned $105, "a big figure in those days." She went on to become a top model, a Broadway performer, and finally Conover married this girl who "wouldn't do."

Today Miss Jones, still lovely and in her thirties, runs the million-dollar-a-year Conover Television Agency, directs the placements, and listens to the hopes and heartaches of a stable of 75 beautiful TV commercial actresses.

"THERE ARE only about 500 active in the field here in New York, compared to perhaps 1,500 photographic models," she said.

As a photographic model herself Candy in 1945 became perhaps the first to rate a fee of $30 an hour, a figure often eclipsed in the inflationary years since.

But few, if any, television commercial actresses have matched a record she set not too long ago.

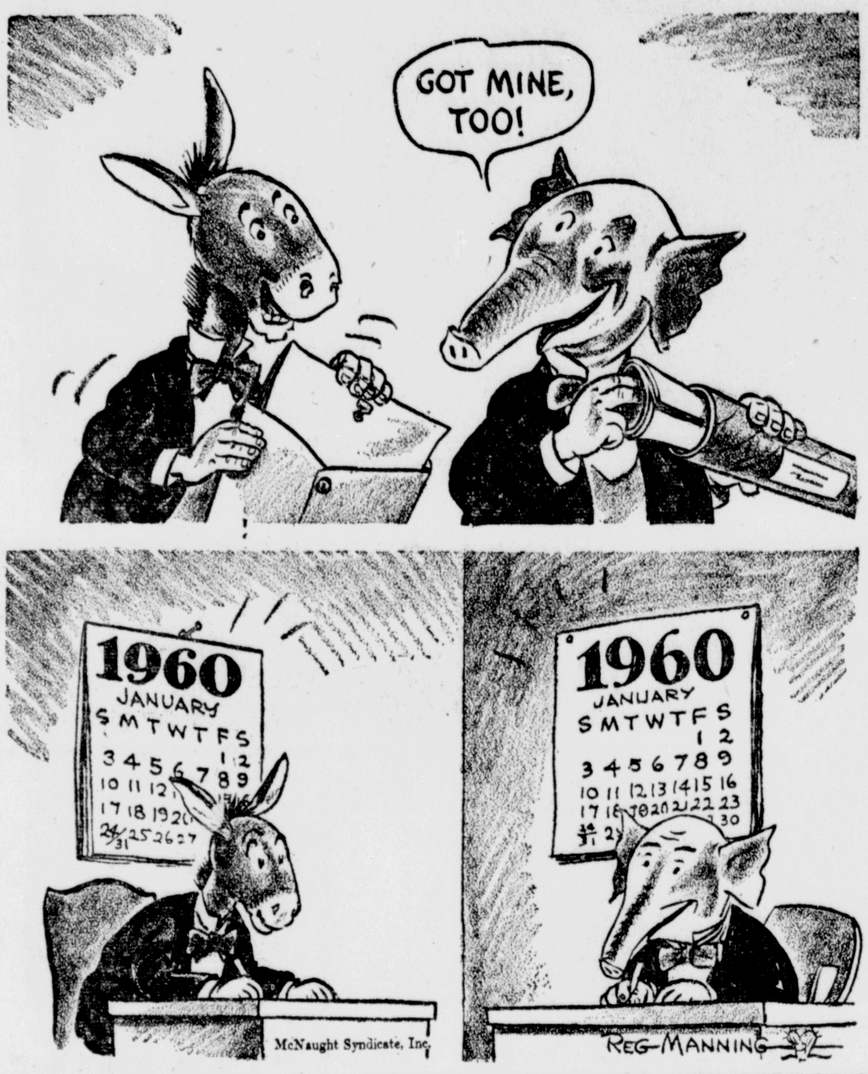

"I did six TV soap testimonial films in a single day," she recalled, "and the final pay, counting residuals, came to $24,000."

Just To Prove We're Not Square

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I enjoyed your editorial on cocktail party fare;
We'll really go to any lengths to prove we are no square.
We don't keep up witht he Joneses — we're too blase these days,
But WE are non-conformists, original in all way.
The greatest insult you can offer is not to say 'You're nuts!'
But 'You're a type!' — them's fighting words; ay! There's the knife that cuts!
We're struggling to free ourselves — there is no place to go,
We're trapped by explanations of ego, id and libido.
There'll be some doggone doctor with some sneaky little pill
To block the old escape route with the rule to be tranquil.
Batten down the hatches! Don't let them get away!
You no longer can 'go crazy' —you must find some other way.
So we eat chocolate covered ants; our clothes are Harper's Bizarre.
The Pioneers were rugged folk but we're more adventuresome by far!
Please excuse the ragged edges — this rhymy was writ in haste,
To put it in your column will no doubt be a waste;
But it's presented just in fun, I haven't meant to snipe.

Shouldn't Tolerate 'Kill For Bounty'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I congratulate E. J. Dooley of San Rafael who was pictured in your paper photographing, rather than killing the small animals of Marin County. He is a true Marinite, one we are proud of and one we always want in our midst.

This "kill for bounty" order so recently issued, has, I feel sure, shocked the majority of long-time residents of Marin County. It is against everything we stand for and something, I hope, we will not tolerate.

Curb Other Things Not Just Animals

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Three rousing cheers for Hanna Blair of Sausalito and her letter of Nov. 18 concerning the bounties on foxes, skunks and raccoons. My wife and I wish to add our cry of protest against this ridiculous, petty, cruel and dangerous program. It is so completely unnecessary and directs incentive almost one hundred per cent toward those least qualified to carry it out, the juvenile hunter.

If the energy, thought and planning that officials find time to put into "boondoggles" like this one were directed toward anti-litter, safe and courteous driving, curbing infantile juveniles or some other of the many things that really NEED doing, Marin County might again become the delightful place we so fondly remember it was many years ago.

Will Gasoline Be Next Item On Which State Will Fix Prices?

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The question of whether the state legislature will extend the price-fixing authority to include gasoline during the 1959 session is a good one to ask at the present time. Hearings on the subject will be conducted by the Democratic assemblyman from Sacramento county, Thomas J. MacBride.

Already, the State of California fixes the prices of milk in various marketing areas, the result of which is the creation of a milk trust, and the abandonment of private enterprise in the milk industry.

The state also requires liquor prices to be posted, and imposes penalties if retailers are caught having a sale at prices below those filed with the state director of alcoholic beverage control.

MacBRIDE IS chairman of the Assembly Interim Judiciary Sub-committee On Marketing and Trade Practices. He has announced he will hold hearing with his committee in Sacramento Monday and Tuesday.

Evidence regarding the establishment of marketing areas, and the requirement that all gas of the same manufacture and quality be sold to retail dealers at the same wholesale price in the same marketing area will be taken by the committee.

This type of testimony, of course, is merely leading up to establishment of another set of bureaucrats, who would work somewhat on the same lines as the liquor administrator, which would be watching the wholesalers to assure that none of them cut prices.

THE COMMITTEE also will seek to determine whether practices of gasoline and oil suppliers are actually a cause of gas wars and whether the consumer public and service station dealers are ultimately prejudiced by the price wars.

Retail gas dealers appear to be the complaintants, as MacBride says they have charged the oil industry with using unfair and discriminatory marketing practices to control gasoline prices and the activities of retail gasoline dealers.

The gas buying public usually isn't hurt when prices drop due to competition. The injury occurs when the industry gets the state to fix prices.

Gerald W. Johnson suggests in his new book, Peril and Promise, that "you might be interested to discover who was the most successful of all our Presidents, measured by the ability to do everything he promised. It was James K. Polk!"

Polk promised that if he were elected, he would acquire California, settle the Oregon dispute, lower the tariff, establish a subtreasury, and retire at the end of his first term. He was elected in 1845 — and accomplished every one of his five major aims! No one has ever approached that record.

Way Sausalito Picks New Police Chief May Set Personnel Policy

Next week, the Sausalito city council is scheduled to make a decision on whether it will hold a competitive examination leading to the selection of a chief of police to take over when Lou Mountanos becomes sheriff.

City Manager Don Duerr has suggested a series of qualifications as to maximum age, minimum education, practical background and so on which Councilman George Keeney and some citizens object to, contending that it should be filled by promotion from the ranks.

Duerr points out that any present member of the department with three or more years service in any rank is eligible for the test, where an outsider would need at least five years police experience, at least three as sergeant, to qualify. Keeney feels that it is not a matter of qualifying for an examination, but rather one of being considered on a basis of experience and knowledge of the man.

The outcome of these two schools of thought may well determine the future of Sausalito's personnel policies.

WE WERE UNHAPPY to learn that Mill Valley taximan Bob Robertson was laid low last week after a freak accident near Truckee. Bob was thrown through the windshield of a car in which he was a passenger, being cut to the point where he required considerable plasma to recover.

At the time, he and Bill Wood were investigating sources of mistletoe to be sold by "Project 17" members during the holidays.

Bob is now at home and expects to be around in a few days.

AT SAUSALITO Rotary Club luncheon last week, when visiting Rotarians were asked to rise and identify their classification, Edward F. Healey of San Rafael announced his classification as "delivery service."

He is Dr. Healey, obstetrician.

IN THE NAME Dropper Dept., we note that Calvin Kentfield, one of the mainstays of the new publication "Contact," is a very fixed resident of Sausalito.

AS LAST WEEK'S annual Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting approached what many guests hoped would be the conclusion, new President Don Geddes asked for comments from the floor.

A number arose to get things off their chest and guests became restless.

When a speaker finished and sat down, Don was about to adjourn the meeting. Up popped Walt Filippi of the Elroy Garage. When Don recognized him, Walt said: "I'm not talking. My wife and I are merely leaving to relieve the baby sitter."

End of meeting.

EQUIPMENT WHICH cities can acquire for little cost on the premise that it will be used for civil defense work resulted in Sausalito getting a mighty serviceable pickup truck for $88.50. That's really a pickup!

WALTER LIPPMANN

Public Spending For Concentrated Population Is Big Problem For Us

What is this tide which has brought in both Nelson Rockefeller and a great Democratic majority? It is propelled, I believe, by the growing conviction that our public needs are not being adequately met.

We have become in large part a mass society living in congested urban agglomerations. One half of our people live in metropolitan areas; in the six Northeastern states four-fifths of the people live close together in such metropolitan areas.

This is not the only reason, but it is an important and a sufficient reason, why the country today is compelled to spend on civilian projects more public money than it used to spend.

OUT IN THE COUNTRY or even in small villages, the individual can do many things for himself which in the city must be done by public enterprise.

When a community grows from, let us say, 10,000 inhabitants to 100,000, the cost of the public services required is bound to go up more than ten times. For the larger community requires extensive facilities—as, for example, wider roads and underpasses — which the small town does not have to have at all.

BECAUSE OF the great cost of the second World War and the large cost of the cold war, this country, which is a very different country from what it was 20 years ago, is in a predicament. It is rich in the things that money can buy and it is, speaking comparatively, poor in the services and the facilities that private enterprise cannot supply.

From now on, barring a great war, our internal policies will be dominated, we may be reasonably certain, by this predicament.

In it lies the real problem of "spending." The problem is whether the productivity of our economy can be increased so that public spending can be increased without forcing a decrease in private spending, perhaps even while permitting an increase in private spending. This will be the subject of a great debate in the years ahead of us.

There are, no doubt, many different conclusions to be drawn from all this. But the first conclusion I would draw is that the President should look not only at his $80,000,000,000 budget and its $12,000,000,000 deficit. He should look also at the problem of the economy which is still running below capacity.

AND LAST but not least, he should look squarely at the vast complex of difficulties which are being caused by the lag in our public services, and at the human strain to which this lag subjects our people.

The future, which he must face for another two years, will be greatly concerned with this lag. It will be concerned with the lag in the provision of schools and colleges, with the lag in hospitals and medical services, with the deficiency of highways and the backwardness of much of our transportation, and with city planning and slum clearance.

THE FUTURE will be concerned with the conservation and the development of our natural resources, with the water supply of large areas of the country, with the contamination of the air, and with many other consequences of the extraordinary growth of our population, its conglomeration in big urban masses, and with the shaking up of the people's habits due to the application of modern science.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Irving Links, manager of the Mill Valley Store of Albert's, Inc., was elevated to the presidency of Mill Valley chamber of commerce.

A 750-acre tract of the historic Olopali Rancho, just north of Novato on Highway 101, was purchased by the University of San Francisco. The property was to be used as a retreat for elderly Jesuit priests and a recreation center for the younger clergy.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is spending a third of a million dollars in Marin County to provide better service to the county's postwar population, Clifford Bartlett of San Rafael, PG and E North Bay division manager, announced.

Artist Group To Seek Mill Valley Art Center

A Mill Valley art center is the eventual goal of Artists-Associates, Mrs. A. J. Oehler announced today.

Mrs. Oehler is one of the group of seven artists and teachers who met informally Friday evening to consider ways of establishing such a center in El Paseo, after Mrs. Henry Foster, owner of the building, offered the room as a gallery.

Paintings and sculpture by these seven artists may be seen daily except Sunday from noon to 4:30 p.m. The public exhibit will remain until the end of the year.

Other professional members of the charter group are Arthur Palmer of Woodacre, Carlo Talliabu, Thomas and Marjorie Leighton of San Francisco, and John Moran and Viking Leon, of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Oehler, who has a national reputation as a painter, teacher and lecturer, also lives in Mill Valley. She acted as spokesman for the group.

"We feel that Mill Valley has the natural setting to become an art center like Carmel," she explained." There is much enthusiasm for the idea among many artists who have been contacted.

"Membership in the group will be by invitation, with final selection determined by acceptance of works judged by a panel of members. Participation will not necessarily be local since quality only will be the criterion for acceptance."

Artists-Associates will make further decisions at their next meeting on Dec. 3.

Hanna Boys Center To Note 9th Year

Four Marin residents are helping prepare for the ninth anniversary next month of Hanna Boys Center near Sonoma, a non-profit home for under-privileged boys at the Valley of the Moon.

Executive secretary of the "boys' town" is James E. Muldoon of Sausalito, a retired Army major who was formerly staff member at Boys' Town, Neb.

Other Marin representatives on the board of directors are Albert V. Martin of San Rafael, Roger P. Garety of San Rafael, assistant district attorney, and Frank M. Paganini of Ross.

About 125 boys will help observe the anniversary of its founding on Dec. 4. Chief Justice Earl Warren, then governor, dedicated the 180-acre site after ground-breaking ceremonies led by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen nine years ago.

Muldoon announced that progress this year included development of the academic school and ranching activities, and extensive expansion of the new trade school program to include training in electricity, carpentry, general mechanics, metals, and printing.

Rt. Rev. William L. O'Connor, director, expressed his appreciation to the many Marin residents who have contributed to Hanna Center's growth.

College Expands Guidance Service With High School

A classroom observer exchange between College of Marin and San Rafael High School for their English classes has started. Reports on the first period of observation will be made at a 1:30 p.m. meeting on Dec.. 4 at College of Marin.

Marin's nine high schools, both public and private schools, were represented at an initial session at College of Marin to discuss teaching of English at the high school and college levels.

In charge of the Dec. 4 meeting are Webster Wilson and John King of San Rafael High School and Cornelius Weber and Howell Breece of College of Marin.

Hospital Safety Film

A hospital fire safety film provided by the Marin County Fire Department will be shown to employees of Marin General Hospital tomorrow and Wednesday in connection with their continuing safety program.

Seminary Sets Organ Recital

Ludwig Altman, organist of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Temple Emanu-El and the Palace of the Legion of Honor, will be presented in a dedicatory recital by the Department of Sacred Music, San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, next Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

The recital will be held at Montgomery Chapel on the Seminary campus and will be in dedication of the rebuilding and enlarging by 600 pipes of the chapel organ.

Altman received his musical education at the University of Berlin and the State Academy for Church and School Music, Berlin. He is widely known in the music world.

He will present a program composed of excerpts from Bach's "Clavieruebung" and an historical survey of five centuries or organ music in 10 examples.

New Savings Stamp Sells At Post Office

A new 25-cent United States savings stamp, printed in red and blue, is now on sale at the San Rafael Post Office.

Postmaster Warren H. Williams suggested that $2.50 and $5 gift books of the new stamps, available at the post office, make excellent Christmas gifts.

Redevelopment Officers Lauded

F. Harry Logan, planning coordinator with the Oakland architectural firm of Reynolds and Chamberlain, told directors of the Marin City Community Services District Thursday night that "Marin City is blessed to have two dedicated men like Bert Klahn and Morton Schaffran to carry on your redevelopment program."

Klahn and Schaffran are executive director and deputy director, respectively, of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency.

Logan discussed possible availability of state funds for recreational purposes in the district and said that he would return in January to address a public meeting on the subject.

College Exchange Class Observers

Expansion of College of Marin's counseling and guidance services to Marin County adults was announced today by Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, director of adult education at the college.

As authorized by the board of trustees, the services will now include evaluation of occupational and scholastic aptitudes. Marin adults interested in this service may call the adult education department for appointment.

In cases where the counselor believes aptitude tests will be helpful, the applicant will bear the cost of administering and scoring such tests.

PRISONERS HELP YULE SEAL JOB

More than 30 San Quentin inmates helped the Marin County Chapter of the Tuberculosis Assn. recently by stuffing "mail-outs" for the annual Christmas Seal Drive. The association is mailing about 33,000 pleas—30,000 of which were processed by the prisoners. Shown working with the group is Ken J. Meade of the San Quentin education staff, who coordinated the effort. (San Quentin photo)

Tam Trustees Tell Goal If Tax Passes

The Tamalpais Union High School District board of trustees has spelled out improvements it hopes to make in district operations, provided the Feb. 17 tax election is successful.

If the $1.90 tax rate is approved the board said it would reinstate projects the loss of which "has seriously curtailed the program that can be offered students."

The board would:

1. Employ enough teachers to maintain present pupil-teacher ratios.
2. Increase funds for books and educational materials.
3. Upgrade teacher salaries.
4. Reinstate driver training courses.
5. Improve district maintenance programs.
6. Rebuild adequate financial reserves.
7. As funds permit, provide additional services.

The recommendation was originally presented to the board by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle with the section on upgrading of teachers' salaries heading the list of improvements. At the request of Trustee E. J. Thomas Jr. the teachers' salaries were placed in third place. The intention to rebuild financial reserves was suggested by W. B. Lewis.

NAMED TO ORCHESTRA—Noel Beard, Tamalpais High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Beard of Marin City, has been chosen Tam High's representative in the Northern California High School Orchestra, made up of outstanding players from high schools throughout the northern half of the state. The orchestra will play a concert at the University of California in Berkeley Dec. 6. Miss Beard is a violinist.

Bay Model Open On Thanksgiving

The Army Corps of Engineers' acre-sized model of San Francisco Bay in Sausalito will be open to the public Thanksgiving Day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Guides will explain the operation of the model to visitors and show films demonstrating the utility and operation of various hydraulic working models developed by the Corps of Engineers.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Here's Check List Of Things To Do Now

Here is a check list of some of the things that you should consider doing or taking action about now, before the first of the year if you want to get the most benefit from the rules of the tax service.

Watch for later columns in this newspaper. They will cover these and other items more fully.

BAD DEBTS

Bad debts: Be sure you can prove they are bad this year and claim the deduction.

Capital losses: If you have stock market losses, sell this year to take the loss. Warning—do not repurchase the same or similar stock until at least 31 days after the sale.

Contributions: Pay them to secure the deduction this year. Pledges are not deductible. They must be paid. You can take up to 30 per cent in some circumstances.

DEPENDENTS

Dependents: Be sure you can claim them. If you are not providing over one-half the cost of support, see if you can make an agreement with the others who are helping with the support.

Alimony: Separation payments may be deducted by the husband and included by the wife. You may want to catch up on these payments this year.

If your spouse died in 1956 or 1957, chances are you filed a joint return with her for that year. You can compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return for 1958 if you have not remarried and if you have a dependent child or stepchild. You may want to recheck your dependency credits on this.

BUSINESS SALES

Sales of your business equipment and business buildings: If you have a loss from such a sale you can carry the loss back for two years and forward for five years, or until it is offset by earnings. If you have a loss that you must take, go ahead and sell this year. You can take the loss against 1956 and 1957 income, and if that doesn't cover it all, you can carry it forward to 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Depreciation: You can depreciate new equipment, original in use with you, under several new systems which can produce a depreciation rate twice as fast as the old straight line method.

LOSSES, GAINS

Capital gains and losses: Consider offsetting short-term gains with long-term losses, etc.

Medical expenses: Pay them all this year to get the deduction.

If any of these apply to you, you should consult your accountant now, before the end of the year, to secure the utmost advantage from the beneficial provisions of the code.

Realtors To Have Hawaii Breakfast

Members of the Marin County Real Estate Board will have ar Hawaiian luau breakfast tomorrow at 8 a.m. at their weekly meeting in King Cotton restaurant, San Rafael.

An Hawaiian program will be put on by board members Blanche Redmond, Vera Rivers, Jane Forster, Lois Verzuh and Sally Gray, just back from a trip to the islands.

Rovere's Bridge Class Cancels Regular Meet

There will be no meeting tomorrow night of Ernest Rovere's regular Tuesday night bridge class at Marin Jewish Community Center.

Rovere will be in Chicago, the Jewish Community Center reported today. The class will resume next week.

Cancellation of Rovere's class will have no effect on the usual Wednesday bridge tournament play at the center.

3-School Book Fair To Benefit Library

A book fair to raise funds for a new library at Marinwood's Silveira School will be held Dec. 1 and 2, with a "preview party" from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Marinwood Home and School Club and Marinwood Garden Club.

A local author will be on hand at the preview party to autograph books, according to Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. DeKay, library committee co-chairmen. The party will also include refreshments and special book displays.

Any book in print can be ordered at the fair, said Mr. and Mrs. DeKay. The garden club, under Mrs. Henry E. Wramp, president, will offer a selection of books on home activities.

Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kiefer, presidents of the Home and School Club, and a committee of teachers.

Heading committees are: Mrs. Robert Pederson, refreshments; Mrs. Wramp, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. Turner May, orders and money; Mrs. Herbert Rikles, posters; Dan S. McIntire Jr., publicity; Mrs. George Martus, Mrs. William Yerby, Mrs. Barbara Gusmano and Mrs. Wilson Stackhouse.

Lowest in rank of military aides to the presidents of the United States was Maj. Archibald W. Butt. He served in that position for Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.

Firm Incorporates

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced Santa's Toys, Inc., a Marin County toy, novelty and stationery firm, has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $50,000 in $10 par shares. Directors of the company were listed as Henry and Zella Wolf, 49 Loring way, Mill Valley, and Reynold H. Colvin, San Francisco.

If Your Child Is Accident-Prone, Keep Close Tab On His Playing

All small children need watching. They've little sense of danger. They take chances. A few children have one accident after another. Let's look at "Sammy" and "Debby."

SAMMY

I watched small Sammy run full tilt into a concrete wall. He was showing his pals how fast he could run. He forgot the wall was there. Result? Two broken arms. He recovered. Then he climbed high in a tree. He jumped, to prove he was brave. Result? A broken leg. Now he's in a cast. His folks are wondering what next.

DEBBY

I saw Debby's father fish her out of a pool in a park. He saved her life, but he was angry over it. He explained that this was the third time Debby had leaned too far over the edge of that pool, and fallen in. "She just can't be careful," he said. "She makes me mad."

Do you have a child like Sammy or Debby? Some accident-prone youngsters have serious emotional problems. Subconsciously they may be trying to end it all. They need psychiatric help. But most of them are normal. They're vigorous, happy, active. They're a bit too helter-skelter. Their coordination and timing is a wee bit off. That's all.

What can you do with an accident-prone child? Supervise him very closely, and hope for the best. When he's tiny, watch him every minute. As he gets older, enforce safety rules rigidly. Probably when he reaches adolescence he'll stop having personal accidents. Then you can begin to relax. Good luck!

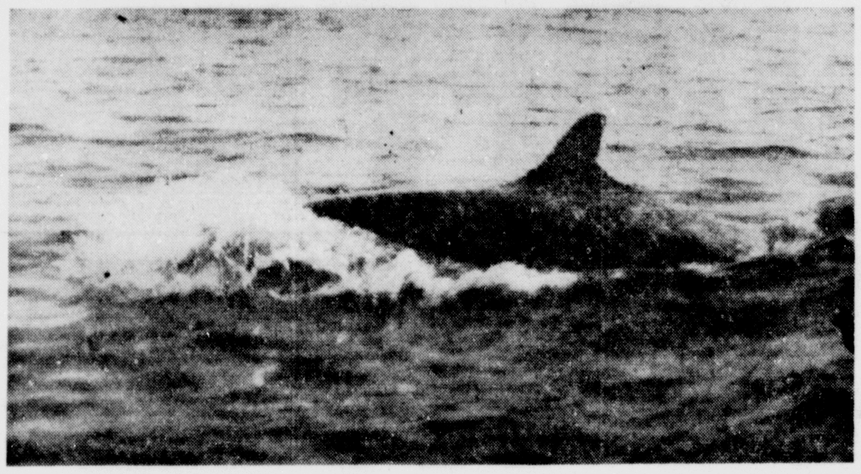

READERS' FORUM

Elsie R. "The principal at our high school published a list of the offenses for which teachers should send pupils to his office. Isn't that wrong? "

Reply: I don't believe so. The list may help the teachers be consistent. Discipline is a problem in most high schools. The list may improve things.

SLIMY CATCH — George Tsegeletos of Mill Valley, president of Marin Skin Divers Club, gingerly displays vicious moray eel after harpooning it on ocean bottom during recent expedition to Mexico.

STANDBY TO DIVE — Blackfish whale noses under surface of Mexican coastal waters within camera range of three Marin skin divers who had moment's concern about safety of their small boat.

'Every Day Something Fantastic,' Say Marin Trio On Skin-Diving Trip

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

Three Marin skin divers in search of adventure got just what they wanted this month when they forsook the comforts of home for the perils of the deep on a week-long expedition to Mexico.

When they left by car for Ensenada, the vacationing trio, all members of the Marin Skin Divers Club, were heading straight for danger in the brilliant blue waters off the coast of Baja, California.

Within 24 hours, amidst killer sharks and barracuda some 10 fathoms below the surface, they were getting more adventure than most persons experience in a lifetime.

"We couldn't believe it! Every day there was something fantastic," said Alfred F. Giddings Jr. of 14 Sequoia road, Fairfax, after his return.

Giddings, secretary-treasurer of the divers club and employee of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., made the trip with club president George Tsegeletos of 275 Karen way, Mill Valley and James M. Carty of 1458 Lincoln avenue, San Rafael. Tsegeletos is a correctional officer at San Quentin Prison and Carty works for Morrison Tree Service.

For their Mexican adventure they carted along a 35-horsepower outboard motor, their skin diving suits and related equipment, aqualungs for deep submergence and several harpoon guns.

In Ensenada they rented a 16-foot boat, putting out to sea about 5:30 or 6 o'clock every morning. The weather was sunny and the water calm. The first day they dove off Punta Bonda, about six miles down the coast. Subsequent diving was done in the Toto Santos Islands nine miles offshore.

On their initial foray they had been in the water less than 20 minutes when a shark about seven feet long started circling them.

"It came within 20 feet," Giddings said. "We tried unsuccessfully to get a shot at it. For a good killing shot we'd have had to be within 10 feet."

The shark left after making two circles. It had shown up, Giddings said, "because we made a lot of noise getting into the water. Sharks are attracted by vibrations."

He said another lure may have been the sounds made by a sheepshead which Tsegeletos had harpooned moments earlier. "When a fish is shot, it lets outcries just like a human being in pain," he said.

The three Marinites felt reasonably secure in the presence of sharks.

"Actually they're quite stupid," Giddings said. "They attack only when they're darned sure that what they're after can't bite back. They're not aware of their tremendous power. If they were, it would be a different story."

After their first encounter with a shark, the three divers started hunting sheepshead in earnest. But new dangers were lurking in the depths.

Using his aqualung in about 60 feet of water, Giddings came upon a school of 50 to 100 barracuda. "They made one pass, looked me over and went on," he said.

On the fourth day, Tsegeletos suddenly appeared on the surface, screamed, "Shark!" and disappeared again. Giddings dived after him and quickly saw what all the shouting was about. The shark was a 10-foot thresher weighing about 400 pounds. It was too big to shoot, and, like the first, swam away after its curiosity was satisfied.

Another time, Giddings shot a bat ray, which proceeded to pull him deeper and deeper with flaps of its huge, powerful wings.

"I guess the gear I was using wasn't heavy enough because the fish pulled the threads right off my spear," he said. "It must have weighed 60 or 70 pounds."

The divers flushed a number of lobsters out of holes on the ocean floor, but caught only one — a big 10-pounder which they boiled and ate. Carty proved allergic to lobster meat and required treatment at an Ensenada hospital.

In seeking out the crustaceans, the men often found themselves face to face with vicious moray eels, which have a penchant for occupying lobster holes on a sort of share-the-rent basis. They caught five of the slimy creatures.

Thanks to a Mexican skin diver, they learned that the way to bring sheepshead within easy shooting range is to cut open a mussel on the ocean floor, leave it there and wait. The Mexican assured them the fish would come in droves.

"And they did — first small ones by the hundreds, then the big ones," Giddings said. "They were like sitting ducks."

The men gave their catches to Ensenada residents, who were delighted to get a free meal.

Schools of frolicking porpoises became a familiar sight to the skin divers on their daily trips to the offshore islands.

But one day they were endangered by a large school of blackfish, a type of whale weighing about 3,000 pounds and measuring about 20 feet.

Some of the whales surfaced three feet from the boat, spouting water from their blowholes and uttering shrill squeaky cries.

"The water was alive with them," Giddings said. "There must have been close to a hundred. They could have overturned the boat very easily if they'd wanted to."

On their last day out, the skin divers sighted three monster killer whales in the distance. Suddenly a military plane appeared. It made several passes at the whales, strafing them with machine gun fire. The men could not identify the plane's nationality.

Marveling at the wonders of the deep, Giddings said: "It's fantastic down there because it's all dead silence. You can see everything around you for 80 or 90 feet. We swam through a lot of kelp—a beautiful sight with rays of light shining on it. It looked like the early morning sun coming through a stand of redwoods."

As souvenirs of their trip, the adventuresome Marinites brought back a quantity of shells and some 130 photographs — all colored slides, including about 75 underwater shots.

Sonoma Plans To Remodel Courthouse

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Sonoma County supervisors have ordered the interior of the 50-year-old county courthouse remodeled as the first step in a five-year, two-and-one-quarter-million-dollar building program.

Work on a special service building and combined office, warehouse and motor pool building is set to start next spring.

Both new structures are to be completed by July, 1960. Other county buildings will follow.

Novato Audiences Get Chance To Comment On Plays

At the recent four-night production of "Three Domestic Duels" by the Novato Community Players, ballots requesting comments and suggestions were included with the programs.

Counts of the ballots showed "Mooney's Kid Don't Cry," starring Beverly and George Wahl, was most popular of the three one-act plays. Second was "Fumed Oak," which starred Paul Terry, Nancy Germon and Mary Ellen Lester, and in third place was "Sorry, Wrong Number," in which Phyllis Hiller had the lead.

Suggestions received for future plays were "Bell, Book and Candle," "Winterset," "Street Scene," "As You Desire me," "Time of Your Life," "Out Town," "Reluctant Debutante," "Hay Fever" and "The Moon is Blue."

Also on the ballot were comments on the "Three Duels" show. Many felt the three one-act plays were "terrific" or "all excellent." Other comments were "Would like to see something more elevating," and "very imaginative scenery." (The scenery for the three short plays was suggestive rather than exact reproductions of the rooms in which the scenes took place.) A few felt the choice of plays was poor.

Mt. Whittier in New Hampshire was named for the poet John Greenleaf Whittier, who wrote many poems depicting the beauty and grandeur of the area.

Author To Analyze State Election

Eugene Burdick, novelist and political science professor, will be featured speaker at a meeting of the Marin Democratic Assembly honoring Congressman-elect Clement W. Miller at 8 o'clock tonight in Olney Hall of College of Marin, Kentfield.

Burdick, who besides writing two best selling novels, "The Ninth Wave" and "The Ugly American," is political science professor at University of California in Berkeley, will speak on "An Analysis of the California Election."

Miller, who will succeed Rep. Hubert B. Scudder in January, will be guest of honor at the public affair.

It's That Time Again

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Baking Soda Institute will sponsor "National Indigestion Week," to begin Thanksgiving Day.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Art Stolen To Win Bet

AIX EN PROVENCE, France (AP)—Two missing portraits by Van Dyck showed up neatly wrapped at the Beaux Arts Museum today with a little note saying they had been taken to win a bet.

The two postcard-size old masters, worth $14,000, disappeared Saturday. They were of Dutch painters Van Diepnbeeok and Rickaert. The janitor of the museum found them on the outside ledge of one of the building's windows.

It's All Right, Son

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Allie Dowden has his mother's approval to be married next Wednesday. Dowden is 77, his mother is 103.

Dowden, a carpenter, will marry Mrs. Syleter Pevytoe, 65.

Tito Blasts Moscow

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito lashed out in a new oral assault on the Moscow bloc yesterday and declared the West was more realistic than the Communists in relations with Yugoslavia.

"We agree often with the Soviet Union on foreign policy issues but the West does not consider that we should be attacked for that. They somehow look on us more realistically than those in the East," he told a mass meeting.

Julie London To Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Julie London and jazz pianist-composer Bobby Troup, who have been dating for four years, plan to marry about Dec. 15, their manager reports.

"They suddenly discovered there's no reason not to be married," said Robert H. Ginter, who manages both.

Miss London, 31, has two children by Jack Webb, from whom she was divorced. Troup also has two children by a previous marriage.

Singer, Mate Split

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Singer Helen O'Connell has filed a separate maintenance suit against Thomas Chamales, whom she accuses of threatening her with a knife.

Chamales, 45-year-old novelist, was arrested last week for assault with a deadly weapon when police were called to the singer's fashionable Brentwood district home. The suit was filed Friday.

Pope To Turn 77

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII is 77 tomorrow.

He has been too busy in his first month as pontiff to make any personal plans for the day. He may, at the last minute, call in one or two friends for a quiet meal, Vatican aides say.

'Naked' Radium Found

WHEELING, W.Va. (UPI)—A widow who lived in a house where 10 milligrams of deadly radium had been lying for a year and a half shielded only by a frying pan was assured of a healthy future today.

The widow, Mrs. Anita Belgrade, said during the weekend she was given a clean bill of health by physicians who told her she apparently suffered no ill effects from the dangerous rays.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Belgrade asked Professor Robert W. Shramm at West Liberty College if he wanted to purchase the radium. The scientist, during the telephone call, found that Mrs. Belgrade had taken no precautionary measures with the element.

A hurried visit to her home by the professor revealed that the radium—about as big as a shotgun pellet—was in a leather covered box. Schramm said exposure to the substance for several consecutive hours could be fatal. He said his geiger counter "went wild" in every room of the house.

Criminal Or Not?

ROME (UPI) — Parliament is faced today with the problem of deciding whether artificial insemination is a crime in predominantly-Catholic Italy.

MSI (Fascist) deputies Giuseppe Gonella and Clemente Manco have introduced a bill providing one-year jail sentences for any woman who submits to artificial insemination, for the donor and for her husband if he consents.

Parliament is faced with a choice between the recent decision of a court in Padua that a woman who had given birth to an artificially-induced child was not guilty of adultery and the church stand that artificial insemination is "against natural law."

Bus Flips, 16 Hurt

WICKENBURG, Ariz. (UPI)—Fifteen passengers and the driver aboard a Greyhound bus were injured last night when the bus shot out of control and flipped over on its side during a trip from Los Angeles to Phoenix, Ariz.

Hope Gone For Scouts

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Only a dozen rescuers set out today and nearly all hope had disappeared for finding alive three Tucson Boy Scouts missing in rugged mountains for 10 days.

The youths, Mike Early, 16, Dave Greenberg, 12, and Michael Lanoue, 13, became separated from tnree other hiking companions Nov. 15 when a snowstorm lashed the Santa Rita mountains, about 30 miles south of here.

Goldwater Plugs Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has urged the Republican Party to take its stand "to the right of center" in 1960 and nominate Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

Goldwater, the only GOP conservative returned to the Senate in this month's elections, said the party cannot win two years hence unless it plays its traditional conservative role.

He said Nixon was his personal choice to head the 1960 ticket and as of now the vice president "would be considered the leading candidate."

Club Aids Theft Victim

ALHAMBRA (UPI) — An 80-year-old woman pensioner whose $450 savings for an eye operation were stolen by a purse snatcher will be operated on anyway.

The local Lions Club announced over the weekend that newspaper readers who read of Eva Des Autels' plight had contributed $150 towards the operation and that the club would make up the rest of the cost.

Miss Des Autels, a $55-a-month pensioner, had saved $450 from her earnings as a seamstress, but the money was stolen last week. She needs the operation to save her right eye.

Caracas War Hinted

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Unconfirmed reports reaching here today said deposed dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez and former Gen. Luis Llovera Paez are organizing an invasion force in the Dominican Republic.

Military sources here said both the army and navy have been alerted and were ready to face any threat from outside the country. They also declared unfounded reports published abroad that navy officers would join in an anti-government movement.

Communist Kills Self

MELROSE, Mass. (UPI) — A man who pulled one of American communism's biggest boners has taken his own life.

The body of Franklin P. Collier Jr., 52, who issued the 1946 Communist Party card to key FBI counterspy Herbert A. Philbrick, was found hanging in the cellar of his suburban Boston home yesterday.

Trains In San Diego

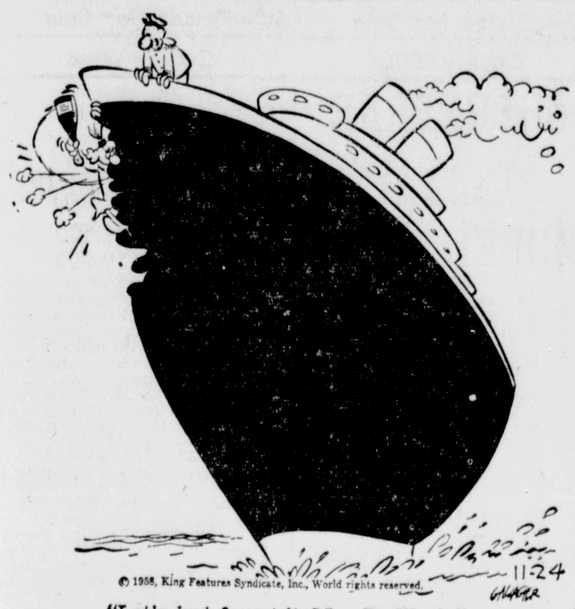

Alan L. Ferris, Navy apprentice petty officer second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip S. Ferris of 26 Alderney road, San Anselmo has graduated from recruit training at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

"Let's just forget it, Mrs. Rudliegh."

Brown Made Many Pledges In Campaign

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Pat Brown says he will be a "bread and butter" governor for all of the people of California.

Exactly what this means when translated into the hard, cold lexicon of practical politics is hard to say.

But the 53-year-old governor-elect, during more than a year of strenuous campaigning, did lay down the broad outlines of the legislative program he expects to pursue when he takes office in January.

Certainly the political climate is ripe for Brown to succeed in his program—for no new California governor has stepped into office in decades with a more receptive legislative branch than Brown will find next Jan. 5.

Semi-official but final election results show the Democratic chief executive will have a Senate weighted with 27 Democrats against only 13 Republicans. And the Assembly, the lower house of the Legislature, will be split 47 to 33 in favor of Brown's party.

The leaders of both houses meet with Brown's personal approval and many of them worked hard in the campaign to assure his election. He will have almost everything going for him when he first sits down in the governor's chair.

A careful review of all of the speeches Brown made during his year-long campaign for the governorship shows that he made many specific pledges and promises. Most of them will cost the taxpayers money.

That, perhaps, will be the most difficult problem he faces —how to boost teachers' salaries, enlarge the state university, hire more probation officers, build the Feather River project, add more state hospitals, increase recreational facilities and still cope with an expected budget deficit of more than 200 million dollars.

Brown never has said flatly one way or the other whether he will recommend new or higher taxes when he takes office. But he has hinted tax increases probably will be necessary.

They probably would be anyway, no matter whether Brown's ambitious legislative program is enacted or not, because the state for the past several years has been in deficit financing—that is, it has been spending more than it is taking in, and the wartime surpluses piled up under ex-Gov. Warren are all but exhausted.

If he seeks new taxes, he is in for a battle. Warren, despite all his personal popularity, never was able to sell the Legislature on his complete tax program. Retiring Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, like Warren a Republican, also failed in his bid for a cigarette tax, although he did obtain a 14 million dollar increase in hard liquor taxes while failing to boost beer and horse racing levies.

Brown himself admits that finances and taxes are his most serious problem.

"The toughest single problem I'm going to have to face is the question of economy in government and new taxes," he said.

(Tomorrow: Brown's basic eight-point program.)

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVES YOU BEST!

WHEN SELLING PROPERTY BECAUSE

1. You list your property with the Realtor of your choice.
2. Through Multiple Listing over 350 experienced real estate salesmen offer your property for sale to their prospective buyers.
3. Your property is shown at your convenience and by appointment only, if you desire. Your Realtor saves you the annoyance of dealing with many different people. He sifts the "wheat from the chaff," weeds out the mere "lookers." Yet with all this convenience you still have several hundred salesmen working on the sale of your property!
4. You are given, without charge, helpful suggestions on ways and means of increasing your property's saleability and how and when the property should be shown to best advantage.
5. Without charge your property is photographed to its best advantage.
6. Through Multiple Listing your property will sell faster and easier because it is listed with description and photograph in all 128 member-offices — reaching most prospective buyers in a wider area.

LAW IN ACTION

State Property Law Has Spanish Origin

(This column, prepared by California lawyers, appears regularly in the Independent-Journal.)

California's community property law came to us from Mexican and Spanish law.

Under the peace treaty of 1848, the United States agreed that we would respect Mexican property rights.

Afterwards California itself adopted the system that man and wife shall share alike all property they earn after marriage. This system differs from the property laws in most other states which grew out of the English common law.

VALID MARRIAGE

What property you own is either "separate" or "community." Community comes with a valid marriage.

A person owns separate property before marriage. It is also inherited property, gifts, and after marriage, the income from them.

Community property arises out of a man and wife's earnings, and so separate property does not become community merely when a couple marries.

Property from a common law state does not become community property, even though it would have been, had the couple acquired it here.

ANOTHER STATE

But separate earnings may become community property. For example, if a husband spent much of his time managing and maintaining his separate property (an apartment house) instead of earning an income in other ways. The husband's time belonged to the "community."

SCRAMBLED PROPERTY

If a husband and wife have "commingled" their property so that it cannot be unscrambled, the law assumes it is community.

The law presumes that what a married woman gets by a written instrument, (e.g. a deed, bill of sale, note, or registration certificate), or what she earns, is her own separate property. All of these presumptions can be overcome in court by evidence.

When we first adopted our system the husband could control or manage the community property as if it were his own. But today if a husband gives away such property without his wife's consent, she can set aside the gift.

Parkyakarkas Dies At Height Of TV Party

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harry Einstein, 54, who rose to radio fame as the Greek funnyman Parkyakarkas, died of a heart attack today backstage at a show business gathering.

Einstein had just finished an hilarious talk at a Friar's Club testimonial dinner for Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz when he collapsed.

He was carried backstage and while some of the nation's top entertainers kept the show going, doctors summoned from the audience made an incision in his chest and massaged his heart.

NO RESPONSE

For two hours they kept his heart pumping by their manipulation but there was no response from the heart. Einstein was finally pronounced dead by Dr. Alfred Goldman.

Goldman was one of five doctors in the audience of 1,200 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel who rushed forward when comedian Milton Berle suddenly sent a chill through the gay crowd with his cry: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

COMIC SLUMPS

Berle was sitting next to Einstein on the speaker's platform. Just after taking his seat following his brief talk, Einstein slumped over, his head falling on Berle's shoulder.

Parky, as everyone called him, had drawn the biggest laughs of the evening during his appearance topping such well-known comics as Berle, George Burns and Danny Thomas.

HALTS SHOW

For awhile the others kept the entertainment going, but finally Arnaz stepped forward.

"This dinner is something I've looked forward to for a long time," he said, "but it doesn't mean anything now. They say the show must go on. But why must it?" And the show stopped.

Arnaz, Lucille Ball, Berle and others from the audience clustered behind the curtained backstage area where the dramatic fight to save Einstein's life was going on.

THREE SONS

Nearby, but not watching, was Parky's wife, the former actress Thelma Leeds. She was comforted by her son Clifford, 18. Einstein leaves three other sons, including the novelist Charles Einstein.

Parky was born in Boston and started out as a newspaper reporter and later advertising man there. He was a master of dialects and made an immediate hit as a comedian when he appeared as a guest on the Eddie Cantor show in the early 1930s.

OWN PROGRAM

After years as a guest on other leading shows, he got a program of his own. He retired from radio several years ago and limited his performances to night clubs and personal appearances.

In addition to the doctors, a rescue squad from the Beverly Hills Fire Department helped in the fight to keep Parky alive. They brought blood plasma, and gave him transfusions while the heart massage was kept up.

Paradise Property Owners Incorporate

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced the Paradise Property Owners Assn. in Marin County has filed articles with his office to form a nonprofit corporation.

The association listed its directors as A. Jack Weber, 5 Barnar lane, and Robert L. Hamilton, 4925 Paradise drive, both of Corte Madera, and Bruce H. Keppel, 27 Old Landing road, Tiburon.

The price of fuel oil in the U.S. went from $1.53 a barrel in 1956 to $3.27 in September, 1958.

MATHIS 'KID BROTHER' TO APPEAR HERE

Singing runs in the Mathis family, and maybe stardom, too. Ralph Mathis (above), younger brother of the famous Johnny, made his singing debut three months ago at the Apollo Theater in New York. He will be the featured attraction at Marin YMCA's third annual talent show tomorrow at 8 p.m. in San Rafael High School auditorium.
